GREEN RUNS INTO TROUBLE SIGNS IN LEGISLATURE

Delayed Patronage Roils Members.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 12.—Open discord was heard in the Illinois capitol today for the first time since the Green administration came to power two months ago.

These four events told the story:

1. The state senate delayed action on seven Green appointments, one of which involves making Robert L. Hunter chairman of the civil service commission.

2. The joint legislative committee on relief administration voted to make its investigation independent of the executive departments.

3. A caucus of Republican senators behind closed doors spent an hour bemoaning the delay of patronage.

4. A threat of a solid Democratic lineup against Republican measures was made in the senate.

Green Calls Press Parley.

This accumulation of trouble warnings appeared serious enough to cause Gov. Dwight Green to arrange an unscheduled press conference late in the day. He told reporters that his plans for handling patronage in a systematic and orderly way necessarily are proceeding slowly because of attempts to satisfy everybody—representatives, state central committeemen, county chairmen, and senators.

Opinions differed as to the relative importance of two of the trouble signs—the deliberate blocking of six appointments to the State Normal school board and the Hunter appointment, and the decision of the joint legislative committee to disregard the coöperation sought by the administration thru Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon.

Row Precedes Session.

The balk against yesterday's appointments preceded the opening of the morning session of the senate. The seven names were before the executive committee. In less than 20 minutes that committee of 10 Republicans and 5 Democrats agreed unanimously, without a roll call, to postpone action on confirmation for one week.

The clamor started over the six names for the Normal school board Senator T. Mac Downing of Macomb, who also is chairman of the relief committee, which later declared its independence of the executive branch of the state government, at once announced his opposition.

Downing protested that altho the Western Illinois Teachers' college is at Macomb, Gov. Green had failed to recognize the senatorial district in his appointments.

Dixon Joins Protest.

Senator George C. Dixon of Dixon, with the Northern Illinois Teachers' college in De Kalb in his district, said his district also is resentful because it had been overlooked.

There appeared to be general agreement that action on the six nominations for the normal school board should be postponed for a week. Senator Arnold P. Benson of Batavia then asked if there was any objection to confirming Hunter separately.

"Let the whole message go over for a week," said Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrat, who is recognized as Mayor Edward J. Kelly's leader in the general assembly. Ward's contention that all of the appointments constituted a single item of business was plain, the Republicans submitted to Ward's point, and the meeting adjourned.

Opposed by Chicagoans.

There had been no open discussion of the Hunter appointment, but the committee room tilt was the tipoff that Chicago Democrats intend to oppose him. Hunter is president of the Better Government association, which has been outspoken in its public attacks on the Democratic organization in Cook county and many of its leaders.

There also are some Republican senators from Chicago who believe that service with the reform organization does not qualify its head as an expert in civil service.

The meeting of the joint committee on relief followed the morning meeting of the senate. Director Brandon was on hand to explain in detail the proposal he had made earlier to Chairman Downing that the committee of six senators and six representatives dovetail its operations with those of a Brandon committee, and that it accept the services of a

NEW CAR FERRY SPANS LAKE ON MAIDEN VOYAGE

Links Wisconsin and Michigan Shores.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Ludington, Mich., March 12.—A 2 million dollar car ferry, the City of Midland, eased its graceful 8,200 ton hulk into its slip here this afternoon on a maiden voyage from Manitowoc, Wis. From her stern a switch engine pulled 32 loaded freight cars from four tracks on the lower deck. The locomotive pushed aboard a new 1,200 ton cargo of 30 freight cars and the ferry was ready for a six hour run to Milwaukee.

Capt. Robertson of new car ferry.

Railroad and steamship officials and shippers were guest passengers. Two score technical experts supplemented the regular crew of 45 in this inaugural sailing of the most modern craft plying Lake Michigan. The technicians lauded the machinery.

Admire Streamlined Ship.

The passengers admired the ferry's streamlined hull and black and white deck structures and its modern interior furnishings and decorations. Thru the glass of steam heated lounges a bright sun on blue water looked like a perfect day for yachting.

This new flagship of the Pere Marquette Railroad company, has an irregular itinerary this week between the four ports served by the fleet of five ferries. Kewaunee, Wis., is the fourth. Next week she will be assigned to the Ludington-Milwaukee run until the tourist season when she will be transferred to two round trips daily between Ludington and Manitowoc.

A top deck will carry 50 passenger automobiles and the cabin deck has accommodations for 376 passengers.

Start Is Delayed.

The mayor and civic leaders of Manitowoc attended the sailing at 9:30 this morning. L. H. Kent, superintendent of steamships for the Pere Marquette, commanded the loading. The ceremonies ended, he bawled to the mate: "Let's get the hell out of here. We're an hour late and you're in the freight business now."

A maiden voyage, it soon became apparent, is not all flowers and speeches. It's somewhat like breaking in a new automobile. In a ship, however, the adjustments are made by chief mechanics of the manufacturers. In the hull, below decks, experts were at the elbows of crew men at dynamos, pumps, automatic stokers, and at valves and dials of the 6,000 horse power steam engine. They made adjustments and corrections as we cruised the 62 miles at about 17 miles an hour.

Capt. C. E. Robertson, 60 years old, slight of figure and as soft in social conversation as an old time railroad conductor, greeted a few officials in his streamlined deck house. He explained the radio beam finder, engine room telegraph and a fire alarm signal system.

BRITISH TO TAX U. S. OFFICERS FOR AUTOS AT BASES

Washington, D. C., March 12 [Special].—In the midst of weighty consideration involving the expenditure of billions of dollars for aid to Britain, the state department has been refused permission for the automobiles of American officers to enter duty free British territory in the western hemisphere where the new naval and air bases are being constructed.

The refusal was given as a result of a decision by Prime Minister Winston Churchill himself, it was said. The state department is drafting another note reiterating the request and hoping for better luck.

Dog Tackles Propeller 'Threatening' His Master

Minneapolis, Minn., March 12 (AP).—Morris Martin's big German shepherd dog watched his master working on an airplane motor. There was a roar as Martin spun the propeller and started the motor—then dashed around behind to slow the throttle. The dog, apparently thinking the propeller was attacking Martin, sailed into it and ended up in a veterinarian's office with numerous cuts.

Shatter County Tax Precedent; Seize Property

A precedent that had been in effect for more than 20 years in Cook county was shattered yesterday when County Treasurer John Toman advertised that he would sell the personal property of a tax delinquent firm and keep the proceeds to settle the debt.

With an air of formal determination, Toman led an impressive delegation into the store of the Central District Furniture company at 3621 South Halsted street. With him were his attorney, Arthur Sullivan; his assistant treasurer, Andrew J. Kolar, and several deputy sheriffs.

Post Notice of Sale.

Sullivan read to Edward Dose, credit manager of the store, the state law authorizing the seizure and sale of personal property to satisfy unpaid tax bills. He then posted notices that a public auction of the firm's goods would be held next Tuesday. The amount of the claim is $1,652—$609 for 1938 and $1,043 for 1939.

The notice stated that none of the property could be removed from the premises until the sale and two deputies were left to see that this instruction was not violated. These men began an inventory of the furniture on hand.

Dose said that in the absence of the owners of the company, Edward Wendt and Joseph Jozaitis, he would not discuss the action. He recalled receiving a letter several weeks ago from the treasurer, threatening seizure unless payment was received.

Turned Over to Attorney.

The letter, he said, was turned over to an attorney whose name he could not remember.

Toman said he sent out 20 warning letters and that all but four of the recipients had reported and made settlements. He indicated that others would have their properties seized if they continued to ignore his messages. Until recently Toman had contended he could not make the seizures for fear he would be sued for large amounts by the affected taxpayers. He agreed on a trial of the method after the county board promised a surety bond to protect him.

Big Political Party in India Decides on Civil Resistance

BOMBAY, India, March 12 (AP).—Hindu Mahasabaha, the third largest political party in India, decided today on a campaign of civil resistance because of the refusal of the British viceroy to assure dominion status for India within one year after the war is over.

BERLIN RAIDED FIRST TIME IN 82 DAYS; FIVE PLANES SHOT DOWN

BERLIN, March 13, Thursday (AP).—Five British battle planes flying into Germany were shot down during the night, authorized sources announced today in reporting the first British air raid on Berlin in 82 days. Two other north German cities also were British objectives during the night.

Bag Nine German Bombers.

LONDON, March 13, Thursday (AP).—Nine German bombers were officially reported shot down last night when the air force battered the Liverpool area in an assault which the government described today as the first large scale raid on England in some months.

While comparing the Liverpool raid with the heavy assaults directed against England last fall, the government said damage was nowhere comparable.

London and towns in the Midlands, East Anglia, and southwest and southeast England also were attacked. The Germans took advantage of clear weather and a full moon.

The thunderous rumble of an artillery barrage different from anything previously heard in London indicated some new development in antiaircraft last night as German bombers attacked the capital three times. The nature of the defensive fire was not disclosed, but its noise resembled that of heavy artillery rather than the familiar antiaircraft guns.

The air ministry announced yesterday that shipyards and docks at the German naval bases, Kiel and Bremerhaven, and objectives in Rotterdam and Utrecht, Holland, had been bombed by the British air force.

MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE DESTROYS ARMS PATTERNS

Irvington, N. J., March 12 (AP).—A fire which lighted the sky for miles around tonight destroyed a pattern storage building on the 4½ acre grounds of the Barnett Foundry and Machine company here. Herbert L. Edinger, vice president of the plant, estimated loss at more than a million dollars. He said valuable patterns used by companies holding armament contracts were destroyed.

Sugar Warehouse Burns.

New Orleans, La., March 12 (AP).—A warehouse in the old French quarter tonight was destroyed in a fire which defied the efforts of all available firefighters for more than two hours. The blaze, believed to have started in a box car, razed the structure, which warehouse men said contained 2 million sacks of sugar as well as coffee, rice, canned goods, and cylinders of gas used in air conditioning. The loss was placed at several million dollars.

A Pigeon-Toed Tale of Ghosts Gets the Bird

"Gh-gh-ghosts!" she stuttered.

"Repeat, please," urged the sheriff, pressing the receiver closer to his ears.

"Ghosts, I saw 'em; three ghosts all in white," she proclaimed tremulously. The sheriff told the caller that ghosts are illegal in Lake county, and he would take immediate steps to suppress them.

Antighost Squad Departs.

The sheriff promptly assembled as an antighost squad, Deputies Herman Larsen and George Bock. Three ghosts, he said, were haunting the snow covered woods near Buckley road, two miles southwest of North Chicago.

The deputies started out at once and soon were in the haunted woods hunting for three gamboling ghosts. Deputy Bock was remarking he was glad it wasn't Friday the 13th when he discovered fresh footprints in the snow.

"I didn't know spooks were pigeon toed," he said.

"Maybe these ghosts are different," said Larsen.

Three Figures Loom.

The first ghost said he was John Zupansic, 824 South Jackson street; the second, Stanley Salata, 818 South Jackson street, and the third, Ignatz Dack, 817 Commonwealth avenue, all of Waukegan. They explained they were members of the Pointer and Setter club, a game protection organization, and were out hunting crows. The white hoods they wore were camouflage so that the crows couldn't see them against the snow.

'Awful Sweet to Him,' Says Husband Killer

BY MARCIA WINN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East St. Louis, Ill., March 12.—Mrs. Lue Rodemich Burns took the witness stand in her own defense today to say she was always "awful nice and sweet" to her fourth husband—until she killed him.

Mrs. Lue R. Burns.

Mrs. Burns, large, blonde, and 42 years old, whose dexterity with a gun has caused two of her four widowhoods, is on trial before Judge William S. Borders and a jury of six men and six women for the murder of John P. Burns, the jeweler whom she married in 1932. Her plea is self-defense, as it was in 1931 when a coroner's jury acquitted her of killing Shelby Clay, her third husband.

Both Sides Rest.

As principal witness in her own behalf, the widow testified a little more than an hour, her mien verging from stolidity to tears. At her conclusion the state produced four rebuttal witnesses and by 4 p. m. both sides had rested in this swiftly moving murder trial. Closing arguments will be heard tomorrow and a quick verdict is expected.

The widow's account of her husband's death was alight with sentiment and contrasted sharply with the testimony the state presented yesterday picturing the slaying as deliberate and cold blooded.

Less than an hour before she killed husband No. 4, she testified, she had addressed him as "honey," as the preface to a request that he go to his jewelry shop and pick up some purchases she had sent there c. o. d. To this he replied "with such awful names,' she said, that she was embarrassed.

Tempest Disturbs Son.

As Mrs. Burns depicted the night of Jan. 23 it almost had the earmarks of domestic tranquility. Her son by a former marriage, Gene Rodemich, 21, a law student at St. Louis university, was upstairs studying. She and her husband were reading the evening papers, when she interrupted with her term of endearment and request. The ensuing tempest was so loud that Gene rushed down.

"He [Burns] hit me and I scooted into the bedroom," she testified. "Gene came in, and he went to choking Gene. I went to the bureau and got a gun."

"Had you struck your husband?" Defense Attorney Harold Bandy asked.

"I never struck my husband," the widow retorted indignantly. "I always tried to be awful nice and sweet to him."

"Had he called you those names before?" Bandy continued.

"O, yes sir," she said with a demure blink of her china blue eyes, "so many times I can't remember."

Threatened With Death.

Q.—"Did he say anything else?" A.—"He said he was going to kill me and my son."

Q.—"So what did you do?" A.—"I fired. I shot. I don't know how many times. He fell and then he got back up and started fighting again."

The gun, she said, was hers, bought in October under an assumed name.

She had been committed to Alton state hospital for the insane twice by her husband, she testified, a statement the state substantiated by offering the dates of her stays there. She said the gun was intended as a joint protection against her husband and "those people" who came to take her back.

NORMAL TWINS BORN TO KIN OF SIAMESE TWINS

Mount Airy, N. C., March 12 (AP).—Twin great-grandsons of the original Siamese twins of world-wide fame were born yesterday in a farm house near White Plains, a village near here. The attending physician said they were normal and weighed about six pounds each.

The father, Robert Bunker, is a grandson of one of the original twins, Chang and Eng, who were buried in a churchyard at White Plains. The mother is a native of this section.

Chang and Eng traveled over the world in the 19th century and appeared before the crowned heads of Europe, all of whom marveled at the men, joined together by a thick mass of tissue.

PRESIDENT ACTS TO RELEASE U. S. ARMS AT ONCE

7 Billions Aid Plain Sped in Congress.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—While congress sped action today on President Roosevelt's request for 7 billion dollars to finance production of arms for the foes of Germany, Italy, and Japan, a White House conference canvased the number of warships, army and navy airplanes, and other material to be supplied at once.

Meeting with the President in this conference were Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Acting Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Rear Admiral R. E. Ingersoll, acting chief of naval operations. Under the law the President is required to consult the chief of the army general staff and the chief of naval operations before transferring military equipment to another nation.

Warships Listed by Navy.

The navy has listed 10 cruisers, approximately 125 destroyers, torpedo boats, and mosquito boats, and about 100 patrol boats for consideration in the determination of the ships that can be spared without impairment of our defense. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, have declared that no more destroyers could be spared. The President withheld judgment. He is not obliged under the law to accept the judgment of the navy secretary.

Of the 160 destroyers now in commission 74 are classed as over age. Forty-five other world war destroyers have been converted into seaplane tenders, mine layers, mine sweepers, and small transports. These could be reconverted into destroyers. Transfer of the overage destroyers would leave the navy with 86.

115 Destroyers Being Built.

There are 115 destroyers under construction or on order, to be completed by Dec. 31, 1943. Britain has 233 destroyers [including 50 obtained from the United States last fall]; Germany, 47; Italy, 115, and Japan, 125.

The President, as a result of the conference, is understood to have earmarked numerous warships and bombing planes for immediate transfer to Britain, but detailed information was withheld for military reasons. Greece is to receive aircraft, tanks, machine guns, and other weapons for land operations.

The officials who conferred with the President are scheduled to appear before the house appropriations committee tomorrow in support of the proposed 7 billion dollar program of aid for the axis foes. Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], who will pilot the bill thru the house, said the measure would be ready for debate next Monday.

Items Asked by President.

The 7 billions asked by the President include the following items:

"Ordnance and ordnance stores, supplies, spare parts, and materials, including armor and ammunition and components thereof $1,343,000,000

"Aircraft and aeronautical material, including engines, spare parts, and accessories 2,054,000,000

"Tanks, armored cars, automobiles, trucks, and other automotive vehicles, spare parts, and accessories 362,000,000

"Vessels, ships, boats, and other water craft, and equipage, supplies, materials, spare parts, and accessories... 629,000,000

"Miscellaneous military equipment, supplies, and materials 260,000,000

"Facilities and equipment for the manufacture or production of defense articles, including the construction, acquisition, maintenance, and operation thereof, and the acquisition of land..... 732,000,000

"Agricultural, industrial, and other commodities and articles 1,350,000,000

"[B] For testing, inspecting, proving, repairing, outfitting, reconditioning, or otherwise placing in good working order any defense articles for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States..... 200,000,000

In addition the President asked 40 millions for "services and expenses"

PRESIDENT PICKS ARMS TO GO TO BRITAIN AT ONCE

The President proposed that he be authorized to transfer not more than 20 per cent of the allotment for any group of materials to another group and to allocate any materials to any department or agency of the United States government for its use.

Transfer Scheme Outlined.

In the case of the transfer of existing army and navy material to other nations, the President asked authority to reimburse the department by transferring from the appropriate item of the 7 billion dollar appropriation an amount equivalent to the value of the material. The 7 billion thus would be inclusive of the value of transferred material, which is limited by the act to 1 billion 300 millions. If, for example, only half a billion dollars worth of existing material were lent or leased or given, 6½ billions of the appropriation could be used for production of new material.

Request Made in Letter.

The President transmitted his request for the huge appropriation to the house in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn, which was read to the house by a clerk. By way of justifying his proposal, Mr. Roosevelt said that "this nation has felt that it is imperative to the security of America that we encourage the democracies' heroic resistance to aggression."

Under the lend-lease bill, said the President, there will be created in the United States an "arsenal of democracy" which will be a "bulwark of our own defense." It is to be the fixed policy "to make for democracies every gun, plane, and munition of war that we can," he said.

SENATE QUIZZERS MAP WIDE STUDY OF ARMS OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—A special senate committee organized today for a sweeping inquiry into the nation's armaments program, scheduling an immediate investigation of the state of production contracts.

Chairman Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] said the seven member committee, clothed with broad powers by a senate resolution, would pay particular attention to the letting of contracts and to charges that much of the military production had been concentrated in heavily populated areas of the country, with small plants in other areas being neglected.

Truman said that the labor situation in armaments industries also would come under the committee's scrutiny.

PRINCESS OFFERS TO HUNT DOWN MORO KILLERS

MANILA, P. I., March 12 (AP).—A Sulu princess has offered to search out Moro outlaws in their jungle hidings in an effort to halt a campaign of killings in Sulu [Jolo] province, in the Sulu archipelago. Authorities debated the suggestion, which was made by Princess Hadji Piando, wife of Gov. Ombra Amilbngsa of Bukidnon province, on Mindanao Island. Peaceful Moro leaders said her plan would only lead the renegades to feel the government was helpless. In the latest renegade outbreak a Moro who was spurned by a married woman slew two of her family with a knife.

Churchill Cheers; Nazis Jeer

'Gratitude!'

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—Speaking "in the name of the whole country and all freedom loving people," Prime Minister Winston Churchill today offered to the United States Britain's gratitude "for an inspiring act of faith"—the lend-lease law to aid Britain in the war.

Churchill told commons:

"The most powerful democracy has, in effect, declared in solemn statute that they will devote their overwhelming industrial and financial strength to insuring the defeat of Nazism in order that nations, great and small, may live in security, tolerance and freedom.

"By so doing the government and the people of the United States have, in fact, written a new Magna Carta which not only has regard to the rights and laws upon which a healthy and advancing civilization can alone be erected, but also proclaims, by precept and example, the duty of free men and free nations, wherever they may be, to share the responsibility and burden of enforcing them."

A military mission from the United States was in the gallery of commons as Churchill addressed the house. Its presence disclosed for the first time that it is in England. The group, which will try to coördinate British-American military plans, later was received by the prime minister.

'Meddling!'

BERLIN, March 12 (AP).—Germany's most accurate semiofficial reflector of foreign office opinion, the Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, tonight denounced the new American law to aid Britain as "the most flagrant North American meddling."

"The time is past," it said, "when unauthorized powers can concern themselves in regions foreign to them. Attempts in this direction have strengthened fitting countermeasures because it is no accident that the Japanese foreign minister now is coming to Europe to consult with his allies on measures to protect the interests of the three powers in their living spaces."

The organ said the contention that the law was defensive was disproved by the fact that it contemplates "sacrificing" American army supplies.

"He who really feels himself threatened," it said, "does not customarily give up his weapons. Roosevelt apparently seeks to be a referee for the whole world."

"Chinese Aid for U. S."

TOKIO, Japan, March 13, Thursday.—Nichi Nichi, Tokio newspaper, stated today in a dispatch from Shanghai that China has offered to help the United States, in return for aid, if the United States should go to war with Japan. The article said China would provide air bases and give the United States exclusive control of China's gold, copper, tungsten, aluminum, and tung oil production.

PRO WAR LEADER FORESEES NEED OF U. S. CONVOYS

Louisville, Ky., March 12 [Special].—Ernest Gibson, chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, said today that "the time may come when we will have to convoy shipments to Great Britain."

"The opposition will shout that such a course means war," he commented. "Why should it? We shouldn't go to war if Hitler sinks 1, 2, or 10 American ships. To put England on a par with the production capacity of Germany and the conquered countries we must step up our present help to her of 2 or 3 million dollars worth of equipment a month to a billion dollars worth a month."

Gibson, a former United States senator from Vermont, said messages received by congressmen concerning the lease-lend bill were 20 to 1 against it, but he claimed that 90 per cent of the letters and postcards bore forged or fictitious signatures.

JAP FOREIGN MINISTER DEPARTS FROM TOKIO TO VISIT AXIS CAPITALS

TOKIO, Japan, March 12 (AP).—Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka left tonight for Berlin and Rome to "tighten axis coöperation and explain the real significance of Japan's foreign policy." He was accompanied by an 11-man staff.

Domei, Japanese news agency, said Matsuoka would visit the shrine of the sun goddess at Ise, near Osaka, and then would fly to Taikyu, Korea, to continue the trip by train by way of Moscow. Japanese officials usually report to the sun goddess upon embarking upon a momentous mission.

The Japanese believe Matsuoka will try to enlist axis support of Japan's plan for southward expansion.

GREEKS SMASH BIG OFFENSIVE DUCE ORDERED

Italian Attacks Halted in 4 Days' Fighting.

ATHENS, Greece, March 12 (AP).—A Greek spokesman declared tonight that Premier Mussolini, personally taking command on the Albanian front, spurred the Italian army on a fierce counteroffensive, but that it was smashed by the Greeks in four days of heavy fighting.

The spokesman also declared Il Duce had laid down an ultimatum to his generals to "do something" by Saturday.

The accelerated attacks—the heaviest of the Albanian war—cost the Italians enormous losses in manpower, the spokesman said, and they left the battlefield strewn with dead and wounded soldiers. A communique said 200 more prisoners had been taken.

Action Before Duce Leaves.

The basis for Greek reports on Mussolini came from Italian officers captured in the prolonged and heated fighting for Tepelini, Greek sources said. The officers were said to have reported Mussolini had been in the central sector of Albania for five days and added that Il Duce announced to his military leaders he was leaving on Saturday and that they must accomplish something before he departs.

The Italians struck at six points along the line, with the greatest forces thrown into such an action since the war began, and were everywhere thrown back, Greek dispatches said, adding that the Greeks were in fact able to seize new positions in the heights northwest of Tepelini.

The Greek spokesman estimated, on the basis of intelligence work among Italian captives, that Italy's aggregate losses in the Albanian campaign now stand at 130,000 men.

Claim Hospital Ship Attacked.

The ministry of marine asserted tonight that an Italian bomber had attacked the loaded hospital ship Socrates "which already had been announced to the Italian government as such and was bearing the regular Red Cross sign."

The ship was attacked one mile south of the islet of Sessoulo, situated near the island of Levkas. Three bombs, it was stated, "fell at a distance of hardly 50 meters [about 175 feet] from the ship's stern. Fragments of these bombs caused slight damage to the deck."

BRITISH COLUMN IN AFRICA SPRINTS 120 MILES IN 2 DAYS

CAIRO, Egypt, March 12 (AP).—A British column invading eastern Ethiopia after the conquest of Italian Somaliland advanced 120 miles in the last two days, the middle east command announced today.

This force was credited with the capture of Dagha Bur, Ethiopian town some 400 miles north of Mogadiscio, Italian Somaliland capital. Its position tonight was given as 90 miles south of Jijiga with no important Fascist force standing in the way up to that point. At Jijiga the road up which the British are striking turns westward 50 miles to Harrar and from there the imperial force intends to push 30 miles on to cut the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway at Diredawa. Addis Ababa is about 250 miles from Diredawa.

The Italians have at least 10,000 troops massed for the defense of the Jijiga-Harrar region and are hurrying new fortifications, British authorities said.

Axis planes killed 18 civilians and injured 19 in a moonlight raid last night on the Mediterranean island of Malta, the British announced today.

JUGO-SLAVS SET TO JOIN AXIS, BUT STALL FOR TIME

Offer Own Plan; Trouble by Pro-British Feared.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 12 (AP).—Jugo-Slavia, the last Balkan state uncommitted to either of the great belligerents, has agreed "in principle" to sign up with the German-Italian-Japanese alliance, government circles said tonight, but wants more time before the pen is put irrevocably to the paper. After hours of urgent conferences, Regent Prince Paul and his advisers were understood to have decided to give in, but made these counterproposals to the German demands:

1. That Jugo-Slavia sign immediately only a declaration of friendship with Germany and thus be allowed a transition period, before going all the way, to try to modify pro-British sentiment in this country in an effort to avoid possible internal trouble.

2. That the German and Jugo-Slav governments have a further discussion of Nazi demands.

Leaders May Go to Berlin.

Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch and Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Markovitch will go to Berlin soon, it was said, to put the compromise formula before the Nazis. The premier canceled a long list of local engagements for Friday.

[Other dispatches from Belgrade said Jugo-Slavia was expected to sign the axis alliance Saturday.]

1. Demobilization of the Jugo-Slav army—against which it was understood the army high command was strongly arguing.

2. Complete German control of the country's economic life, transport, and communication.

3. The Nazis to have the right to ship war material thru Jugo-Slavia, presumably reserving the lines in Bulgaria and Rumania for the movement of troops.

4. Germany to have the right to pass troops thru this country if deemed necessary—apparently a hard condition to the government here.

5. Jugo-Slavia formally to sign the axis pact.

See Acceptance of Compromise.

Some Jugo-Slavs, predicting that Germany would accept the compromise, declared the Nazis would do much to avoid war here. A circumstance complicating the negotiations was the fact that Germany had no great material rewards to offer to Jugo-Slavia, a state created by Versailles and now surrounded on the north, west, and east by axis partners. Thus Germany hardly could offer territorial rewards.

On the south, there is Greece; but Greece is an old Balkan ally and, moreover, Prince Paul is related by marriage to the Greek royal family.

Meanwhile more than 500,000 German troops stood tonight on the frontiers of Greece and Turkey.

[Britons arriving in Turkey from Bulgaria declared they had been informed that German planes already had begun to bomb Greek towns from Bulgarian bases. There was no confirmation of reports that British troops were being landed in Greece. Diplomats of several nations in Belgrade were reported to have expressed their doubts as to the correctness of the reports.]

In Ankara the Turkish premier, Refik Saydam, in a speech told the country's only political party what the government's attitude was toward the Nazi occupation of Bulgaria, but what he said was not made public.

Cost of U. S. War Aid Units in Britain Is $8,000 a Week

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The cost of maintenance of the fleet of 260 motorized American ambulances, surgical units, and mobile first aid posts is approximately $8,000 weekly, Gilbert H. Carr, acting director general of the American ambulance organization here, said today. He reported another donation of $100,000 had just been received from the British War Relief society in America.

BRITISH THOUGHT DEADLY BOMB A 'RADIO BATTERY'

Legation Employes Saw It in Suitcase.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 12 (AP).—Turkish investigators probing the suitcase bomb assassination attempt on the life of George W. Rendel, British minister to Bulgaria, declared tonight that British legation employés had seen the bomb but thought it was a "radio battery."

The Turkish prosecutor said two employés of the legation, which left German occupied Bulgaria after a diplomatic breach, became suspicious on the train of two unmarked suitcases among the British baggage, opened them, and found only personal effects and a "radio battery."

The other suspicious suitcase was reported to police, who identified the "battery" as a bomb and made it harmless.

Newspapers Suspended.

Investigators studying fragments of the exploded bomb said it apparently was an acid fuse bomb and might have resembled a radio battery. Britons in Istanbul charged the bombing was a plot to "mar Turkish-British relations" and hinted that "serious diplomatic repercussions" might result.

Ten Istanbul newspapers were suspended under martial law regulations for "contravention of laws under a state of siege against sensational handling of news and needlessly exciting the public" by their stories of the bombing.

Those killed by the bomb, which also wrecked the lobby and two floors of the hotel, were Miss Gertrude Ellis, former stenographer of the British legation in Sofia, and two Turkish detectives.

Rendel, who arrived at the hotel only moments before the explosion, had gone to his rooms and escaped injury.

Nazis Blame British Themselves

BERLIN, March 12 (AP).—German sources today said that the British themselves may have been responsible for the bomb explosion in the Pera Palace hotel at Istanbul yesterday. Recalling German allegations that British secret service agents had tried to blast the water supply at Sofia, Bulgaria, authorized sources said, "it is possible that some of the same explosive supply was taken into the Pera Palace hotel in Istanbul and was badly timed."

Bombers Collide; 3 Men Lost.

VICHY RESCINDS CENSORSHIP ON NEWSPAPERMEN

VICHY, France, March 12 (AP).—The government lifted censorship on French reporters of domestic newspapers today for the first time since the war began, but held publishers accountable for printing only what officials policy permits. If the government disapproves of any articles, offending newspapers may be suspended.

The action followed huge increases in the circulation of Swiss newspapers and complaints that French papers lacked real information.

Dutch East Indies Seeks 6 Million for U. S. Planes

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, March 12 (AP).—A bill for appropriation of $6,000,000 for the purchase of American airplanes was placed before the people's council today as a part of the new $16,000,000 defense program. Passage appeared to be certain.

AMERICA FIRST'S RANKS SOLIDIFIED BY DICTATOR FIGHT

Passage of Bill Stiffens Opposition to War.

Passage of President Roosevelt's war dictatorship bill, far from discouraging those who considered it a threat to our democracy, has solidified opposition to any step which would take the United States into war, Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, vice chairman of the Illinois America First committee, said yesterday.

"We are receiving an increasing number of telegrams urging us to keep up the fight against war," said Mrs. Fairbank. "Telephone calls asking membership blanks are coming in, and yesterday a number of loop workers called at the office to sign up as members."

11 New Chapters Proposed.

Requests concerning steps necessary to form America First chapters were received from 11 downstate towns, Mrs. Fairbank said. [There are now 46 active Illinois chapters outside Chicago in addition to the newly planned units.] The new requests came from Danville, East St. Louis, Havana, Bloomington, Freeport, Granite City, Ottawa, Carbondale, Roselle, Cairo, and Rock Island.

Members of the Chicago Associate Nurses' union, local 21679, American Federation of Labor, announced they are establishing an America First unit.

Officials of America First's Chicago chapter said the response to their announcement that they would seek 1,000,000 members in Illinois had caused them to make tentative plans for a rally luncheon to be held Friday, March 21, in the Palmer House.

Membership Drive Pushed.

Work went forward in the Illinois chapter offices at 122 South Michigan avenue in the project to send letters to 66,000 members and 700,000 persons who signed petitions against the dictator bill.

Meanwhile R. Douglas Stuart Jr., national director of the America First committee, conferred with organization leaders on plans to establish a central chapter in every state.

Dr. Anton J. Carlson, University of Chicago physiologist, will speak at 6:30 o'clock tonight at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. men's club in the Y. M. C. A. at 156 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park.

Strike of 5,000 Shipyard Workers Settled in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, March 12 (AP).—Settlement of a strike by more than 5,000 shipyard workers was announced today. The strike began March 7 as result of dismissal of two men and dissatisfaction of apprentices over their pay.

HITLER VISITS SITE OF ANSCHLUSS IN AUSTRIA FOR 3D ANNIVERSARY

LINZ, Germany, March 12 (AP).—Adolf Hitler arrived here unexpectedly tonight for ceremonies tomorrow commemorating the third anniversary of the anschluss [union] linking his native Austria with the reich. Three years ago he returned to Austria for the first time in 25 years and here triumphantly proclaimed a new Pan-German union.

Map locates Linz.

His arrival tonight was less spectacular, altho he was enthusiastically greeted.

DIPLOMATIC TIES ESTABLISHED BY SIAM AND RUSSIA

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—Russia and Thailand [Siam] exchanged notes today establishing diplomatic relations. There will be further negotiations for establishment of commercial relations. The army newspaper Red Star said the establishment of a new Thailand-Indo-China frontier strengthens Japanese influence in that part of the world and, therefore, the South Seas situation remains tense. Japan, the paper said, continues to concentrate warships there, and the United States and Great Britain have taken counter-measures.

MOTHERS REVEAL PLANS TO CREATE ANTI-WAR PARTY

'Save Republic' Crusade Started in Capital.

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Mothers returning yesterday from Washington, D. C., where they were active in opposing the administration's war dictatorship bill, brought news that plans are being made to form a new antiwar party. Its purpose, they said, will be "to keep the country out of war and to preserve the republic."

Preliminary action was taken at a meeting in Washington Sunday attended by members of five groups—Americans United, Inc.; United Mothers of the United States of America, Roll Call of American Women, Mothers of American Sons, and We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America.

Enthusiastic Reception Reported.

One of the returning mothers, Mrs. Helen Wetherall of Chicago, president of the Illinois unit of the Mothers of American Sons, said proposals for the new party had been enthusiastically received and had been given promises of wide support. She commented: "We mothers feel both the Republicans and the Democrats have failed to face the war issue squarely."

Mrs. Wetherall said the ladies in the movement will campaign for the Capper proposal for a war referendum amendment to the United States constitution, now before the senate, and the Ludlow resolution in the house which would empower nations of the western hemisphere to mediate the European war.

"We're going to have peace sooner or later," she said. "The Ludlow resolution might bring it about before millions of lives are lost."

Plan Nation-Wide Campaign.

Mrs. Forrest Watson of Niles, Mich., a member of the United Mothers of the U. S. A., with headquarters in Detroit, said a campaign would be waged thruout the nation and asserted that the movement has the indorsement of antiwar senators. She plans to enlist Michigan mothers' and war veterans' groups in the movement for an antiwar party and then return to Washington for work there.

"We don't want our boys sent across the ocean," she said, "and we want our constitution back."

Mrs. Barbara Winthrop, president of We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, said she would return to Washington today to confer with Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] and other opposition senators on plans to continue the fight against the involvement of this country in the war.

Invited to Aid in Strategy.

Senator Wheeler invited Mrs. Winthrop by telephone yesterday to participate in the strategy conferences in the capital.

"He sounded tired, but he said, 'I've only just begun to fight,'" Mrs. Winthrop reported. She commended the plan for a new party and said Mrs. Grace Herron represented her organization at the meeting.

Today Mrs. Winthrop's organization will appeal to more than 1,000 members in various parts of the country to circulate petitions for Senator Capper's war referendum amendment.

ILLINOIS DRAFT REJECTIONS TOP NEARBY STATES

A greater percentage of men was rejected by physicians at army induction centers in Illinois last month than in Wisconsin and Michigan, a report by officials of the 6th corps area disclosed yesterday. During February, 4,671 men were accepted and 981, or 17.4 per cent were rejected in Illinois. In Wisconsin, 8.5 per cent were rejected and in Michigan 14.7 per cent failed to meet physical requirements. The rejection rate in Illinois has been increasing steadily since November when it totaled 13.2 per cent.

LAUNCH MILLION DOLLAR BRITISH WAR AID DRIVE

Need of Civilians Is Told by Relief Society.

A campaign to raise $1,000,000 for civilian war relief in England was announced yesterday by Charles F. Glore, chairman of the British War Relief society's Illinois committee. Campaign headquarters were opened at 208 South La Salle street, in rooms provided by the City National Bank and Trust company.

Charles F. Glore.

Glore also announced that local efforts in behalf of the British would be consolidated. All activities designed to obtain money, clothing, or any form of aid, he said, will be centered in and carried out by the Illinois commission of the British War Relief society at 30 North Michigan avenue.

Shun Controversial Issue.

While presenting the claim of the English people for Chicago's sympathy and help, Glore emphasized that the drive for funds had nothing to do with the controversial question of military aid to Britain.

"It is simply a matter of extending a helping hand to a people direly in need of help," he said. "The British War Relief society is an organization operated entirely to aid civilians—a civilian relief commission designed for help and nothing else."

National officers of the organization announced that $6,000,000 has been subscribed thru the 675 branches in the United States in the 16 months since the society was formed late in 1939. It merged with the Allied Relief fund last December. Thirty freighters of approximately 7,500 tons each, sailing secretly under British convoy, have carried the goods to England.

Chicago Quick to Help.

"Whenever in the past need has risen anywhere in the world, Chicago has been quick to respond," Glore said. "The need for help is greater in Great Britain today than it ever has been anywhere—and there is not one iota of doubt in my mind that Chicago and the country at large both will respond."

A campaign chairman and other officers for the drive are to be named in a few days. Chauncey McCormick is vice chairman of the committee; James W. Pope is secretary, and Philip R. Clarke is treasurer. Other members are John D. Ames, Sewell L. Avery, Philip D. Block Jr., Mark A. Brown, Ernest Byfield, Bertram J. Cahn, Bernard E. Davidson, Charles G. Dawes, Max Epstein, Stanley Field, Albert D. Lasker, Ernest Reckitt, Edward L. Ryerson Jr., A. G. Shennan, Silas G. Strawn, William Sutherland, Russell Tyson, and Herman Waldeck.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12 [Special].—The army outfit that gets Clarence Jorgensen, 34 years old, will never lack for sideshow entertainment. Jorgensen, a tattooer by profession, is a gaudy mural in himself, the mass of figures adorning his body rivaling in number those on the usual circus tatooed lady.

KILLED BY ANN ARBOR TRAIN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 12 [Special].—Edwin Saunders, 45, of Saline, Mich., was killed when his car was hit by an Ann Arbor passenger train 15 miles southwest of here today.

In Mayor's Office

Miss Sigrid Schultz, chief of THE TRIBUNE's Berlin bureau, and Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, visited Mayor Kelly's office yesterday to view a portrait of Harrison's father, the first Carter Harrison, who was mayor of Chicago from 1879 to 1887 and again in 1893, when he was assassinated.

The picture was painted about 1891 by Herman Schultz, father of the correspondent. He was one of Chicago's foremost artists and many of the most prominent Chicagoans of his time sat for him.

Miss Schultz recalled that her father came here in 1890 from Paris. He was a native of southern Norway and studied in France before coming here. For some years the family resided on the north side.

Later the artist moved his family back to Paris and opened a studio there. He also established studios in London and Cairo before going to Berlin in 1914 to continue his painting.

Miss Schultz, who has been giving lectures on the situation in Germany, said she plans to leave soon for Westport, Conn., to visit her mother, who resides there.

MYSTERY PLANE'S BOMBS FALL NEAR TWO IRISH TOWNS

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 12 (AP).—The government information bureau reported that bombs were dropped early today by an unidentified plane near Carndonagh and Innishowen, County Donegal, but that no damage was done. Carndonagh is a small town 20 miles north of Londonderry. Innishowen is in the extreme northwestern part of County Donegal.

Figures indicate towns near which bombs fell.

The bureau also announced that a British plane came down in the sea this morning in the neighborhood of Galway city and that two crewmen who survived were interned.

The bombing was the first since Dublin and other nearby areas were raided four times on Jan. 2-3, resulting in the death of three persons and injuries to 12. The Dublin government identified some of the bombs as of German manufacture and protested.

BRITISH CABINET SHIFT DISCUSSED; CROSS MAY LEAVE

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—The parliamentary lobby correspondent of the authoritative press association said today that among government changes "being talked about in the smoking rooms of Westminster" is one which would replace Minister of Shipping Ronald H. Cross with Lord Beaverbrook, energetic minister for aircraft production. Talk of this and other changes coincided with reports from Australia, unconfirmed here, that Cross was slated to go there as British high commissioner.

The correspondent also offered "for what it is worth" a report that Beaverbrook's successor as air production minister would be Lieut.-Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, minister of transport, who in turn would be succeeded by Col. John J. Llewellin, parliamentary secretary of Beaverbrook's ministry.

1,000 TON BRITISH SHIP SUNK FROM AIR, NAZIS CLAIM

BERLIN, March 12 (AP).—DNB, the official German news agency, said a ship of about 1,000 tons was sunk today when German fighting planes attacked numerous British outpost boats on the English east and south coasts.

The high command said long coastal guns shelled "enemy naval vessels" in the English channel yesterday, and credited a scouting plane off the north coast of Scotland with bombing a "large ship sailing in a convoy" until it listed from a direct hit.

It was reported that from November, 1940, to February, 1941, inclusive, the enemy lost 2,037,000 tons of shipping space—1,524,000 tons sunk by the navy and 513,000 tons by the air force.

An authorized source reported that 3,784 British planes were destroyed from June 23, 1940, thru Feb. 28, 1941.

[An official British announcement on Tuesday said Britain had lost fewer than 1,800 aircraft in the last 10 months while British flyers destroyed 4,250 German and 1,100 Italian planes.]

Fly Americans to Ecuador to Give Aviation Instruction

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, March 12 (AP).—Two United States army planes brought 14 pilot instructors from the Canal Zone today to teach Ecuadorian flyers.

Japanese Bombs Wreck American Church Mission

CHUNGKING, China, March 12 (AP).—The United States embassy was informed today that the Seventh Day Adventist mission at Yencheng, central Shansi province, was wrecked by Japanese bombers on Jan. 28. A hospital was among the wrecked buildings. Damage was put at $5,000.

TRAVEL IN AFRICA IS JUST A SERIES OF BIG SURPRISES

For Instance: You See Ant Hills 20 Feet High.

[This is the sixth of a series of articles by Capt. Corpening describing his travels in Africa.]

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ELIZABETHVILLE, Belgian Congo (By Mail).—The war and its rapidly changing effects on transportation make travel in Africa uncertain. I started this long and interesting journey from Lisbon, Portugal, with Cairo, Egypt, as my eventual destination. Civilian traffic thru the Mediterranean has been halted by the war, so it was necessary to get to Capetown, South Africa, from where an air line extends to Cairo.

The Portuguese boats sailing from Lisbon do not call at South African ports, however, so I disembarked at Lobito, Portuguese West Africa, from where a train went to Elizabethville, Belgian Congo, and thence to Capetown. I could have proceeded from Lobito by boat to Mozambique, Portuguese East Africa, on the opposite side of the continent, and then doubled back to Capetown by train. I chose to visit Elizabethville, and the train trip was a revelation.

Locomotive Burns Wood.

The track is narrow gauge, with a woodburning locomotive pulling the cars. The little train boasts a dining car and drinking water only for the first day out. Thereafter the passengers depend on canned rations.

After leaving Lobito, the train swings south parallel to the ocean for a few miles and then turns inland and begins its climb over the sandy hills, where the straining little engine makes no more than 10 or 12 miles an hour and the passengers wonder when they will have to get out and push.

Little game and few birds are to be seen, but, according to one of the trainmen, during the dry season deer, lions, leopards, and zebra may be seen at water holes along the way.

As the train climbs further into the hills poorly cultivated corn puts in an appearance, with the natives tending their fields with ox-drawn wagons. From five to eight yokes of fat, shiny steers pull each wagon.

Sees Some Native Villages.

The native villages are about like the movies' version of them. They have from 10 to 30 grass huts and, in some instances, are surrounded by a grass fence 4 or 5 feet high.

Two passport inspections are made by Portuguese and Belgian officials when the train crosses into Belgian Congo at Luao, near Fort Dilolo.

The native standards of living appear a bit higher in the Congo.

The huts frequently are of stucco or mud with grass roofs, and in the mining communities the huts sometimes are brick with tin roofs. The natives dress surprisingly well. It is no strange sight to see women in store dresses and men in white suits, shirts, and ties.

Two unique bits of native scenery noticed in Belgian Congo are the peculiar rock formations and the ant hills. In one section of rolling open plateau country a huge granite rock juts out of the grassy slopes every half mile or so. They remind one of small castles when seen from a distance. The ant hills are red or white, depending on the color of the soil. At first they remind one of petrified trees. They are often as high as 20 feet and some are four or five feet in diameter.

BRITAIN'S NAVY SEIZES ANOTHER FRENCH VESSEL

ALGECIRAS, Spain, March 12 (AP).—Another French freighter intercepted by British warships was taken into Gibraltar harbor today. The ship, of about 1,000 tons, is one of a number of French vessels that have been escorted to Gibraltar in recent weeks.

Insist on French Guarantee.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The Vichy statement that the French fleet may be used to convoy food ships to unoccupied France has presented problems which may be solved only by talks with America, official quarters admitted today. The view here is that Vichy has not yet given a guarantee that foodstuffs entering unoccupied France would be consumed in that territory. Some such safeguard will be demanded before Britain raises its blockade.

Evidence here is said to show that many cargoes entering Marseilles have been entrained immediately for Germany and Italy. These cargoes have consisted not only of footstuffs, but also copra and phosphates in large quantities.

SPAIN PROCLAIMS 'UNSHAKABLE' LOVE FOR NAZIS

MADRID, Spain, March 12 (AP).—Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner today proclaimed Spain's "unshakable" friendship with Germany and declared the two countries were working toward the common goal of a "more just Europe."

Ramon Serrano Suner.

Speaking at the opening of a German press exposition, Serrano Suner said there should be no doubt as to the firmness of the ties binding the two totalitarian governments.

Altho Spain has been an onlooker thus far in the European war, Serrano Suner said her aims, and those of warring Germany were for a "new Europe" which would achieve a "geographical and moral fullness."

Showgirl Sues for $10,000 in Row Over Photo Display

Noel Carter, 22 years old, of Long Island City, N. Y., a show girl, filed suit yesterday in Superior court for $10,000 damages, charging "invasion of her private rights" by Count Berni Vici, an actor, and Michael Todd and Jack Todd, managers of the Oriental theater. The suit, filed by Attorney Alvin Hirsch, asserted that Miss Carter's 13 week contract with the Rialto theater was canceled because her picture was displayed by the Oriental theater, contrary to provisions of her contract.

[ADVERTISMENT]

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SEA LORD CALLS ON BRITISH TO CUT DOWN ON FOOD

Bar Home Grown Wheat for Feeding Stock.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—An appeal to Britons to cut down on their food consumption was followed today by a government order forbidding the United Kingdom's wheat growers to feed any of their harvest to poultry or live stock. It requires that all wheat, except that used for seed, be used for food for human consumption.

In urging the country to consume less and producers to grow more, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, told the nation it could thus insure that "none of its sea effort will be wasted."

The British government now is the sole buyer of the country's carrots and certain other vegetables. The Evening Standard charged there are many acres of carrots in West Suffolk and "no one wants them." It quoted a farmer who it said has 40 acres of carrots: "I have no means of getting rid of them; all I can do is plow them under or feed them to sheep."

T. D. Campbell, Montana wheat expert and friend of President Roosevelt, arrived here. It is understood he will give agricultural assistance, and he said he plans to see Prime Minister Winston Churchill and visit Ireland.

John G. Winant, the American ambassador, discussed the food situation with Lord Woolton, food minister.

French Seek Horseflesh.

VICHY, France, March 12.—Advertisements such as the following are appearing in French newspapers: "John Doe, horse butcher, will travel any distance to buy animals killed accidentally."

A woman of the middle class was heard to tell a friend at Marseilles: "Note this: There is to be a distribution of horseflesh twice a week. We may be able to get a few pounds."

Vatican City Rationed.

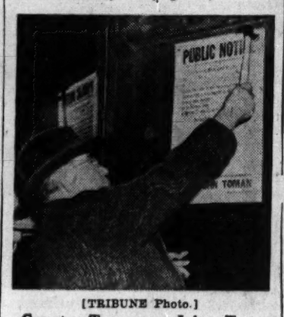

VATICAN CITY, March 12 (AP).—Rationing of food and some other goods was introduced here today, affecting even Pope Pius XII. While Italian citizens get none, Vatican City residents will be entitled to a pound of coffee a month.

Italy to Control Butter.

ROME, March 12 (AP).—Italy announced today it will strictly control the production, distribution and sale of butter, beginning March 24. The monthly ration is three and one-half ounces in Rome and five ounces in the provinces.

TENNESSEE CAMP WELCOMES MORE ILLINOIS TROOPS

Two Trainloads Arrive as Sun Peeks Thru.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

Camp Forrest, Tenn., March 12.—The first two train loads of Illinois National Guardsmen, a total of 767 men and officers of the 33d division, arrived in Camp Forrest today from Chicago. The sun, rare here in the last two weeks, broke thru clouds and gave the camp much needed sunshine as the trains pulled in.

The guardsmen were inspected as they left the trains by Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33d division, and Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commanding officer of the 2d army of which the division is a part. Gen. Lear, who came here from Nashville, Tenn., to watch the soldiers arrive and to visit the still uncompleted camp, announced the government will lease approximately 700,000 acres between nearby Tullahoma and Nashville for spring maneuvers of the 7th corps area.

Begin Army Housecleaning.

As the men assembled, they were loaded into trucks and carried to the wooden barracks which will be their homes for the next 12 months. There they were put to work setting up steel cots and washing the floors.

The 767 soldiers brought Illinois troops now at Camp Forrest to 1,275. The others came in during the last few days by truck convoys. Tomorrow another train, with 333 men aboard, will reach here from Chicago, and on Friday two trains, carrying a total of 453 soldiers, will arrive. All 12,000 men of the division will be here by March 26.

Camp Forrest was more presentable today than when the first Illinois soldiers arrived, right after heavy rains. The sun had dried up a few of the smaller puddles, and the ground was not so muddy as it was 24 hours ago. Nevertheless, the new troops found it wise to stick to wooden catwalks and the camp's few gravel paths.

Old Coats in Evidence.

It was noticed that many of the soldiers who arrived today were clad in ill-fitting army overcoats of world war vintage. Officers explained that these had been issued to the Guardsmen within the last few days by regular army authorities. It was said new garments will be issued as soon as they are available.

"Some of these coats apparently were formerly used by either cavalrymen or artillerymen," said one officer. "They have been cut off above the knee to allow freedom of movement needed by such troops."

Among the units which arrived today was the division's military police company, 111 soldiers under the command of Capt. James Ryan, until a week ago a detective on the Chicago police force. In the company are five other former Chicago policemen. In addition to their duties in camp, they will be assigned to patrol the streets of Tullaloma to prevent disturbances among soldiers on leave in the town.

Other units were the headquarters detachment and special troops of the division, 108th ordnance company, a section of the 108th quartermaster regiment, and the headquarters companies of the 65th and 66th infantry brigades and of the 58th field artillery brigade.

Fort Ord, Cal., March 12 [Special].—The horselaugh was on Jed, a steed in Battery A of the 75th Field Artillery here. Apparently expecting a nosebag containing his favorite brand of oats, the horse got a gas mask instead. He and his fellow animals were adorned with the masks during gas attack practice.

UNION TO VOTE ON MEDIATION IN N. Y. BUS STRIKE

Both Sides Meet Mayor; Peace Believed Near.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Settlement of New York's bus strike, which has forced the city's normal daily bus riding population of 900,000 to slog around in slush and snow for three days, appeared near tonight when Mayor Fiorello La Guardia announced both sides were considering mediation.

La Guardia, a former political ally of the union leaders who directed the strike, emerged from a conference in the city hall with the announcement he had asked the two companies involved, Fifth Avenue Coach and New York Omnibus corporations, and officials of the transport workers' union to submit to mediation. The union membership will vote on the scheme tomorrow night.

Chairman Arthur S. Meyer of the state mediation board, recuperating from an illness in Miami, Fla., was flying to New York tonight to take charge of the negotiations. The mayor said if there was any hitch in the plans he expected to meet with both sides again tomorrow night.

Snow Clogs Streets.

Meanwhile rain turned to snow late in the afternoon and made the going by foot difficult. The city council, in an attempt to save $1,500,000, had not taken on extra help to clear the streets of last Saturday's 11.6 inch blizzard and were taking a gamble that warmer weather was on the way.

Ninety-five per cent of the city's buses were marooned in picketed garages, and the subways bore the brunt of the abnormally heavy loads.

Among the demands of the union bus drivers are pay increases ranging from 12 to 48 per cent, three weeks' vacation with pay each year as against two at present, eight paid holidays instead of four, and increased sick benefits under union distribution.

The companies offered to continue operation under the old contract pending outcome of negotiations, but Michael Quill, radical czar of the union, refused. Two years ago the union praised its contract as one of the "finest achievements in view of the financial status of the company," and "the highest [pay] in the United States for such type of transportation."

C. I. O. Leader Reaches Scene.

Quill, often charged with being a communist, made no move toward negotiation, altho John A. Ritchie, chairman of the two companies, and his lawyers made a beaten path to the mayor's office. Alan S. Haywood, national organized of the C. I. O., rushed to New Yorg. This forenoon he went to the union's offices and then called La Guardia.

The mayor, who was eager to get away to a dinner of the One Hundred Year association where he would be given the annual medal for outstanding public service, came out of the room with the announcement of the mediation plan.

La Guardia had called the union leaders "bullheaded, obstinate, and stupid." This led observers to the belief that the mayor feared a victory for the union now when new contracts for subway workers are up for negotiation in June.

One theory was that the union was making a show of strength today in a prelude for a bigger strike on the subways in June.

JURISDICTIONAL STRIKES MUST STOP, U. S. WARNS

Alarm Over Arms Tieup Revealed by Action.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The government has served notice on organized labor that jurisdictional strikes tying up work on the armament program must be stopped, Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, revealed today.

Sidney Hillman.

Hillman, who is the labor member of the National Defense Advisory commission, said he has told both the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organization that they must be "big" enough to find a way to end the crippling siege of disputes between unions.

It is know that the Roosevelt administration is becoming increasingly alarmed over the bogging down of the armament program, now in its ninth month and, records show, lagging far behind production schedules. The strikes and labor disorders are described as among the main causes for the lack of progress.

40 Hour Week Abandoned.

Earlier this week, the Works Projects administration thrust aside the protests of New Dealers who had insisted on clinging to the 40 hour week, despite the country's needs, and authorized a 48 hour week for WPA workers to speed up the program. This was quickly interpreted as another reflection of official concern over the situation.

Hillman, however, insisted today that the wave of strikes is not "seriously" interfering with the progress of the work.

"There are more stoppages than I like to see," he admitted. "But we believe the situation is in good control."

Aluminum Plant Closed.

EDGEWATER, N. J.—A strike by C. I. O. members closed the 10 story plant of the Aluminum Company of America which has been operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week exclusively on military orders. Some 3,000 men were thrown out of work by a dispute over overtime pay.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—C. I. O. officials predicted another strike within two weeks at the big Lackawanna plant of the Bethlehem Steel company which the union tied up for two days recently until intervention by the Office of Production Management.

OAKLAND, Cal.—A strike vote among C. I. O. employés of three automobile plants, one engaged on military orders, was to be taken if a dispute over a work schedule was not settled immediately. Employés returned to the plants after work was halted for a time yesterday.

MOLINE, Ill.—Three plants of the Moline Iron works, employing 600 men, will resume operations tomorrow after settlement of a seven day strike. The management signed a contract with an A. F. of L. union which replaced a C. I. O. local and granted blanket wage increase of 5 cents an hour.

Resume Arms Plant Work.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A. F. of L. building laborers returned to work on the construction of a 12 million dollar small arms ammunition plant after a one day strike. Contractors said they had not granted a demand by union business agents for permanent passes to the construction site.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A special inquiry into the 50 day strike in the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company plant was opened by John R. Steelman, chief of the United States conciliation service. The strike has tied up 45 million dollars worth of military orders.

EVERETT, Wash.—Union carpenters left their jobs on buildings for the 5 million dollar army air corps base at the Snohomish county airport after delivery of lumber which the A. F. of L. district council had labeled unfair. The lumber was from the Weyerhaeuser Timber mills here which have been picketed since last October by the Lumber Workers' union. Norman Morgan, secretary of the carpenters' union, said 36 carpenters left the job and that the stoppage also involved 75 members of other trades.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Thursday.—Officers of the A. F. L. Canning and Pickle Workers' union announced early today employés of the H. J. Heinz company voted 1,260 to 105 last night to authorize a strike call for enforcement of demands for higher pay and a signed contract. A meeting of company and union officials has been called.

Grandfather Helps

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
LUCY HARRISON.

His job as collector of internal revenue brought family troubles to Carter H. Harrison yesterday in the United States courthouse. His granddaughter, Lucy Harrison, 22 years old, stopped in his office on her way to file her first income tax return. She protested that the government wanted too much of her money.

When Mr. Harrison looked at the return he found that she had assessed herself a 25 percent defense tax rather than the 10 per cent tax set by law. The adjustment saved Miss Harrison 68 cents and she cheerfully paid $5.30 tax, Miss Harrison is the daughter of Carter H. Harrison Jr., 215 Sheridan road, Lake Forest.

Collector Harrison reported yesterday that 228,900 persons have paid $40,123,359 in income taxes in this district from Jan. 1 thru last Tuesday. This is more than twice the number of returns and nearly twice the amount collected in the corresponding period last year.

CONFER TODAY ON HARVESTER VOTE DEMAND

A demand by a newly formed American Federation of Labor union that an election be held at the McCormick works of the International Harvester company to determine a legal bargaining agent will be discussed today at a confetence in the Chicago office of the National Labor Relations board.

Present at the meeting are to be representatives of the A. F. of L., the Farm Equipment Workers Organizing committee [C. I. O.], and the company. Ross M. Madden, field representative of the NLRB, will preside. It has been indicated that the C. I. O. group, which is conducting strikes at McCormick works and three other International plants, will oppose the election, holding that it has a majority of the employés else there would be no strike. If this is done, it will take months to force the balloting.

At a FEWOC meeting yesterday leaders asserted that unless the company met their demand they might close down all the harvester plants in the country. The tractor plant in Chicago has been strike bound for six weeks and the McCormick works for nearly two weeks.

ELEVATOR MAN DIES AT WORK.

William Pearlman, 68 years old, 3239 Adams street, a veteran elevator operator at the Liquid Carbonic company, 3100 South Kedzie avenue, died at work of a heart attack yesterday.

BLIND, MOTHERS TO GET SURPLUS FEDERAL FOODS

160,000 Eligible in City; Plan Starts April 21.

Expansion of the federal food stamp plan to include persons receiving mothers' pensions, old age assistance, and pensions for the blind was announced yesterday by the Surplus Marketing administration.

Under the expanded program, scheduled to start April 21, about 160,000 additional persons in Chicago will become eligible for food stamp benefits. At present only persons on general relief participate.

Retailers to Get More Business.

Ellsworth F. J. Reilly, head of the Chicago office of the federal agency, said the expansion would mean approximately $3,500,000 worth of new business annually for city retail food merchants and would open an additional $9,000,000 market for American farmers.

During February, 185,000 Chicago reliefers purchased $800,000 worth of food with orange stamps, Reilly said, and thus received $400,000 more in blue stamps with which to obtain surplus commodity foodstuffs. Orange stamps are good for any food normally sold in a food store.

11,000 Merchants Take Part.

Since the stamp plan was inaugurated in Chicago last August, $3,275,964 has been distributed in blue food stamps, Reilly said. More than 11,000 retail merchants are distributing the surplus commodities.

For every dollar of his relief check designated for food, the reliefer receives a dollar's worth of orange stamps, and 50 cents worth of blue stamps for purchase of surplus commodities, Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief commissioner, explained.

Instructions will be mailed to all eligible persons notifying them where and when they can obtain the food stamps. About five weeks will be required to complete certification of eligible cases, Reilly said.

FOUND DEAD IN BATHTUB.

James P. Bray, 67 years old, a retired salesman, was found dead yesterday in the bathtub of the rooming house where he lived at 4710 Kenmore avenue. A heart attack was believed to have caused his death.

Radio Service to Norway Will Be Resumed Today

Direct radio message service between the United States and Oslo, Norway, will be reëstablished today for the first time since April 21, 1940, during the German invasion, according to an announcement yesterday by E. C. Tievy, Chicago commercial representative of R. C. A. Communications, Inc. R. C. A. operates the only direct circuit between the United States and Norway. Since the invasion, messages have been rerouted thru Germany at higher cost.

YOU: My scalp almost drives me crazy—it itches, is thick with dandruff, and my hair is getting very thin. What is the matter?

THOMAS EXPERT: Some of the 14 local scalp troubles which cause 85% of all baldness are attacking your hair growing structure and making it impossible for your hair to grow as nature intends it should.

YOU: I've tried everything—can't you do something to help me? I don't want to be bald!

THOMAS EXPERT: We can help you save your hair. We have helped a quarter-million other persons during the past 20 years.

YOU: What does Thomas treatment do?

THOMAS EXPERT: Thomas experts first determine the exact cause of hair loss. We then rid your scalp of local infections which results in stopping the itch and in normalizing your hairfall. We then stimulate the dormant sources of hair-growth and help nature to grow hair.

YOU: Can you help everyone?

THOMAS EXPERT: No, we treat only the 14 local causes of baldness. We examine each person's scalp—without charge or obligation—and those who do not come within the scope of our treatment are frankly told.

YOU: Let's start today. You have 45 offices—have been successful for 20 years—"such popularity must be deserved."

GOV. GREEN FACES FIRST OPPOSITION IN LEGISLATURE

Brandon's committee was named by Gov. Green to prepare amendments to the civil administrative code. These amendments would remove the penal branches from the welfare department and place them in a new department of public safety and reconstruct what would be left of the welfare department—the hospitals, relief, old age assistance, and blind pensions.

It became apparent that Brandon had told Downing he would not press for the selection of Calvin Johnson of Belleville, former state representative, as secretary for the legislators, altho he said he believed Johnson was well qualified.

Johnson Cold Shouldered.

The committee, however, made short work of Johnson. When it had concluded its discussion with Brandon, it went into executive session. In a few minutes the door opened for an official announcement by Chairman Downing.

"The committee voted unanimously," he said, "to proceed with its own investigation, independent of any department, and to select its own secretary. It has recessed for one week."

The Republican senate caucus was held behind closed doors. The gist of a statement by Chairman Simon E. Lantz of Congerville was that many senators felt they had been overlooked in matters of state patronage.

The break in the hitherto friendly relations between the Republican and Democratic sides of the senate came in a parliamentary tilt in which Senator Ward opposed a position taken by Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, president of the chamber. Ward won out on a roll call on a suspension of the rules to advance a Chicago airport parking bill, but not until he and most other members of the minority had told the Republicans that if they wanted war, they could get plenty of it.

ASKS FLASHERS ON TRUCKS TO INDICATE SPEED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 12.—A variety of bills filled the hoppers of both houses today. In the senate William G. Knox [R., Chicago] proposed a novel plan for keeping motor trucks running at safe speeds. Knox presented a bill to require trucks to carry a series of colored tail lights, a different color registering each 10 mile an hour increase in speed up thru 50 miles an hour.

For the first time this session a bill was introduced to reduce the interest rate on small loans. Representative William F. Gibbs [D., Quincy] proposed that the rate be cut from 3 to 2 per cent a month on unpaid balances. Gibbs also wants pawnbrokers' rates cut from 3 to 2 per cent.

Representative Leo D. Crowley [R., Peoria] presented a bill to allow county boards to appoint an examining staff of three physicians to determine if old age applicants have reached the age of 65—a requisite for pensions.

Representative Lloyd W. Harris [D., Granite City] proposed that state employés be paid a minimum salary of $100 a month.

STOLEN: 1 GLASS FACTORY, ONCE WORTH MILLION

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Here's the year's biggest theft: A glass factory once worth a million dollars.

George Knox Roth, a tax counselor, told county supervisors the abandoned plant, in nearby Torrance, had been carried away—raw materials, machinery, brick walls, and all.

"Something drastic should be done to fix the blame," he suggested.

The supervisors asked for a legislative inquiry. Roth said the property was assessed for $400,000 in 1931, deeded to the state for $50,000 in delinquent taxes, and sold by the state in 1939 for $4,000. He accused the state of neglecting the property.

Granted Divorce

Mrs. Edith Feiler, who received divorce yesterday.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

The phonograph eavesdropping case ended yesterday when Judge Rudolph Desort indicated he would grant a divorce on the grounds of cruelty to Mrs. Edith Feiler, 24 years old, from her husband, Lawrence, also 24, a radio engineer. Mrs. Feiler won custody of her daughter, Jean, 4, who will be placed in a private school, with both parents having equal rights to visit her. Feiler, who lives at 710 Lake Shore drive, agreed to support his daughter.

During the litigation Feiler testified that he had made phonograph recordings allegedly involving Mrs. Feiler with another man in her apartment at 5855 Lowe avenue. He said he destroyed the recordings.

Mrs. Feiler's sister, Miss Mildred Dunn, a divorcée, asserted that Feiler tried unsuccessfully to make love to her nearly 200 times last year. Feiler denied making any advances.

Miss Dunn denied that she had had a telephone conversation with Feiler in which she is supposed to have said that she had once seen Mrs. Feiler and a man named Roy in a compromising position. Miss Betty Bell, 35, of the Cass hotel, was called to contradict the denial, and testified that she heard Miss Dunn talking on the phone when the two women roomed together and that Miss Dunn later told her she was talking to Feiler.

URGES LOTTERY TO PAY COSTS OF ARMS PROGRAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 12.—Legislators today were treated to the spectacle of a Democratic senator proposing the establishment of a national lottery to pay the costs of the Democratic federal government's arms program.

A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago] sponsored the plan in a resolution. If it passes, it will notify congress that the Illinois general assembly believes that a lottery will scale down taxes for the military and naval program, with especial benefit to small wage earners.

"The citizens of the United States and of Illinois," Senator Marovitz's resolution reads, "are faced with an emergency comparable only to war, and the future security of our nation is dependent upon the adequacy of our national defense.

"A national lottery would raise a large sum of money to be used for national defense, and all people would gain by this resultant scaling down of proposed defense taxes made possible by utilizing this new source of revenue."

FBI TECHNICIAN TELLS DRIVE TO CURB SABOTAGE

Since September, 1939, when President Roosevelt ordered all evidence on sabotage cleared thru the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the bureau's duties have increased 300 per cent while its personnel has been increased only 100 per cent. This was disclosed yesterday by E. P. Coffey, chief of the FBI's technical laboratory in Washington, D. C., who spoke at the weekly luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the La Salle hotel.

E. P. Coffey.

"We have started surveys of 12,000 factories in the United States to prevent sabotage and successfully combat it once the damage has been started," said Coffey. "Eighteen hundred plants producing war materials are on our priority list. We have been able to complete surveys on only 1,200 factories."

There has been no outbreak of organized sabotage in this country since the beginning of the war in Europe, Coffey said. He urged, however, that citizens report all acts of suspected sabotage.

Eight Balls of Fire

IF you like fireworks, and who doesn't, it's really too bad you can't see what goes on inside that sparkling big Buick FIREBALL eight that romps you so easily down the broad highway.

There you'd see eight busy cylinders, with pistons flashing up and down...

You'd see the spark leap, the flame spread, the piston thrust down with extra force as each furious fireball lets go its pent-up wallop.

You'd see all this happening as fast as thirty times a second in each of those eight cylinders—and we think you'd understand then just why there's such a special and exciting satisfaction in the way a Buick travels.

Gasoline gives up more of its power when it's packed as tightly as it is here.

That special, flattened-ball shape of the compressed fuel charge means smoother, better burning, full focus of the power on the piston head, where it counts.

WOMEN TESTIFY SCHENCK STOOD THEIR EXPENSES

Dancer Admits He Gave Automobile to Her.

New York, March 12 (AP).—A dancer and the divorced wife of a Hollywood director testified for the government today in the income tax trial of Joseph M. Schenck, board chairman of Twentieth-Century-Fox Film corporation. He is charged with tax evasion in 1935, 1936 and 1937.

Grace Poggi. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Assistant United States Attorney Mathias F. Correa sought by their testimony to show that many expenditures which Schenck deducted from his tax returns as business expenses actually were for entertainment and personal interests.

Grace Poggi, twice married professional dancer, testified she stayed in Schenck's Beverly Hills, Cal., home for three months in 1935 when he was in Europe, and that she used his yacht and accepted an automobile from him.

New York Trips Told.

Miss Poggi told of trips she made from Los Angeles to New York in 1935, but was uncertain whether Schenck actually paid the bills.

Harold Corbin, defense counsel, conceded that Schenck had approved most of them. Correa than produced a letter from a London hotel, addressed to Joseph H. Moskowitz, co-defendant and Schenck's eastern representative, which he said expressed thanks for settlement by Schneck of the $560 account of Miss Poggi.

The next witness, Mrs. Audrey Sutherland, who was divorced in 1935 from Edward Sutherland, director, said she was a guest at the Desert Inn hotel, Palm Springs, with a party including Schenck and another man and woman.

A Social Occasion.

"Was business discussed on that occasion?" Correa asked.

"O, no, it was just a social occasion," she answered.

In testimony relating to Schenck's gambling deductions, Correa sought to show that losses were listed but heavy winnings were concealed.

Schenck was born in Russia 58 years ago. He married Norma Talmadge, then a movie actress, in 1917. They separated in 1927 and she obtained a Mexican divorce in 1934.

DEFEAT COUNTRY CLUB LIQUOR FEE HIKE IN KANE CO.

The Kane county board, meeting yesterday in Geneva, voted 25 to 9 against the county liquor commission's proposal to raise to $350 the present $25 annual license fee for country clubs selling liquor. E. W. Mills, chairman of the board and ex-officio chairman of the liquor commission, presented the proposal.

Supervisor Martin O'Brien objected to the measure, stating that the clubs are not operated for profit and are not public. He proposed that the board cancel the licenses of clubs where "tavernlike conditions" prevail, rather than raise the license fee.

Among the clubs which would have been affected by passage of the measure are the Riding club, the Fox Valley Country club, and the Aurora, St. Charles, and Elgin Country clubs.

Driver Jailed

MRS. HELEN CHRISTIANSON.

Mrs. Helen Christianson, 34 years old, 4517 Greenview avenue, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail yesterday by Judge Thomas A. Green in Safety court for driving while intoxicated. Her driving privileges were suspended for 60 days. Mrs. Christianson was arrested on Feb. 25 after she drove her car past a stop light at Foster avenue and Broadway and struck another car.

Jerome Howard, 20, of Battery B, 61st coast artillery, Fort Sheridan, was freed of a reckless driving charge growing out of an accident last Oct. 28 in which a pedestrian was injured. Judge Green, a former marine, said, "This man is in the service of his country and deserves consideration."

Edward Tarczon, 23, of 744 North May street, a laborer, was sentenced to five days in jail and lost his driving license for six months. He was charged with reckless driving after his car struck a police car last Nov. 10.

Charles P. Casey Named Aid to State WPA Chief

Charles P. Casey, until recently director of public works and buildings for the state, has been appointed an assistant to Howard S. Drew, Illinois administrator of the Work Projects administration. The appointment, announced yesterday by Drew, is effective next Monday.

URGE DAYLIGHT TIME AT ONCE TO AID AIR SCHOOLS

Operators of the 32 airports in the Chicago area and more than 2,000 pilots—all members of the Illinois Air Pilots' association — yesterday addressed a letter to Mayor Kelly urging the city council to extend the 1941 daylight saving period from the earliest possible day in this month thru October.

The pilots asserted that every hour of daylight possible is useful in the pilot training phase of the rearmament program, and said that the change to daylight saving time would assist them in making use of all daylight. Daylight time now extends from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. Henry J. Bowker, president of the pilots' association, wrote to the mayor: "Under the urgent necessity for turning out pilots in the government training program, the airport operators need every hour of daylight possible to justify their existence as government approved flying schools."

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes has been directed by the city council to prepare an ordinance to extend daylight saving thru October. The mayor yesterday said he would study the suggestion to commence the period at once.

Twenty Band Instruments Stolen from Hull House

Police were looking yesterday for a thief who broke into the recreation room at Hull House and took 20 instruments belonging to members of the children's band.

POWERS OF CITY TO BUY TRANSIT LINES STUDIED

The city council local transportation committee yesterday directed William H. Sexton, special traction counsel, to prepare a report on the legal powers of the city to buy and operate Chicago's transportation lines. The action was taken after Ald. Earl B. Dickerson [2d] submitted a resolution advocating municipal ownership.

Dickerson asserted that the 100 million dollar transit improvement program set out under the proposed traction franchise for a private unified company cannot be financed with private capital.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee, was directed to determine the status of an order by the Illinois Commerce commission in 1939 directing the elevated lines to replace all wooden cars with steel cars. This move was prompted by the recent collision between an elevated train and a train of the Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin railroad, in which more than 20 persons were injured.

The committee voted to meet with the surface lines' new board of management on March 20 to discuss the proposed traction franchise.

Good Moos by Elsie, THE BORDEN COW

When people say they've made a "bull,"
They mean they've made a blunder;
Why don't they call a big success
"A Borden Cow," I wonder?

THE HOSTESS TAKES THE PRIZE. I know a cute way for every bright little hostess to win a prize at her own bridge parties. Here's how... Just set out all seven of Borden's famous Cocktail Spreads ... Vera-Sharp, Pimento, Relish, Roquefort, Pineapple, Limburger, and Olive-Pimento. That gives you the most marvelous assortment of luscious cheese-food sandwiches and canapes that ever dazzled a guest. And so-o-o thrifty!

The special prize? Here 'tis: All these Borden spreads come packed in the duckiest Swedish-style, re-usable glasses! They'll sparkle on your table ever after, and green-eyed friends will guess they were lovingly selected on a shopping splurge.

NEED A NEW TOASTER? ... or a kitchen clock? ... or a double boiler?... or any of a thousand other things? Well, they're yours—just for the labels you save from Borden's Evaporated Milk (Silver Cow Brand). And Silver Cow is not only irradiated, creamy, and rich as can be—but it's the only evaporated milk in Chicago whose labels bring you lovely, lovely gifts.

You'll want a FREE Borden premium catalog, of course. Just write Borden's, 315 No. Clark St. (or phone Whitehall 5330), and you'll get one with over a thousand reasons in it for you to start snipping those labels right away. So—better add Silver Cow to your list now!

OH-H, THESE SCIENTIST FELLOWS! You'd think they'd be satisfied once in a while, wouldn't you? But no! They take my perfectly marvelous milk—and make it still better by hom—homog—homogenizing it. (I never will learn that word!)

Homogenization simply means that the cream has been all broken up and mixed evenly through every drop of the milk, so it just can't separate. I have to admit that it does wonders for the flavor, all right! It's a sight easier to digest, too, so that bouncing babies will be bouncier than ever on this food. AND—it's irradiated—chock-full of that necessary Vitamin D.

And listen!...only a cent more than ordinary milk! Tell your Borden man to start leaving it tomorrow, or call BITtersweet 8600.

LOTCH AND LOTCH OF BUTTERSCOTCH!

Yessirree, swirled all through Borden's creamy, smooth, vanilla ice cream is loads of delicious, runny butterscotch syrup. It's a new twist on a store-fountain sundae you can serve at home as is, without raising a finger for the special effect! Just ask for Borden's Butterscotch Rocky Road Ice Cream.

Stop off for the "Home Treat" package where you see the Borden Ice Cream sign. It comes in pint packs at economy prices, so let your appetite be your guide!

MILK-BOTTLE MAIL

A Borden customer ran into difficulties, as he tersely reported in this milk-bottle note: "Milkman, if your legs are not broken, please leave milk upstairs, as ours are."

BE A PIE QUEEN JUST FOR TONIGHT! Or every night! And so simple too. Just come bouncing into the dining room with a plump, golden-brown beauty filled with None Such Mince Meat, oozing with spicy goodness from all its 20 luscious ingredients ... and the title will fall into your lap!

That None Such formula is a prized Borden secret, so don't look for None Such goodness anywhere else. And as the very nicest time to serve mince pie is always right away quick, why not plan this treat for tonight?

MOTHER GOOSE ON THE LOOSE

Hey! diddle diddle, I'm fit as a fiddle,
I live on the finest of food;
The special pet of a Borden "vet"—
Since I'm Borden's, I've GOT to be good!

LITTLE—BUT OH, MY! The things you can do with the compact new half-size, half-price can of Borden's Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk!

This new baby-size holds 7½ ounces—just enough and no more for oodles of uses. There isn't a speck of waste—and no need of opening a big can, either! See how thriftily you can use it in many of the "Magic Recipes" that come with every can, either the large or the small size.

Just to show you, here's a slick recipe for the chewiest, tenderest macaroons you ever ate—and it calls for just one of the new half-size cans! Lookit!:

COCONUT MACAROONS

⅔ cup (1 small-size can) Eagle Brand
3 cups (½ lb.) shredded coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla (optional)

Mix Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and coconut. Add vanilla, if desired. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes or until a delicate brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 30.

Remember, this recipe is made for Eagle Brand. Be sure to use it for best results.

Ring down the curtain on this week, and don't peek under it! I'll have a whole new show for you very shortly—don't miss it!

WAR FINANCE.

The 7 billion dollars the President yesterday asked congress to vote him to help England will bring the outgo in the fiscal year 1941-'42 to more than 20 billion dollars. Every one knows that it is going to be boosted much further. But 20 billion is a figure to keep in mind. In 1918, fighting the kaiser on a much higher price level, with 4 million under arms and a large expeditionary force, our expenditures amounted to 19 billion dollars. If we do no more than carry out present plans, we'll spend as much as we did in the year we fought the world war to a conclusion.

Twenty billions is a figure easily remembered for another reason. That is the amount by which expenditures will exceed government income between now and the middle of next year. In other words the government between now and June, 1942, will spend all its revenue and 20 billion dollars besides. Those are Mr. Morgenthau's figures, and they assume that we won't fight.

Senator Wheeler said on Tuesday that if the war lasts any time and we get in it, the debt will rise to 100 billions. This appears to be an understatement. Bernard Baruch estimated that if the world war had gone on the cost to the United States in 1919 alone would have been 35 billion dollars. But the world war was fought with $17 rifles and $5,000 airplanes. Now we shoot with $100 rifles and drop bombs from $200,000 planes. Gen. Marshall, chief of staff of the army, told the senate committee last year he would need 100 billion dollars to duplicate Germany's war machine. We would want a bigger machine than Germany's if we were going to try to lick theirs.

If war with cheap equipment was approaching a 35 billion dollars annual basis, war with equipment of the present standard must cost at least twice as much or 70 billion dollars. That would be equal to the combined incomes of all of the people of the United States last year.

To produce materials for war on such a scale would require that the consumption of goods by civilians be reduced to the barest necessities. If only one-third of the expenditures were paid for in taxes, it would mean the socialization of all incomes above $3,000 and heavy burdens on all others. At the end of the war we would have a busted nation, factories capable of turning out only war supplies in great volume that were no longer needed, and a debt of such a size that inflation could not be avoided. Even if we should succeed in destroying the strongest nation in Europe, we would destroy ourselves in the process. War means the destruction of the republic, win, lose, or draw.

SENATORS AND THE LAW.

On Feb. 10 the Supreme court handed down several decisions which said in effect that anybody in this country can feel free to picket anybody else provided the picketing is not "enmeshed with contemporaneously violent conduct." Just a kick in the shins doesn't count. The right to picket, the court said, cannot be denied merely because of "a trivial rough incident or a moment of animal exuberance."

One of the cases decided was that of the Swing Beauty parlor of Chicago. The proprietor thought that the court had gone a little too far and asked for a reconsideration, but a few days ago the court rejected the request; so that's the law.

The mothers who tried to picket, among others, Senators Glass and Lucas during the debate over the 1776 bill and were arrested and fined for so doing must have rubbed their eyes in amazement when they heard the news. If the law is what the court says it is, then it was Mr. Glass, not Mrs. Dilling, who should have been given a ride in the patrol wagon. If a union can picket a shop where it has no members, provided the pickets indulge in nothing more than a little animal exuberance, surely a lady can kneel in the hall of the Senate Office building to plead for the life of her son.

The court said that a union cannot be enjoined from picketing a business establishment even when it has no members there and no quarrel with the boss. It ought to follow that Mr. Glass has to permit ladies, who have something to tell him, to say it whether he values their opinion or not. It can hardly be argued that a lady has less right to express herself on a public question to a public official in a public building in the nation's capital than she would have to pursue a purely private advantage in front of a private business establishment on the streets of Chicago.

Mrs. Dilling ought to invite Mr. Glass and Mr. Justice Frankfurter to tea to enable the judge to explain the law to the senator.

A BLOCKADE OF RED TAPE.

At the recent annual meeting in London of the London, Midland and Scottish railroad Lord Stamp, chairman of the corporation, denounced the bungling by burocrats exercising their wartime authority over British railroad operation. As one example he cited the fact that without consulting each other several government departments made simultaneous demands for service over a particular line to the extent of three times its capacity.

At another meeting Sir W. Reardon Smith, who controls one of the largest fleets of cargo ships in Great Britain, charged that governmental red tape was strangling the shipping industry. Civil servants from the government bureaus have stepped in and displaced shipping executives of ability and experience in the operation of the lines, he said.

These two complaints may go a long way toward explaining why the British, with ample supplies of shipping and the markets of the world open to them, should have had to introduce such strict rationing of a number of foods. The Nazi submarine and bomber blockade may not be so effective, but government muddling is reinforcing that blockade after the foodstuffs are landed.

The lesson, however, does not seem to have impressed itself on the British government. Its answer to the expected intensification of the blockade is to place the shipbuilding industry under government control.

Burocracy proliferates during wartime, which is a principal reason why war is so expensive. It is not as if Prime Minister Churchill's genius will now be applied to building ships in the race against the Nazi submarines. Mr. Churchill, for all his energy, will not be able to devote much time to the problem of speeding shipbuilding. He has too many other tasks. He must delegate the authority, and the only people to whom he can delegate it under a scheme of nationalization are politicians and burocrats. Whoever is placed at the head of the scheme, the bulk of its execution must be left, not to men like Mr. Churchill, but to survivors of the Baldwin and Chamberlain régimes, the same men who failed to prepare Britain to meet her present tasks in the days when Mr. Churchill was a voice in opposition, magnificently right but shamefully ignored.

Our own burocrats are not neglecting the opportunity to widen their control over industry. As the strains of the armament program show themselves and the cry is raised that the government must take over, the people of this country will do well to reflect that the men who are asking the authority are the same men who have bungled Mr. Roosevelt's domestic program during the last eight years.

THE LITTLE FLOWER HAS WHAT HE ASKED FOR.

Some 900,000 New Yorkers have been getting the sniffles tramping in the slush. The slush is there because Mayor La Guardia decided to let the sun save his street cleaning appropriations, and his constituents are walking because his pals in the C. I. O. have tied up Manhattan bus transportation with a strike.

The Little Flower, meanwhile, has been down at Washington devising ways and means of protecting the draftees from the ladies in trailers. He comes up for reëlection this spring, but right now his prospects of a national defense job appear more hopeful than those of another term as the reform mayor whose budgets have made Tammany Hall look like a bunch of pikers.

The Dies committee says that Michael Quill, the director of the strike, is a communist stooge. Mayor La Guardia's own American Labor party kicked Quill off its ticket in the last election on the ground that he was getting his orders from Moscow.

The bus strike is regarded as in the nature of a warm-up. The real fight is coming in a few months, when it is predicted that an effort will be made to present Comrade Stalin with his second subway system. The first one is in Moscow.

The city of New York bought the subway lines recently and on that occasion the Little Flower announced that nobody could strike against the government and that since the subway workers would be civil service employés, the city wasn't going to give them a closed shop union contract. That is one of the few sensible remarks he has made in a long and noisy public career, but whether he can make it stick is a question.

If he can't, he has no one to blame but himself. Thruout his administration labor violence has flourished in the city of New York. His police have stood by and seen their comrades beaten by rioters, knowing that if they so much as used a nightstick the mayor would have them up before the trial board. Picket mobs have been permitted to close factories and the mayor has intervened belligerently to force employers to accept whatever terms unions were willing to offer.

It is not surprising that communists should have luxuriated in such favorable soil. It would be surprising if they hadn't. The Little Flower asked for it and now he has it, right in his lap. As for his sniffling burghers, they shouldn't expect any one to step in and wipe their noses for them. Consistently they have gone to the polls and have supported radical candidates and radical programs in the nation. If their communists have come home to roost on the bus routes and in the subway, it is only what they should have expected.

THE ILLINOIS MILITIA NEEDS PLANES.

Now that the Illinois National Guard has gone to Camp Forrest and other training centers the only force available for maintaining public order in emergencies is the recently created state militia.

This is largely a skeletonized force at present, but its commander is Gen. John V. Clinnin, who had a fine combat record in France and has been dealing all his life with citizen soldiers. If he gets proper coöperation from the public and the legislature he will soon build an organization capable of performing any tasks given it.

In his requests for appropriations to equip the militia Gen. Clinnin has asked for a modest sum to establish an air force. He wants, it is understood, a two motor plane suitable for transport duty and two training type planes. He intends to commission 10 flying officers to handle them.

The general has no intention of training flyers for combat. The planes are intended primarily for transport duty in emergencies. It is natural that the commander responsible for the performance of his hastily recruited force should want to get to the scene of trouble in person as quickly as possible. The utility of the lighter planes for observation work where floods or other natural disasters have blocked railroads and highways is also obvious. Gen. Clinnin should be given the appropriation he asks.

Editorial of the Day

MAYBE THE LAUGHTER IS "ON ORDER."

[Des Moines Register.]

The soviet union is planning to embark on a new plan—a 15 year plan, this time—and soviet scenario writers and film directors are meanwhile accused by Izvestia of leaving the "fun" out of comedies. Five out of six new pictures, says Izvestia, are devoid of humor. "They run from laughter as from a cannon shot!"

The dispatches don't say whether Izvestia thought it merely poor judgment on the part of the cinema authorities, or whether charges more serious are involved. Is there a suspicion of sabotage? Are the enemies of the people once more at work?

It is not an idle question. When the original five year plan was launched nothing was overlooked by the planners. There was a fixed quota for the number of chess players to be developed at the end of the period.

So perhaps there will be a laughter quota in the new 15 year plan, following upon Stalin's announcement some years back that the clouds have passed and life is now "gay" in soviet Russia.

Unfortunately, soon after that announcement the purges began and life ceased to be either gay or otherwise for considerable numbers of Russians. Perhaps now people must start to be gay again or take the consequences.

Either gay or Gay-Pay-Oo, so to speak.

The late John Buchan [Lord Tweedsmuir in British official life] was a great nature writer as well as a teller of romantic tales about pukka sahibs. Many passages in his adventure stories are incomparable descriptions of landscape and wild life, observed by a mystical temperament. His Scottish background gave him an affinity for northern scenes, and in his last story, "Mountain Meadow," published posthumously, we find him dealing with subarctic Canada in the Mackenzie river region.

* * *

Buchan seems to have been "fey" [clairvoyantly aware of approaching death] when he wrote "Mountain Meadow." The book is surcharged with a feeling of imminent doom. It also deals in an exalted way with the courage that conquers death. This mood has been characteristic of England's war attitude.

* * *

An introduction to "Mountain Meadow" by Howard Swiggett supplies a key to the originals of Buchan's heroic adventurers. Richard Hannay is cut much to the pattern of Sir Edmund Ironside, the British general. Sandy Arbuthnot, otherwise Lord Clanroyden, is a composite of Lawrence of Arabia and two of Buchan's classmates at Oxford. Sir Edward Leithen, the central figure in "Mountain Meadow," may be taken to represent Buchan himself.

* * *

The Buchan romances are strange books, with an appeal to learned schoolboys and adventurous philosophers. We have often found them a blessed antidote to modernism in fiction.

INCOME TAX LULLABY.

Go to sleep on mother's arm,
Sweet credit for dependents!
Your daddy's shouts must not alarm
The first of his descendants.

The table's strewn with papers;
He talks about the hour of doom
And cuts the strangest capers!

He yells that Mr. Morgenthau
Is nuts. Those guys! He'll choke 'em!
And what is item 4, and how
Can they think up such hokum?

Your daddy's hair is all unkempt,
His pencil's gnawed to chips;
I married him, but never dreamt
Such words would cross his lips.

So go to sleep, my pretty child,
I'll drown the noise with humming;
Remember, when he sounds so wild

The Line Book in London.

An excerpt from a letter from William F. Mooney, former county building reporter for the City News bureau, who is now with the Canadian forces in England, to a friend in Chicago:

"The Line Book occupies the center space on the mantel. During inspection this morning a lieutenant picked it up while we were all at attention and started to read parts of it. He asked permission to borrow it, and I was glad he didn't keep us standing while he read the whole thing."

Mooney, a gunner with the 1st Surrey regiment in London, is billeted with a private family, with 14 other soldiers. Gladys Ryan.

Bigger Business for Borglum.

Your comment on Gutzon Borglum's great stone faces [March 10] at Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills, and Stone Mountain in Georgia reminds me that the sculptor once appeared before the national conference on state parks, under the wing of Senator Norbeck of South Dakota, to urge the creation of similar "memorials" in every national park and every state park where there exists a suitable rock formation. At the close of his dogmatic declamation Mr. Borglum immediately left the meeting, which was fortunate because the subsequent comments of the presiding officer, Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times, were memorable for their caustic brevity.

Buckshot, O. R. S.

THERE WILL BE TUNNELS.

There will be hard and tragic days ahead;
Days when we feel the cherished spark of light
Has been imprisoned in the caves of night,
When it will seem as tho all hope has fled;
Perhaps, then, it will help us to recall
Dark tunnels we have plunged thru on a train,
How blackness like a cloud around has lain
To shut away the sun as does a wall.

We had faith then the light would shine;
Knew, tho smoke choked our throats and stung our eyes,
That past the darkness there were clearing skies,
That light would surely follow fog's decline;
There will be bitter days ahead and gray;
The world has need of men serene and strong
Who know that tho the way seems black and long
The tunnel of the night leads on to day.

THE NATION'S HEALTH.

ARE we as a nation becoming more or less healthy? Let us look at the 1940 figures which are now available—in part.

Apparently we are about as well as our information and our intelligence permit. There is, of course, a natural curiosity about disease. It represents a longing for the truth. Some contributions to our stores of data are made by the daily press. The public schools supply a goodly amount.

All in all, our experience during the milestone just passed is gratifying, inasmuch as the mortality was somewhat below that of 1939. This was due largely to the fact that children's diseases recorded new lows. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, and measles caused approximately one death per 100,000 of population. Whooping cough—thanks to the increasing employment of preventive vaccination—has likewise diminished.

We continue, however, to face diarrhea and inflammation within the intestinal tract as important sources of trouble. But even these have lost much of their terror as the rate today is about half what it was a generation ago.

Tuberculosis is slightly less powerful in its attack altho the percentage of decrease is small. It may be that our "go-getter" tendencies lead to the exhaustion of human batteries. Then, too, some of us will insist upon working all day and playing half the night. We all take in the germs at some time or other and we throw them off only when resistance is high.

The widespread campaign of education among pregnant women—advising them to consult only skilled physicians—seems to be successful. Childbirth, which should be one of the safest natural procedures, depends upon proper care during the period of development and great skill on the part of the attending physician at the time of delivery. It appears safe to say that unfavorable results were 10 per cent under the preceding year.

More emphasis, however, must be placed upon safeguarding the lives of those who are likely to become sufferers from kidney, heart, and blood vessel disease. We must recall that a greater number reach the decades when degenerative disorders will be encountered frequently. But no change for the better can be anticipated until we learn that rest, the avoidance of overwork, and the shunning of useless worry will preserve life. The integrity of the circulation governs longevity. Arteries will become brittle and hearts will fail from overloads. It is our way of living that needs reconstruction.

Little wonder that we revert to public instruction as the means of warning against ailments that would undermine physical well being. We must continue to teach the simple rules of good hygiene.

Many fields remain to be conquered and medical scientists are striving constantly to achieve new goals. Fatalities from infantile paralysis are definitely fewer and no serious epidemic marred the record of this last year. Mechanical respirators have aided materially in bridging over the interval when breathing fails until it can be restored.

Some time we will find the cause and then the disease will disappear—let us hope. Just now there is reason to believe that the malady is spread via water—either that used for drinking or that from swimming pools, lakes, or ponds. It has been shown that chlorination [as routinely used] will not destroy the virus.

All in all, 1940 paid tribute, in health dividends, to the progress of the healing art.

EATING COFFEE BEANS.

M. W. writes: What will happen if one eats about a handful of roasted coffee beans daily?

REPLY.

You will confront the digestive tract with a formidable task. Furthermore, even tho the material is well chewed, some intestinal irritation may follow. Some of the caffein will be extracted and absorbed, with its normal stimulating effect. Two or three cups of the brew would be far less harmful.

THE NORMAL DIET.

T. Y. writes: How many calories per day are required by the average person?

REPLY.

It all depends upon the amount of exercise. A normal adult, weighing 150 pounds, should ingest about 2,400 calories daily. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a typical diet.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 28.

1. If you encountered a stile while on a hunting trip, would you be most likely to Shoot it Swim it Climb it Eat it.
2. A man employing a hod in his daily work would most likely be a Carpenter Bricklayer Plumber Electrician.
3. A chukker should remind you of Polo Golf Baseball Hockey.
4. Which type of plane has the right of way at an airport Army plane Ascending plane Passenger plane Descending plane.
5. Axminster should remind you of a Famous cathedral Floor covering Wrist watch Artist.
6. A few weeks ago I gave you the problem of getting two freight trains past each other when one was headed east and the other west on a single track. Each train is one-half mile long, but the siding is only one-quarter mile long. Today I want you to get the trains past one another and then have them reassembled as they were originally so that the caboose is at the end of each train. Use the diagram below for reference.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

STARVATION IN EUROPE.

Jackson, Mich., March 9.—Does America not understand that the diseases which will grow out of universal starvation in Europe will be no respecter of persons, but will spread their destruction in our country as well as in Europe? Do Americans believe that peoples robbed of all vitality by starvation and disease will turn against their conquerors in revolution?

The trouble is that most Americans, no matter how keenly they feel their own responsibility and that of their country, do not know what to do about the food crisis. The Roosevelts themselves are divided on the issue. Mrs. Roosevelt Sr. sends volunteer help to the Finns, but her son refuses to look the universal misery of Europe squarely in the face. His envoys go forth on all sorts of information seeking missions, but none are sent to examine the food conditions of Europe.

Only Herbert Hoover offers action that all Americans may take. He asks that all who believe that the innocent European democracies be fed write to the National Committee on Food for the 5 Small Democracies, 420 Lexington avenue, New York. Thus the voice of America will rise in a national demand that food be sent to the starving. Hoover proposes sending only small quantities at a time, perhaps a two week's supply. This will be distributed by a neutral agency. The governments of the nations receiving help will themselves pay for the food. If any Nazi attempt is made to seize the food, all relief will stop.

The plan will be put into action if and when the voice of America rises loud and clear enough for our government and the British to hear it.

RACHAEL M. SMITH.

FROM THE REV. MR. EVANS.

Chicago, March 11.—Anent Dr. Charles T. Holman's remarks:

His British bias should not be judged too harshly. He was born in Cheltenham, England, and was educated in Canadian universities. All of us, and especially those of us who are of British ancestry, feel the sting of British suffering, but a theology professor of Dr. Holman's standing normally displays disciplined restraint and very much better taste.

And then his reference, apparently to me, as an ecclesiastical Charlie McCarthy is not so bad. Charlie is interesting and a welcome relief from professional boredom. Such relief may save more souls than a good many of Dr. Holman's lectures on pastoral theology. I'll take my stand with Charlie. JOHN EVANS.

VICARIOUS EXCITEMENT.

Chicago, March 10.—I have just read the letter written by "Discouraged," who says he has been rejected by the Canadian air corps due to defective eyesight. He says that he "craves excitement" and wants to get into some of the action over there. May I suggest that he visit Hines hospital and talk to the armless and legless and sightless men there? Perhaps he will then be willing to stay at home, marry, and raise a family. W. A. C.

UNFAIR TO BROKEN LEGS.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 7.—It seems rather strange, inconsistent, and unfair that one may deduct damage to an automobile from his income tax, but cannot deduct damage to his person or to his family. If I break my car I can deduct the expense of fixing it. If I break my leg I cannot do so.

Why should a family trying to get along in this world be forced to pay income tax on income that is all going to pay doctors, hospitals, and nurses?

An automobile accident is avoidable but sickness can only be classified as an act of God.

Since congress is about to change the income tax laws, let them get on this one. J. H. BELL.

PROFITABLE VENTURE.

Peoria, Ill., March 7.—England is certainly getting good returns on the investment she made when she outfitted her king and queen with 40 trunks of clothes and sent them here on a good will tour.

MRS. B. A. MCVEY.

SADNESS OF FOUR FAREWELLS.

Chicago, March 10.—Four of the best pals a gal ever had volunteered and were inducted in the army this morning. What a lonesome pal they left behind! Here is one time I envy them and wish I were a fellow and could tag along as water boy anyway.

At least I can correspond with them, give them the gossip from the neighborhood and club, and in return each one has promised faithfully to write me all their interesting experiences.

Here's hoping the year will pass quickly and they will all come back safe and sound, not only my friends but all the rest of the boys, too. EVELYN D.

ABDICATION.

Dunkirk, Ind., March 7.—It is a grave injustice to congressmen of the future for the present congressmen to abdicate. In fact they have no right to so mutilate our three distinct branches of government. What a terrible travesty on American democracy! A SUBSCRIBER.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problems a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self addressed envelope will expedite handling.

TERMS OF WILL.

Evanston, Ill., March 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man makes a will [1] naming a trustee as sole executor and said trustee neglects to settle the estate—altho some of the heirs are destitute—and does not foreclose on mortgage or otherwise obtain settlement altho interest has not been paid for seven years.

2. What steps can heirs take to compel him to attend to the matter and to give them an accounting of what he has done with funds collected so far? Is there any legal authority who has jurisdiction in such matters?

3. What per cent of a $20,000 estate can a trustee collect as a fee?

4. Can he collect fee before estate is entirely settled and [5] is this fee based on the amount the estate pays heirs or on the money originally invested in estate?

In this case the estate consists principally of mortgages and the properties have declined to such an extent in value owing to deterioration that the original mortgage investments cannot be recovered. Also if one engages a lawyer to attend to a property settlement case and before he has done much on the case he obtains employment with a concern which keeps him so busy that he has no time to attend to it further and finish it, [6] can one demand a release from the contract? K. W.

1. These words do not make sense. He could name an executor and provide that after closing the estate the property would go into the hands of the trustee. It is not clear whether this is what you mean. We could advise to better advantage if the wording of the will were before us.

2. The first step would be to ask the clerk of the Probate court to bring pressure to bear on him to close the estate.

3. Depends on the extent and quality of his services.

4. We are not in a position to say that this is impossible.

5. Both could be considered.

6. If you can prove that he is not performing his part of the agreement then you are not obliged to perform yours.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

JOINT PROPERTY.

Chicago, March 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband and I, owning everything jointly, would like to know if we could make one joint will?

2. In case of the death of one, will the will still stand?

3. Is it valid if written in long hand?

4. Without the services of a lawyer, would it be legal? L. L.

1. If it is literally true that all of your assets are in joint tenancy then a will would not be necessary, but since the assumption may prove erroneous the will might be a reasonable precaution. The will would have no effect as to joint tenancy assets.

2. See 1.

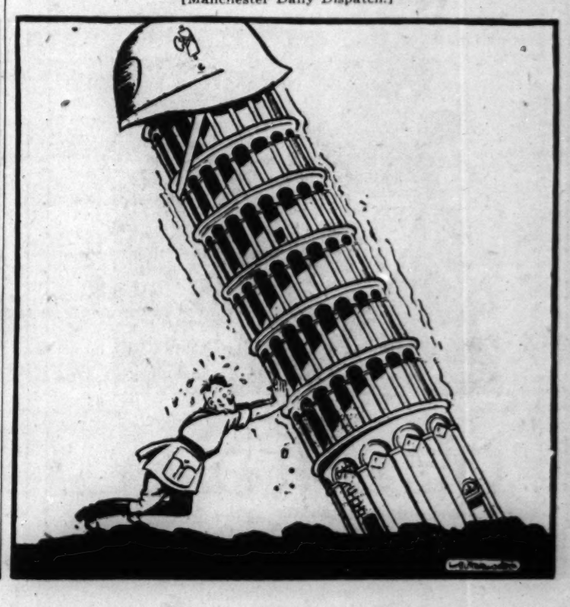

3. It would be legal as far as this point is concerned.

4. A lawyer is not necessary if you know how to do the job. But ordinarily dispensing with a lawyer on so important a matter is poor economy.

How to Keep from Worrying

by DALE CARNEGIE

You've worried over something in the past 24 hours, haven't you? Did it do you any good? Did it help you solve the problems that are worrying you? Of course it didn't. No problem was ever solved by worrying.

William H. Meadowcroft, who was private secretary to Thomas A. Edison for a fifth of a century, said he never saw Edison worry. Work? Yes. Worry? No!

Let me give you three rules I've found helpful in combating worry:

(1) When you're confronted with a problem that worries you, don't keep going over and over it ceaselessly. Face it once and for all and come to a decision. Most worry is caused by indecision.

(2) Having made your decision, leave it alone. You won't always make the right decision, but any positive action is usually better than no action at all. Do not make the mistake of never expecting to make a mistake.

(3) Decide where thought ends and worry begins. Remember—worrying is not the same thing as thinking. Clear thinking is constructive. Worry is destructive. There is a division line between constructive thought and destructive worry. Find it—and get on the right side.

Worry is the great enemy of relaxation. Once you have learned to substitute cheerful relaxation* for tense worry, you will have learned one of the most important secrets of successful living.

Dale Carnegie

*Many people find that stopping to light a cigarette helps break the pattern of disturbing worries, helps them to relax. If you are among these people, try a friendlier, pleasanter cigarette—the new Old Gold—enriched with a special imported tobacco of rare, fragrant little leaves.

Years ago, the makers of Old Gold secured a good supply of this tobacco from the eastern Mediterranean. They aged it patiently for mellowness, and now they've added it to other golden aromatic tobaccos to make a smoother, pleasanter tasting blend—the newest triumph of America's oldest tobacco merchants!

So next time you relax, enjoy a new Old Gold—now ready for you in the same familiar pack!

COUSIN REVEALS APPELT'S STORY OF LOVE KILLING

Fugitive Believed to Be in Chicago.

The love triangle killing of Joseph R. Lorenz was laid at Walter Appelt's door last night by Appelt's cousin, according to T. P. Sullivan, superintendent of the state police.

Sullivan said that the cousin, Herbert Schultz, 28 years old, admitted that Appelt confessed shooting Lorenz when Appelt visited the Schultz farm in Shelby county Tuesday morning.

Chicago police were so certain that Appelt had killed his rival for the love of his wife, Waneta, 28, that Sergt. George Brady already had obtained a warrant charging Appelt with murder from Judge Charles S. Daugherty in Felony court when the cousin's story was disclosed.

Story of Shooting.

Sullivan said that Schultz told Lester M. Taylor, assistant chief of the state police, and Sergt. Richard Piper that Appelt said he shot Lorenz in the back and watched him fall. Appelt said that he fled, according to Sullivan, without ascertaining that his victim was dead.

According to Sullivan's story, Appelt used a .22 caliber rifle and threw the gun away south of Bloomington while driving to the Schultz farm.

The shooting occurred about 9 p. m. Monday, near Lorenz's home in the Malden Towers apartments at 4521 Malden street. Appelt reached the home of Schultz's father, Helmuth, early the next morning and left his car there.

The younger Schultz then drove Appelt to Shelbyville to consult an attorney, but the attorney advised him to seek legal counsel in Chicago. Schultz drove Appelt on to Decatur, where Appelt is believed to have taken a train for Chicago. Sheriff Frank Howse of Shelby county released Schultz, whose home is a few miles north of Appelt's old home in Effingham county.

Believed Hiding in Chicago.

Police were convinced last night that Appelt is in Chicago. They were watching the apartment building in which Mrs. Appelt and her mother and daughter live at 2124 Hudson avenue.

Mrs. Appelt, an attractive brunet, said she would be unable to give any testimony to aid her husband in case he surrenders. She will appear before Judge Rudolph Desort today with her attorney, Norman Becker, to ask custody of her daughter, Marcella, 6, who is in technical custody of her mother, Mrs. Ida Koontz. Appelt has praised Mrs. Koontz at previous divorce hearings as an ideal mother-in-law.

Francis Donohue and Ollie Karwoski, chief investigators for the coroner, with Capt. John Peterson of the Maywood police, sought Appelt yesterday at the home of his uncle, Rudolph Appelt, 1617 South 3d avenue, Maywood. The uncle said he had not seen Appelt, but promised to call the police if his nephew comes there.

Lorenz, a divorced chemical engineer 46 years old, had been engaged in a romance with Mrs. Appelt for some time. She said they had planned to marry as soon as she could divorce Appelt.

Zion Clerk Pleads Guilty and Gets Year for Rape

John Kemman, 28 years old, a clerk of 2705 Elizabeth avenue, Zion, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of rape and was sentenced by Judge Ralph J. Dady in Lake county Circuit court to serve a year in the penitentiary.

FIRE ROUTS FLAT OCCUPANTS.

Occupants of three apartments were driven to the street last night when fire broke out in the basement of the building at 2026 21st place.

On W-G-N Tonight

A show filled with laughter, rhythm, melody and drama is in store for W-G-N-Mutual listeners on In Chicago Tonight from 7:30 to 8 o'clock this evening. Comedian Joe Cook, star of "It Happens on Ice," which opened at the Chicago Stadium last night; Mary Jane Yeo, 16 year old Chicago skater-singer-actress-musician from the same show, and Patricia Ellis, formerly of the movies and now headliner in the show "Laff, America" at the State-Lake theater, will be co-stars.

Joe Cook.

In salute to St. Patrick's day, which is just around the corner, a play of the Irish rebellion, "The Fugitive," will be presented. John Larkin and Fran Carlon will play the leads with Willard Waterman and Marvin Muller rounding out the cast.

Harold Stokes and the W-G-N orchestra and the W-G-N chorus directed by Robert Trendler will provide the musical setting. William A. Bacher is the producer.

POLICE HUNT LINK TO JOIN CLEWS IN MURDER OF GIRL

Kansas City, Mo., March 12 (AP).—Authorities pushed an ever-widening search tonight for small pieces of evidence they hope will lead them to the sadist who hammered and butchered Lelia Adele Welsh in her bed last Sunday morning.

Red-eyed from lack of sleep, Police Chief Lear B. Reed said he had "the general picture of the crime" and needed "only those few small pieces to complete the whole."

The former FBI agent refused to elaborate beyond a reiteration that the "definite and positive clew" he mentioned yesterday still exists.

He added, however, that cigaret stubs found in the 24 year old girl's bedroom indicated the killer might have pursued his brutality leisurely. The stubs were added to previously disclosed clews—the railroad hammer with which Miss Welsh was struck a skull shattering blow, the kitchen knife with which her throat was slashed and a section of her hip cut away, and the pair of small cotton gloves, discarded with the piece of flesh some distance from the Welsh's south side residence.

REPORT CANADA SEAWAY TREATY ALMOST READY

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—A new agreement with Canada on the long delayed St. Lawrence seaway and power project was reported in the final stage of negotiation tonight.

Once the agreement is signed, President Roosevelt is expected to submit it to congress as an emergency defense measure.

With strong opposition groups preparing to fight it there is increasing belief that the President will seek approval of both houses of congress by concurrent resolution rather than risk failure to muster the necessary two-thirds vote for ratification of a treaty. A concurrent resolution requires only a majority vote.

Details of the new agreement have not been disclosed but it was understood it would include a 130 million dollar credit to Canada.

$30,000 VERDICT GIVEN BABY SUING DAIRY COMPANY

A verdict awarding $30,000 to 13 months old Sandra Marie Welter, 708 Wesley avenue, Evanston, was returned late last night by a jury of seven women and five men before Judge Harry H. Porter in the Evanston Municipal court.

The judgment was assessed against the Bowman Dairy company. Attorneys L. Sheldon Brown and Irwin Stolle and witnesses for the infant charged that she suffered lead poisoning from milk last April and is permanently disabled mentally and physically.

Testimony was given that the poisoning resulted from a quantity of white paint in the bottom of a milk bottle. The dairy company asserted the paint was not in the bottle when it was delivered. Sandra is the daughter of Fred S. Welter, a greenhouse worker, and Mrs. Ingrid Welter. They sued for $200,000 damages. The dairy company will appeal the verdict.

FINE 9 IN DRIVE TO REHABILITATE BLIGHTED AREAS

The city's drive to rehabilitate blighted areas was accelerated yesterday when Judge Erwin Hasten in Municipal court imposed fines of $200 each on nine building owners and tenants on charges of violating fire hazards and health laws.

Motions to vacate the fines were continued from two to four weeks to allow the defendants time to comply with the building requirements. Most of the defendants were colored.

U. S. TO ARRAIGN ASCAP OFFICIALS IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., March 12 [Special].—Twenty-six officers and directors of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers [ASCAP] will be asked to enter pleas in Federal court here tomorrow in the government's antitrust suit against them.

Victor O. Walters, special assistant to the attorney general, is expected to refer to a consent decree signed by ASCAP in New York last month in recommending action against them. Altho government officials have not disclosed terms of the agreement, it was reported ASCAP agreed to a fine of $24,000.

Federal Judge F. Ryan Duffy ordered that as many of the defendants as possible appear in court. He has said that 19 officials of music corporations named in the complaint may appear thru counsel. Two of the defendants are reported to be in Europe. Many widely known composers are expected to be in court.

Pair of Skates Would Brighten Life for Girl

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

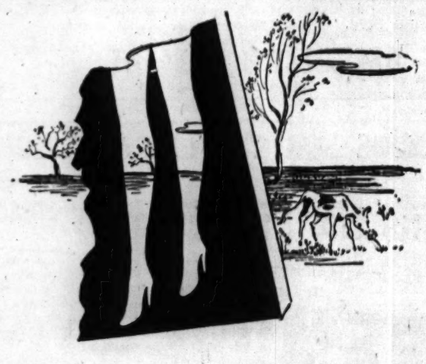

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Mary X., altho only 17 years old, is working to help support her widowed mother. They have a very small income, and are unable to afford any luxuries. After working all day, this girl needs some inexpensive form of recreation. She is particularly fond of roller skating. If any reader has a pair of shoe skates, size 7, which she no longer uses, Miss X. would be happy to have them.

A similar request for shoe skates, size 7½, came from another young girl. Her father deserted the family some years ago, and her mother is now almost completely blind and unable to do work of any kind. The girl, who is now 14, loves roller skating, but it is impossible for her to purchase skates.

If you can fill either of these requests, both of which come from the south side of the city, won't you let me hear from you? Roller skates are typical of the many items all of us save from year to year, even tho we no longer use them, because they are too good to be discarded. There are young people thruout the city who would be happy to have such items, so there is no reason to let them take up space and lose their usefulness.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Like the stories of sea monsters or local ghosts, which pop up regularly, the news gets around that women are going to abandon vivid nail polishes. Men, it seems, don't like it.

Well, men haven't liked it for a good many years, but women have continued to flaunt it in their faces—and if we're any judge the masculine wails have died down considerably. And the feminine acceptance of bright lacquer has increased. If it is going out of fashion we've seen no signs of it.

Nowadays nail polish can be darkish without being blood red. The deep muted tones are elegant. There is no costume color that can't find a handsome nail polish accent. There seems to us to be a new shade born every minute—and there are differences in them.

The old myth that polish is bad for the nails is pretty well exploded. If it were true most of us wouldn't have a nail left. But there is something to be said, if the nails are inclined to be bumpy or peeling, for the prepolish coat of a smooth, transparent base. The polish coat looks better, at least, and the danger of chipping is lessened.

Just recently a house that makes a whole flock of nail lacquers, all in beautiful oriental tones, has brought out a misty lacquer to be used as a base and also a finishing coat. The polishes have always had a great resistance to chipping, but with the use of the base their wearing quality is increased. The luster is heightened, too. The base and the lacquer are now sold together—an excellent plan that makes for longer lasting and better looking nail makeup.

If you've had polish trouble, such as cracking and dimming, be sure you try this. ELEANOR NANGLE.

1940 Hospital Needs Greater than Facilities

The need for hospital facilities, continuing a steady increase of recent years, exceeded the growth of facilities last year. As a result, beds of general hospitals in this country were 70.3 per cent occupied in 1940, the first time that occupancy has risen above 70 per cent.

This is revealed in a report by the council on medical education and hospitals, published yesterday in the Journal of the American Medical association.

Hospitals in Illinois reported their beds 74.3 per cent occupied last year. Only New York, Louisiana, and Rhode Island had higher occupancy rates. The report showed 24 states with more general hospital beds per thousand of population than Illinois.

Pointing out that the capacity of registered hospitals has practically doubled since 1918 and trebled since 1909, the authors of the report ask: "Where is the saturation point? What is a reasonable supply of facilities per given unit of population?"

General hospitals are emergency institutions, the report continues, and must maintain a reserve for emergency use. "The optimal rate of occupancy in general hospitals usually approximates 75 to 85 per cent," the report reads. "All agree that it varies and that a definite formula cannot be established—each hospital in each community is an individual case."

The number of patients admitted during the year was 10,087,548, an increase of 208,304 over 1939, the report shows. At the same time, the number of available beds in registered hospitals increased 31,219 over the 1939 total of 1,195,026.

Of 65 new registered hospitals in 1940, 27 were governmental hospitals which accounted for 28,543, or 91 per cent, of the new beds.

The net increase of avaflable beds was shared by 43 states and the District of Columbia. In Idaho, Massachusetts, Nevada, North Dakota, and Utah, where facilities decreased, the number of patients increased.

Patients entered hospitals at the rate of one every 3.1 seconds during 1940, and the average day found 1,026,171 persons in hospitals thruout the country.

"What shall I do about my young daughter, who has become interested in boys? Shall I let her have dates?"

"My young son has been smoking secretly, as I've forbidden him to start until he is 21. What shall I do?"

These, and many other questions, haunt my correspondence, and haunt me a little, too, I must confess, because it is so difficult to advise. And it is difficult to advise because children vary so much individually in their judgment and taste and independence; because their home background varies so; and their training and their experience in their contacts with the world vary so. All this means that what one girl of 15 might be permitted to do, another might not. What one boy of 17 might not be allowed to do, another might.

Altho faced with this dilemma on advice, I still must offer some suggestion.

My first piece of advice is don't be afraid to exercise authority. Our young people must be guided by us, but mix authority so richly with friendliness and understanding, and explanations where possible, that harmony prevails, at least most of the time!

The matter of companions should be gone into and settled. If a boy's present ones are not a good influence for him, his mother should help him to find others, perhaps by joining a boys' club, sport groups, or the Y. M. C. A. The smoking I would handle without punishment.

Coe Pettit, Pianist, Gives Diversified Program

The Chicago pianist, Coe Pettit, played a diversified program in the Auditorium Recital hall last night. It included on the one hand so heavy a work as the Bach-Reger Variations, and on the other such light and familiar pieces as the Paderewski Minuet and the Adagio of Beethoven's "Moonlight" Sonata. Mr. Pettit often phrased in a very musicianly manner and gave his tone a nice singing quality. E. B.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The first three days of this week I set down the most drastic change in the new Culbertson system, which is in connection with the responses to an opening two-bid. No longer is one honor trick the minimum requirement for a positive response; now the responder is permitted to name his suit if it is as good as Q J x x x, K x x x x, or any six cards. He needs nothing on the side. I went into the reasons and ramifications of this change at some length.

Aside from this the responses to the opening two-bid remain substantially the same:

When the responder [to an opening two-bid] holds one honor trick or less, and no suit as good as those set down above, he still should make the negative response of two no trump.

With adequate trump support for the opening bid and about one honor trick or more, he should give a single raise.

With strong trump support [x x x x or Q x x x], but with no ace, king, singleton, or void in the hand, he should give a double raise. This, it must be noted, is a warning limit bid showing trump support, but nothing else.

With one-plus honor trick, responder may bid any biddable suit, or raise if able.

With one and one-half honor tricks he may bid any biddable suit or jump to three no trump.

With two and one-half honor tricks he may jump to four no trump. This is a forcing response, but is not a conventional 4-5 no trump bid.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	2 no trump
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's two no trump was a decidedly risky bid, and got what it deserved.

West opened the spade king. South won and led a low heart to the queen. East won and returned his original fourth best spade; West cashed two rounds, then, in no hurry for his fifth spade, put East back on lead with the spade ten.

Declarer, meanwhile, had had to make two discards, and had let go two diamonds. East now returned his top diamond. Declarer won with the ace and led the club jack. West ducked, but took the next lead of the club queen. Now the last spade made matters very hot for the declarer. Dummy was down to the K-8 of hearts and the K-9 of clubs. If declarer had known about West's blank jack of hearts he could have reduced his own holding to 10-7 of hearts, diamond king, and club 10, but not having this knowledge, he was afraid to blank his diamond king. Hence, he let go the low heart. West now made a neat "blocking play." He led the heart jack. This smothered declarer's 10 spot and made another losing trick unavoidable. If he cashed dummy's clubs and heart king, one defender would take the last trick with the heart nine. The alternative play, however, was no more successful. Declarer, after winning with the heart king, led the club nine to his own 10, then hopefully laid down the diamond king. The queen still was guarded, however, and South had to concede the diamond jack, and a penalty of 500 points.

Land of Pirate Lore Scene of House Party

BY JUDITH CASS.

SWIFT winged Atlantic Clippers will make Treasure Island and the land of pirates' lore come true for a group of young Chicagoans. Down on Treasure Island, their island home eight miles off the coast of Nassau, the John T. McCutcheons are preparing to welcome some of their sons' friends who will be arriving there during the next week.

First of the young travelers to leave Chicago will be Miss Anne and Miss Margaret Stuart and John T. McCutcheon Jr., who will board a plane tomorro / for Miami and Nassau. The Stuart sisters will be repaying a visit which the entire McCutcheon family made several years ago to the R-D-S ranch—the Wyoming ranch of their parents, the R. Douglas Stuarts.

David and Roger Baldwin, sons of the A. Rosecrans Baldwins, will make the trip to Nassau from New Haven, where they are studying at Yale. They are expected at Treasure Island on Monday or Tuesday. Several days later the house party will be augmented by John S. Schweppe and Donald Balfour, who are classmates at Northwestern university's medical school.

The McCutcheons' youngest son, Barr, already is at Treasure Island. Shaw McCutcheon will join his family at the end of the month when he has a recess from his classes at Harvard.

Adelaide Chatfield Taylor's Engagement Is Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chatfield Taylor, formerly of Chicago, announced in Washington yesterday the engagement of their daughter, Adelaide, to John Marshall Kernochan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kernochan of Tuxedo, N. Y. and New York City.

The wedding is expected to take place during the last week in March at historic Bruton parish church, Williamsburg, Va. This is only a few miles from Yorktown, where the Taylors maintain a summer home, Nelson House, which served as Lord Cornwallis' headquarters at the battle of Yorktown during the revolutionary war.

Miss Adelaide Chatfield Taylor made her debut in Washington at a large garden party two years ago and later in the same season was presented by her parents to Chicago's society at a dance. She has been a student at Bennington college, Vermont. Young Mr. Kernochan is now studying at Harvard.

South Shore Country Club to Produce Its 30th Follies.

For 29 years members of the South Shore Country club and their friends have been enjoying an entirely home-produced musical revue each spring. This year's edition of the Follies, the 30th, planned for the nights of April 18 and 19, promises to be the same sort of a jolly and well done show.

"We like to hold up a mirror of burlesque and satire to the club officers," said Fred Herendeen, author of the show, at a luncheon in the Electric club yesterday. "We have fun with the president and with the board of governors, and sometimes with politics."

That the shows are successful is indicated by the size of the audiences they attract—about 2,000 witnessed last year's performances. Club members take part in the revue and also act as stage hands and orchestra, while the requisite number of union members stand by.

The Follies committees always have been proud of their glamor girl choruses. In addition to this year's quota of young beauties there will be a male chorus wearing red flannels that Mr. Herendeen picked up in New York recently.

Hunt for New Talent To Be Started Tomorrow.

Mrs. Paul M. Flagg is in charge of rehearsals. She will preside at a meeting to be held at the club tomorrow evening to discover new talent in the club, to organize choruses, and choose leading singers and dancers. The orchestra's feminine star, Miss Jane Connor, will be absent from this spring's production as she is to be married in June to William Sinnott. Jack Evans, whom the Follies members consider a top notch mimic, and many other old favorites will be back, however.

The Maehle twins, dancing stars of other Follies, will be absent, too, for they are being married tomorrow. Miss Lois and Miss Jean Maehle, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Maehle of Oglesby avenue, will be married in a double ceremony to Frank Rief Jr. and Charles De Vries. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock in Rockefeller Memorial chapel, and a reception for 400 guests will follow at the club.

Mr. De Vries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter De Vries of Luella avenue, will

Art Institute Shows Pottery 'Made for Ages'

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

During the last few years there has been a gratifying revival of interest in the crafts. One of the most popular of them is the making of pottery. Old and young alike are joining classes in this ancient art.

For them, and for all of us who enjoy seeing excellent examples of handmade objects there is current an exhibition of modern ceramics at the Art institute. The display, consisting of approximately 100 pieces of various designs and shapes, is the work of Franz and Marguerite Wildenhain.

The beautifully shaped objects include plates, pots, vases, tea caddies, and figure studies. Because they are of very highly fired stoneware they are much stronger than pottery and even without a glaze are waterproof and extremely durable.

Yet all the pieces are "thrown" or turned by hand on the potter's wheel, each being a unique product. They were made in Europe and this country during the last year. The shapes, while utterly simple, show great individuality.

Of them, Mr. and Mrs. Wildenhain say: "They are our own as our handwriting is our own. We have never tried either to imitate nor to copy forms or glazes of other cultures. We have tried to find our own expression for the ideas we had in our heads. We would like our pots to be good in 100 years without getting 'old fashioned,' and we would like them to be able to stand next to pottery of either Chinese, Greek, or Peruvian cultures and have as distinct and independent character as they have."

This ambition has been fully realized by these craftsmen. There is a timelessness about their work that makes it good, not just for today, but forever. Unity of material, form, and texture plus a subtle, earthy coloring make these vases and bowls and pots works of art.

Both Franz and Marguerite Wildenhain were students of the famous Bauhaus at Weimar under Prof. Walter Gropius from 1919 to 1925. Mr. Wildenhain was also a pupil of Kandinsky and Klee, while his wife studied with the sculptor, Gerhard Marcks.

Both later taught the art of ceramics while continuing their own careers as designers.

Mrs. Wildenhain has, for instance, created a series of new designs for porcelain which was made in Berlin before the war. In the current exhibit are a number of exceptionally fine, simple pieces of porcelain dinnerware: Plates in a delicate green-gray, white coffee and tea services, covered dishes, etc.

In 1933 these craftsmen were maintaining their own studio in Holland and at present Mr. Wildenhain is still there, waiting to join his wife, who is now teaching ceramics at the College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. Wildenhain has this to say on the subject of the colors which distinguish their ceramics: "Our choice of colors is more directed to a beautiful nuance than to a bright color. We think pottery that has passed a very high temperature [2,250 degrees Fahrenheit] ought to have some of the qualities of stones that have been fired by nature in the hot magma of the earth. Clay is an earthy material and so are the minerals and metals used in the glazes and they should not lose that character of having come out of the ground. In fact, they should accentuate the function of the fire, for that makes them what they are—stoneware."

Verbal Fencing.

Hitler telephoned Mussolini in Rome. "I called to see how things are in your Greek campaign," he said. "I am having trouble hearing you," answered Mussolini. "What did you say?" "How is your Greek campaign going?" repeated Hitler. "Are you in Athens yet?"

"I can hardly hear you. You sound as if you were a long way away," answered the Italian dictator. "Are you talking from London?"

Suggested Title.

With so many factory workers striking for more pay because of the extra hours of work needed for national defense, Alvin Hamburg thinks perhaps Saroyan will write "The Time and a Half of Your Life."

Lecturer Maugham.

One listened to the talk of one of the great literary figures of our time, Somerset Maugham, lecturing at Thorne hall on We Speak the Same Language and tried to find a phrase that covered its kindly, pleasing intonations, and the way each word carried its own weight in the structure of his sentences. No unnecessary words. No fine words to cover up absence of thought.

One of his references: Mencken in his book The American Language pointed out that the American and English language were differing so greatly that in time they would be separate tongues. Mencken has had to revise his opinion, Maugham said the American told him in Baltimore recently. The talk of the English is now filled with Americanisms, a result of the talkies.

"A commission ought to go to England from Harvard to record the last remaining Anglicisms before they are gone from the language," Mencken told the English writer.

Spelling Class.

"How do you spell cat?" asked the teacher.

"C-a-t," answered a child.

"How do you spell Gary?"

"W-I-N-D," was the prompt reply.

A Co-Worker Recalls.

Not many know that Sherwood Anderson, who died last week in Panama, spent many years with an advertising agency, Critchfield & Co. in Chicago. Sherwood put in most of one winter pecking out The Triumph of the Egg with four fingers, in a copy cubicle, Tom F. Blackburn recalls. His copy, with its many misspellings, would have shocked a Medill journalism student.

"Anderson believed in obeying the impulse, and once disappeared for weeks, turning up in the Ozarks. Several small advertising accounts which stuck to him loyally were his bread and butter. The matter of supporting his family was just a detail to him. He was the only man I have ever met who refused to be tied down by the exigencies of earning a living and by conventional social yokes and trivia. When he died in Panama last week I think he had squeezed life as dry as an orange of its possibilities."

45th Annual Meeting of Illinois D. A. R. to Open Here Today

Illinois Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their 45th annual state meeting today and tomorrow at the Stevens hotel, with "Patriotism Without Prejudice: No Retreat from Justice" as the theme of the program.

Mrs. Grace Lincoln Hall Brosseau, honorary president general of the national organization, is coming from Washington, D. C., to address this evening's session on "Termites of Liberty." The outstanding high school girl, who will make the annual good citizenship pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., next month as the Illinois society's guest, will be announced this evening.

A banquet tomorrow evening with William J. Cameron as speaker will be another highlight of the convention.

BY REA SEEGER.

From patent leather bags and footgear to the gayest of colored slickers and matching umbrellas, everything has been thought of to make a dark and rainy day easier to take. Clever designers have gone into a huddle and made rainy weather day outfits the bright spots of the calendar. Brilliant splashes bob merrily up and down along the streets. Transparent umbrellas in gay color reduce the traffic hazards, because the most meandering shopper can see right thru the top of the newest umbrella.

Raincoats are likewise as bright and cheerful. Many of the new models are made with attached hoods most appreciatively pulled over flowered spring hats by the owners when a shower starts. Some capes, too, are hooded and many shoppers prefer them as they completely cover the bulkiest of fur coats without the struggle of diving into sleeves. If the plain, one color umbrellas seem a bit too posterlike, try the floral prints or the polka dotted affairs. These have matching colored handles and ribs.

The collapsible umbrellas have been so perfected that they always work. Neatly packed and covered ready for instant service they are no longer than a short 12 inches, many times less.

Perfectly matched coats and umbrellas come in luscious and subtle colors. Made of a noncracking, noncrackling material that washes and retains the original tint and texture, these raglan shouldered coats with tie belts and snug fitting collars are as smart as anything in cloth.

Cream ivory, deep purple, a dubonnet red, and a universally becoming green together with a street brown and navy provide an excellent color range from which to choose. Many shoppers mix their coats and umbrellas as they do jacket and skirt duets, a slicker of green with an umbrella of beige or a slicker of blue with an umbrella of red.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, March 12. — The approach of the income tax deadline and the New York trial of Joseph M. Schenck have made Hollywood plenty tax conscious, and insiders are worrying about what Uncle Sam is reported to be planning in connection with war relief donations. There is the case, for example, of an actor who gave all of his earnings from a picture—something like $150,000—to a foreign relief fund. His gesture was obviously and whole heartedly generous, but before making it he made sure that the small fortune would be classed as a charity donation, and therefore not taxable as income. Now comes up a nasty point, and one that may trouble other stars who plan other donations; had the actor not given away his money he would have had to pay tax on it—perhaps $75,000, because he's in very high brackets. So, realistically speaking, he gave only $75,000 to the war relief fund and the United States government donated the other six bits. The Hollywood grapevine has it that the internal revenue department now regrets its own generosity.

RKO has torn up Lucille Ball's old contract and given her a better new one. Her next assignment is to appear with her husband, Desi Arnaz, in Jimmy Kern's untitled musical starring Edgar Bergen, C. McCarthy, Fibber McGee and Molly. . . . Alfred Hitchcock wants a new title for the flicker he's working on now. "Before the Fact." It's about another madman, and when your correspondent suggested "Over the Hill to the Bughouse" Mr. Hitchcock had him thrown right out of the office. . . . Russell Hayden, of Paramount's Hopalong Cassidy films, has been long termed by Columbia and his first lead will be a taxi driver in "One Way Street." Emmett Lynn, of the Tim Holt westerns, has been promoted to a rôle in "Parachute Battalion." Cliff Nazzaro, now double talking for Republic in "Rookies on Parade," goes next to the Warner lot to double talk in "Navy Blues." . . . One of the big laughs in "Sis Hopkins" is a shot of Jerry Colonna climbing out of a soapsuds bath. He starts drying himself and reveals a striped bathing suit. "The Hays office insisted," he explains to the camera. . . . Funny like in the Crosby-Hope "Road to Zanzibar" is when Bing tells Bob he must have malaria because his eyes are all red. Bob snatches a mirror, takes a look and says, "they aren't all red. Only the white parts."

Some people think inventors are crackpots, but for my money a midwestern chap who claims he has perfected an interplanetary ship is no chump. He has written to Carole Landis offering to take her to Mars —"A new, rent free empire in the sky." In a postscript he says he has made this offer to only one other person—Madeleine Carroll.

How do you get to be a director? Well, Gregory La Cava started in movies by making animated cartoons. Frank Capra started as a director. George Stevens began as a camera man. Mike Curtiz was an actor. Darryl Zanuck was a scenario writer. Mervin Le Roy was in vaudeville. W. S. Van Dyke spent 25 years on the stage. Rubin Mamoulian was a stage director. Henry Koster was a newspaper artist and critic. Hollywood's newest director—he got his contract from Paramount this week—is Ted Tetzlaff, one of the top camera men. Ted's final photo jobs are "Road to Zanzibar" and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye."

SYNOPSIS.

Don Barron, young American newspaper man, is sent to rescue Paul Darmal, a financier and an opponent of the Nazi régime. His plan is to let Darmal take his place on a Swedish boat and flee Germany but the Nazis learn of his plan and he is left in Germany to figure some other way of getting Darmal out. Secret service agents shadow him but he manages to reach Darmal's hideout only to find Darmal has been forced to flee to another refuge. He meets Darmal's stepdaughter, Hertha, his granddaughter, Sigi, and Twysden, the local agent in their rescue plan. He distrusts Sigi as he has seen her a few hours before coquetting with Putteamus, a local Nazi official, but he accepts her offer to lead him to Darmal's new hiding place. Climbing over roof tops, masquerading in Nazi clothes, they reach an estate on the Baltic. Barron is shocked to learn it belongs to Putteamus and that Darmal is hiding in a lodge within the grounds. Sigi plans to attend Putteamus' party while Barron and party steal Putteamus' car and escape with Darmal to Denmark.

INSTALLMENT X.
UNDER SUSPICION.

"But you must come with us, Sigi." Hertha's anxiety was pitiful. "We can't leave her behind—Tony. . . . Mr. Barron, you see that? She must go with us, something must be arranged. . . ."

Don Barron said nothing, just watched Sigi. Twysden mumbled sullenly: "It might wreck the plan, Hertha."

"He's said it," Sigi mocked. "See, darling, unless I can slip out of that party, without being noticed, and at the exact minute they snatch Gottlieb's car, our timing breaks down. And everything depends on minutes. Besides a slip on my part would more than double all risks. No, it's better to leave me out. I'll join you safely enough tomorrow."

"But to leave you to the mercy of those brutes!" Hertha wailed.

"They're not brutes—yet. And I've looked after myself so far I can still go on doing it. Don't worry about me."

It was an odd statement, made with a queer, hard defiance. It was as tho she were conveying a hint to them as well as an assurance.

"But to leave you alone and unprotected in the midst of a—a drunken orgy!" Hertha shuddered.

"Even that," Sigi changed abruptly to her old maliciousness, "can be survived. Let be, Hertha. I'll make out all right." She looked quickly at Barron. "And there's no better plan."

"Miss Sigi's thought it all out," Don Barron supported. "I think we must do as she says."

Hertha's eyes widened and then dropped as she heard Don Barron side with Sigi, but her splendid self-control came to her aid, and she said quietly:

"Very well, since you're sure it's for the best, Mr. Barron. But it will definitely be Hjammerborg tomorrow, Sigi?"

"Probably noon—or after," the girl told her. "You should be there just before dawn. . . . . Any more questions? No, well, let's go and find grandfather."

Knust, who had posted himself in the woods to warn them of any approach, came back at Sigi's birdwhistle. He made Don Barron walk close to him as he led them back along the path, and he pointed out bearing marks as they went. Barron wondered why he had been selected until, in response to a comment, the strange fellow muttered: "Was sure you had a trained eye. Thank Moses and all the patriarchs for one man in the bunch, anyhow."

"Only when warmed up and not thinking. Too much of the hero, too, when there's a skirt about."

Knust led them to where the timber was more dense and tangled with bushes than usual. Parting a mass of branches he pushed his way thru a thicket of leaves until he brought them into a tiny dell. In this was a small hut, so old, so set about by bushes that it took a sharp eye to discover it even when in the dell.

They crossed, Knust tapped at the closed door and it was opened. Don Barron saw at last the man he had come to Germany to rescue.

Paul Darmal was a tall, emaciated old fellow, whose once powerful frame seemed to have been sapped of its forces in order to supply his remarkable head. His was a narrow skull, the features refined and severe, the eyes deepsocketed but intensely bright, the mouth tight and impregnable and the whole face dominated by an almost abnormally high brow. It was a face of power, intelligence and will, and almost priestlike in its aloof austerity.

He greeted them with an impersonal charm, altho he warmed a little at the affectionate delight Hertha showed at finding him again. He thanked them for undertaking such risks on his behalf, but said no word about his own privations and perils. Barron felt that he lived with a sense of destiny, and would accept everything as foreordained once he had made up his mind that it was inevitable.

He was, too, a man of obvious breeding and good circumstances, and Barron pitied him for the life he was now forced to lead after what must have been one of luxury. Yet miserable tho his shack looked, it was surprisingly comfortable inside, with its well furnished camp bed and bits of furniture, and exceedingly well stocked food shelves. Sigi seeing his eyes on these said:

"A born poacher, I'll bet?" Barron grinned.

"And other things, too," Knust put in. "An' not the only one of my kind hereabouts. Aye, or in Germany."

Don Barron wondered whether he included Sigi in his band. But there was no chance of further discovery. Knust had to deliver his goods to the schloss with the least possible delay, and get back to the town. And Sigi had to go with him. Hertha cried a little as she went.

"I know I shouldn't," she said, as she saw Don Barron watching her. "Germany today ought to have cured us of tears . . . but I just can't get used to dangerous partings with those I'm fond of."

Don Barron and Twysden reconnoitered the approaches to Putteamus' castle that afternoon.

Altho there was a marked bustle of life about the schloss itself in preparation for the night's celebration, the woods were entirely deserted. They were thus able to work out a good line of approach to the porch and to find a couple of silver trunked birch at a bend in the drive, which would admirably serve as a mark for the point where they would pick up Hertha and her grandfather.

Returning to their first observation post, they kept watch on the landscape for the rest of the day. Altho nothing untoward showed, they were able to note how strongly this estate was guarded.

The S. S. men at the lodge and pier gates never relaxed their vigilance, and when the guards along the dunes were to be changed, a full company of steel helmets left the guard post at the base of the dunes. Sentries were stationed every hundred or so yards, while motor cyclists linked them together. Then, just before dusk, they saw a line of big gray destroyers of the most modern type go sliding across the darkening sea toward Sweden.

"Sigi's right about the open Baltic," Don Barron said to draw Twysden. "Not even a fast motor craft would stand much chance with those fellows around."

"No—I suppose not," his companion mumbled.

"Don't feel so confident—in theory or the lady?"

"Do you?" Twysden evaded.

"This is only my second day; I'm still in my stage of universal suspicion. You've known the family longer."

"Not so long. I'd met Hertha at a dance or so before, but not Sigi before this assignment cropped up."

"Not a dancer, perhaps?"

"Well, not of my parish. She seems to have romped with a more political crowd."

"Nazi and all that?"

"One presumes so from present connections. She's no easier to find out things about than to know. Her habits are as secret as her mind, and you know yourself that shuts you out with a cold wall of malice."

"Malice? Proof if any?"

"Don't you feel her jeering mockery, too?"

"Some people guard themselves that way."

"Quite. And she certainly has something to guard."

"Herr Oberst Gottlieb Putteamus, eh? Just what's the lowdown there?"

"I'm still guessing. Putteamus has a weakness for smart dolls—particularly the cold, brightly brittle kind. He's a queer fish himself—especially fish. He's cold and sharp and lacking in red blod, I'd say. Anyhow, can that connection make us feel happier?"

Don Barron did not answer that, but said: "How did she get to know him, and how long?"

"How do I know? She probably got her claws into him at some party beer-swill. And not so long back—Putteamus' doves are a quick changing flock. Anyhow, for weeks now she's been the smile he most wears in public."

"What does Hertha feel about it?"

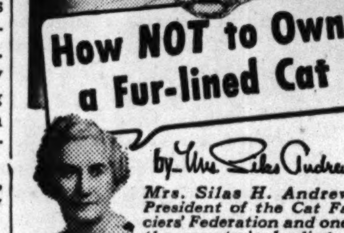

"She's too loyal to say a word—and maybe too unworldly to realize what it means. She's not easy in her mind, that's plain. But that's mostly because she's anxious about the safety of Darmal—and Sigi's taste in boys does not make that seem so healthy. And yet she trusts her; won't hear a word against her."

How NOT to Own a Fur-lined Cat

by Mrs. Silas Andrews

Mrs. Silas H. Andrews, President of the Cat Fanciers' Federation and one of the country's leading cat authorities, feeds her 22 cats on Puss 'n Boots every day.

● Never leave your cat to its own grooming devices. In licking herself, a cat swallows loose hair—which may clog the intestines with fatal results.

Never feed your cat "just any old" food. Give her a steady, balanced diet: Puss 'n Boots. This health-giving, bone-building cat food is made from tasty, whole, fresh-caught fish. It abounds with the vitamins that produce pep and energy and with those mineral salts that effect clock-like regularity. Puss 'n Boots is kitty's dish.

Conrad Story Makes Pretty Good Picture

Good Morning!

I'm not familiar with the story by Joseph Conrad from which this picture has been adapted, and have heard from those who are that it runs none too true to the original. But, as it stands, it's a well played and staged affair, photographed against authentic backgrounds, and dealing intelligently with the bunch of psychopathic humans who are the main characters.

Hendrik Heyst, embittered by his encounters with the "mad dogs" of civilization, has taken refuge, all alone save for his Chinese servant, on a little South sea island. . . .

Because he is a kindly gentleman and there seems nothing else to do about it, he permits his retreat to serve as sanctuary for a persecuted little traveling pianist, Alma.

When strange and evil "Mr. Jones," his handy man, Ricardo, and his powerful, dull witted and devoted servant Pedro, appear on the island to work deeds of darkness, Heyst and Alma regain their faith in the underlying rightness of things thru common peril, which met, as it is, engenders common respect for each other. . . .

Mr. March, always able, is an interesting and believable Heyst. . . . Miss Field—Curley's wife in "Of Mice and Men"—is a tyro, but a charming and intelligent one. She reminds me so much of lovely Marguerite Snow. [Have I said that before?] Other rôles are all colorfully depicted.

The film was well directed and most of the dialog is purposeful and credible.

So—let the Conrad addicts rave as they may. "Victory" as a movie is really quite some cinema of its sort.

See you soon.

A neat trick in baking tart shells is to fit the pastry over the bottom of deep muffin pans. Then there's no chance of humping and bumping during baking, and the shells turn out to be neat little cases for the cherry filling. This trick isn't quite so cute when applied to the baking of larger pie shells, the reason being that there isn't room to make a good looking builtup rim for the pie.

If pastry is well fitted into the pan, and isn't too "short," and if the baking temperature is right, we should be able to obtain a handsome, flaky crust without resorting to tricks.

HOW TO MAKE A BAKED PIE SHELL.

These proportions of ingredients will make two 9 inch shells: 2 cups flour, ⅔ cup lard or vegetable shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, about 4 tablespoons cold water.

Sift flour and salt, and cut shortening into the flour, using a pastry blender, or a knife in each hand. The fingers are likely to warm the fat, so it is better to use a mechanical blending device. If you work the shortening in until the mixture is in small lumps, you should get a flaky crust. If you want it mealy in texture, work it in more thoroly. Most cooks prefer flakiness to mealiness.

Sprinkle in the cold water, using just enough to hold the mixture together. Too much water will make the crust tough. One expert says "pretend that water costs money," when you add it.

Press the pastry together into a ball. It isn't necessary to chill it, but chilling is thought to produce a flakier crust, and certainly does make the pastry easier to roll.

Divide the pastry in halves and roll one half at a time. A pastry canvas and stockinette covered rolling pin are insurance against working too much flour into the pastry. Too much flour will toughen the crust, too.

Line the plate with pastry, fitting it smoothly. Trim overhanging edges, leaving enough pastry to fold back over the rim; thus building up the edge of the crust. Moisten the rim with cold water, turn the overhanging pastry back on it, and press together in scallops, using thumb and forefinger of each hand.

Prick the crust with the tines of a fork at intervals along bottom and sides. Do not make the holes too large.

Bake in a preheated 450 degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Cool the crust [it should be golden brown, flaky and tender], and add your favorite filling.

Graduation Dinner-Dance Is Held by Midshipmen

The Lake Shore club was virtually taken over by the navy last night when nearly 700 midshipmen in uniform, and their friends and families gathered for a graduation dinner-dance in the club's ballroom. Naval dignitaries, headed by Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district, attended. The middies will be graduated at exercises to be held tomorrow in St. James Episcopal church on the near north side.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Very Rev. Paul Roberts of Denver, Colo., speaking at Kimball hall yesterday, drew a parallel between life in Christ's day and the present. In his sermon on Lenten diciples Dean Roberts said: "It seems almost cynical to say 'fast' when half the world is starving; to pray when we are so helpless in the face of forces sweeping down upon us, to give when there is no money left. Yet our Lord, who told us to fast and pray and give, faced just a such a world.

"It is a popular idea that Lent is a stupid negative and that it has no up-to-date value in life's problems.

"If Lent had a value in Christ's life, then it must surely have a value in ours. Perhaps these are the answers to our needs, perhaps Lent is the one helpful thing."

Bossy Wife Is Preferred to Clinging Vine

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

It would seem, from a recent group discussion, largely that of men, that the modern bachelor's dream is not patterned after the independent, bossy type of women nor after the pattern of the overdependent femme. Nor is the married man's a dream life under either of the described circumstances.

It's the girl or woman who manages the middle course who seems best to match the current pattern. A fair amount of leadership is recognized as infinitely more commendable for teamwork than the overdependence. Our feeling is that women are adapting themselves more and more to the desired pattern. But, as one of the men contributed: "You do meet a lot of officious busybodies in skirts," he inelegantly put it. "We may have to tolerate them around business, but we don't have to marry them."

We argued that the most officious busybody wife in our experience never saw the inside of an office. She was just that way. The man responded: "I'll take back that reflection on the business woman, on the ones who've married, I mean. The real bossy ones don't get married."

The overly dependent woman met with a rather surprising rebuff in this conversation. We presumed, at least, that her worst fate would be to be classified as a trial, but more bearable than the bossy one. But it seems the bossy one can be escaped. The tentacles of the natural clinger are so gripping, she's not easily abandoned. However, she got a terrific ribbing for her emotional and mental lack of maturity which sorely tries the nerves. Each type, the bossy independent and the clinging weakling, were admitted to be trials beyond bearing.

"Financing National Defense" will be discussed by Jacob Viner, professor of economics at the University of Chicago, this noon at a luncheon meeting of the Council on Foreign Relations in the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer House. Police Protection Asked for Rummage Shop Sale.

The pre-Easter hat sale the junior auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital holds each year at the White Elephant Rummage shop always attracts such a crowd that Mrs. Roy L. Flannery, chairman of this spring's sale, has asked for a detail of policemen to keep order. The sale will be held tomorrow at 27 East Ohio street. Assisting Mrs. Flannery in directing the sale and also in modeling hats from some of Michigan avenue's swankiest millinery shops will be Mrs. F. Osborne Elliott, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., and Mrs. Edward Wolf.

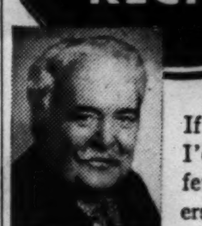

It's not a shortage of stock that will handicap the committee this year, but a shortage of space. Three truck loads of furniture, including many antiques, and mahogany beds and dressers, now are on view. They were presented to the shop by Mrs. A. Harris Whiting when she moved from her home to an apartment.

First Child, a Daughter, Born to the Ralph Woodleys.

The Ralph Woodleys' first child, born on Monday at St. Luke's hospital, was a birthday present for her mother, the former Charlotte Ellen Dabney Hallaren. The baby has been named Dabney Ellen Woodley, and from her initials her parents have concocted her pet name, "Dew." Mrs. Richard T. Debney of Los Angeles and Mrs. William T. Woodley of Chicago are the little girl's grandmothers.

"Bambi" is the nickname the Thomas Edward Wilders [Gene Manning] have given their first child, a son, born on Sunday at the Passavant hospital. The baby has been named for his maternal grandfather, Lucius Bass Manning. The Erskine P. Wilders are the baby's paternal grandparents.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

If I had my way, I'd sprinkle a few homemakers among those spending Uncle Sam's billions, to make sure of extra-economical buying. For few men shop as carefully as their wives. I was impressed by this recently when a group of club women told me they always bought Wilson's Tender Made Ham because it requires but 5 minutes per pound in the oven and so with no wasteful oven shrinkage they get about 25% more ham servings from Tender Made than from ordinary hams.

George Rector
Food Consultant, Wilson & Co.

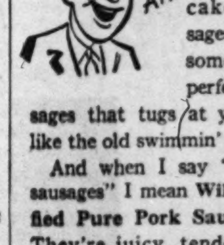

BROILED TENDER MADE HAM AND ORANGES

Cut oranges in half. Loosen the segments. Flavor with sugar, butter and cinnamon. Butter both sides of an inch-thick Tender Made Ham steak with Clear Brook Butter. Broil, together with orange halves, in a 400° F. oven. Remove oranges when brown. Broil ham 7 minutes on each side. Serve ham on platter surrounded by broiled oranges.

ST. PATRICK'S SUGGESTION

BREAKFAST THE AMERICAN WAY

Ask a hundred people to recall the most delicious breakfast of their childhood. 77 will say, "Griddle cakes and sausages." For there's something about perfect pork sausages that tugs at your memory like the old swimmin' hole.

And when I say "perfect pork sausages" I mean Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. They're juicy, tender, perfectly seasoned.

Looking over my recipe files at Wilson's yesterday I came across a favorite recipe, SAUSAGE PUFF.

Fry 1 pound Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. Dice ½ pound, reserve the rest. Arrange 6 slices of bread (crusts removed) in a greased casserole, sprinkling the diced sausages and some of the sausage fat over each layer. Combine 2 cups warm milk, 5 Clear Brook Eggs (beaten slightly), and ¾ teaspoon salt. Pour this over the bread. Lay remaining sausages on top. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for 1 hour. Serves 6 to 8 people.

NEW YORK CROWNS CHAMPIONS; ON TO CHICAGO!

3 Cub Youngsters Man Infield Posts.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 12.—The lineup with which Manager Jim Wilson will open the Cubs' 1941 exhibition season Saturday in Los Angeles probably isn't the one which will open the National league season exactly a month later. Nevertheless the ensemble which Wilson has nominated to start against the Philadelphia Athletics Saturday should give some of the veterans some food for serious thought.

Augie Galan, who is slated to open the season in center field, regardless of whether Hank Leiber signs in time, will lead off Saturday and probably will be at the top of the list in the National league opener in Wrigley field, Chicago, April 15.

Waitkus Gets Big Chance.

Ed Waitkus, the kid who comes from the shadows of Harvard's classic halls, having been born in Cambridge, Mass., will play first and bat second Saturday. During the first few days of practice Eddie seemed something short of the glowing bulletins on his play for Tulsa last season, but recently has been improving. His Oklahoma followers say he's a cinch to be the Cubs' regular first baseman this year and if he looks good against the A's it may be pretty hard for his admirers to get any one to bet he isn't ready for major league employment.

Lou Novikoff is slated to bat third Saturday and play left field. All indications are that this will be his assignment on April 15 and subsequent afternoons. The Russian strong boy has been too busy with this and that to display any baseball skill this spring, but no one is worrying about Lou's talents, once he gets his mind on his work. He is expected to become baseball minded after he finishes a $250 radio touch tomorrow night and a Rotary luncheon speech Friday.

Cavarretta to Bat Fourth.

And guess who is to be in the cleanup position Saturday? No other than that boyish veteran, Phil Cavarretta. In the intraclub games Phil has been busting the ball harder and farther than all the rest of the squad combined. He'll be in right field, mostly because Bill Nicholson doesn't feel much like throwing.

Bill Herman will bat fifth and this may be his spot when Skipper Wilson makes up his mind on the season lineup, which he knows he's going to change from the formula taken for granted for so many teams in the last few years.

Clyde McCullough will catch and bat sixth. Al Todd is not out of the picture as the No. 1 catcher, but Al's friends are suggesting that he hide Clyde's glove if Wilson gets to sending him into too many of the exhibition games.

Stringer to Play Third.

Lou Stringer will play third and there may be an end to all this challenge about his going to chase Herman out of action at second base, Lou's regular position. Stringer is a brilliant second baseman all right. And brilliant second basemen frequently in the past have found third basing a comparatively soft touch. We aren't saying Stringer will prove any more of a threat to Stan Hack than to Herman. But he's going to be around all season and his presence won't do any harm to either Stan or Bill in the matter of zeal.

Len Merullo will play short Saturday. Len has a hard job on his hands to supplant Bill Myers, but his appearance in the exhibition opener indicates that Wilson is going to give "young Jurges" a chance to show his mettle.

NOTRE DAME FIVE DEFEATS DETROIT IN FINAL, 56 TO 42

Detroit, Mich., March 12 (AP).—Notre Dame's basketball team put on a high powered show to close another successful season, defeating the University of Detroit tonight, 56 to 42.

Capt. Eddie Riska and Charley Butler a sophomore, together collected 31 points as the Irish started slowly but finished in a burst of speed for their 17th triumph of the season. They lost five games. It was the 14th straight Notre Dame victory over Detroit in a series that began in 1926.

Oshkosh, Wis., March 12 [Special].—The Oshkosh All-Stars won the National Basketball league championship tonight by defeating the Sheboygan Redskins, 54 to 36, in the third game of the playoff. It was Oshkosh's third consecutive victory in the playoff series.

MOON MULLINS—MOB SCENE

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, March 12.—Ted Lyons' first big league pitch, July 2, 1923, brought him a dollar. . . . When he set forth from his Louisiana home to join the White Sox a neighbor bet him his maiden pitch would be wide of the plate. . . . It wasn't. . . . No one felt disposed to question the decisions of the Green Bay Golden Gloves tournament. . . . The judges were Jug Earpe, Lavvie Dilweg, and Tom Hearnden, all former Packer football players. . . . When Napoleon Lajoie jumped the National league Phillies in favor of the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league in 1901 he signed for $24,000 for three seasons of work. . . . It was the all-time high up to that time in major league baseball. . . . Connie Mack is a patient gentleman, but his friends are wondering how much longer he can endure the eulogies heaped upon him at civic luncheons and banquets. . . . Justus Riek, captain-elect of the University of Minnesota golf team, has forfeited his final season of collegiate competition to become the professional at Hillcrest club in his home town of Eau Claire, Wis. . . . The Chicago Bears and Brooklyn Dodgers are negotiating for an exhibition night game at Ebbets field the week following the All-Star game in Chicago. . . . Aside from pitchers, five of the White Sox's prospective regulars this season will be players for whom Manager Jimmy Dykes consummated deals with other American league clubs. . . . The quintet is made up of Catcher Mike Tresh, First Baseman Joe Kuhel, Second Baseman Bill Knickerbocker, and Outfielders Julius Solters and Taft Wright. . . . New York Golden Gloves officials rate the squad they will send against Chicago's champions at Chicago Stadium, March 26, the strongest in the history of intercity competition. . . . Milt Olander, former Illinois football player and coach who is now president of the university's athletic board, has become a government $1 a year man in addition to his duties as personnel director for a Toledo glass company. . . . He has been named representative of the training within industry program, an important phase of national defense, for a district that includes all of Michigan and Lucas county in Ohio. . . .

Northwestern has the poorest facilities for indoor athletics of any university in the Western conference. . . . The basketball team is forced to use the Evanston High school court as its home base and the track athletes travel either to New Trier High school in Winnetka or to the University of Chicago fieldhouse across the city. . . . Reeves Peters, Big Six conference executive who assigns all football officials for games in that league, hereafter will name basketball officials as well. . . . In 1926, his first year in the big leagues, Mel Ott of the Giants drew one base on balls. . . . Today he is the National league's all-time champion with a total of 1,235. . . . Jap Davis, Duke full back who was voted the team's most valuable player last year by his mates, will be replaced in the Duke lineup next fall by his brother, Tom, who was considered the best forward passer on the squad last fall.

Headlines.

It's the ones who are tearing the world apart
Who make for headline capers,
But the people who hold it together
Seldom seem to get into the papers;
The wreckers, the killers, the pullers-down,
Get the heaviest sort of print,
But never a line about your friend or mine
Doing some lowly stint.

An all-night vigil beside some friend
Whose life is ebbing away
Never is looked on as worth-while news,
Such tactics just wouldn't pay;
It seems too bad that the big type goes
To those tearing the world apart,
While those who hold it together

PARLAY OF RAIN, FLU AND DRAFT FLOORS DYKES

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 12.—Rain—and influenza—boxed up the White Sox today, completely disorganizing Prof. James Dykes' baseball college. The able bodied members of the class banded together in the hotel lobby trying to figure a defense against germs which have struck again, the latest victim being Johnny Humphries, the ex-Indian who has been working hard in hopes of escaping the bullpen and attaining regular employment as a Sox pitcher.

Even Dykes complained about the germs and the manner in which he gargled his words was proof that more than his imagination was at work. The nurse, after ordering Humphries to return to bed with what the attending doctor termed a slight case of the flu, was more or less disturbed when a thermometer placed in Dykes' mouth notched 102 degrees. Dykes also was ordered to bed, but Jim declared he had too much work to do and would go to bed when he had the time to spare.

Lee Suffers a Setback.

Bulletins from the other sickrooms were both good and not so good, altho the latter were not alarming. Taft Wright, who was the flu's major victim, continued to improve after reaching a temperature of 104½. Bill Dietrich, who like the others is still breathing vapors from mentho? crystals and taking other remedies, is progressing satisfactorily. Thornton Lee was scheduled to be discharged this morning, but before he could get out of his room the nurse showed up with her little tattletale thermometer. Lee went back to bed, bemoaning the fact that all the work he had done to get into swell shape was being undone.

One of the things which makes it impossible for Dykes to consider a session for himself in the sick bay is his pitching department. He doesn't know any more than anybody else about the matter, but there is a possibility that John Rigney may be called for army service some time between now and next October. Dykes admits he is doing his reckoning on the basis that Rigney, winner of 15 games last season, might be yanked out of the pitching picture on short notice.

Dykes Seeks Fifth Outfielder.

It was learned today that Rigney has been treated in Pasadena each spring since 1937 for a chronic infection of the left ear cavity. His physician, Dr. Leland G. Hunnicut, said this ailment may prevent Rigney's passing his physical examination for army duty.

The Rigney case means that Dykes will have to carry one more pitcher than he figured on having when the May 15 trim deadline is reached. As in the past, he estimated nine would be sufficient. Picking 10 worthy of bimonthly big league checks makes his job that much tougher. Whether, even with his amazing judgment, he can find 10 is questionable but he seems to believe that with Humphries, Orval Grove, Jack Hallett, Joe Haynes and Orville Jorgens he might uncover padding for his standbys—Pete Appleton, Dietrich, Lee, Ted Lyons, Rigney and Smith.

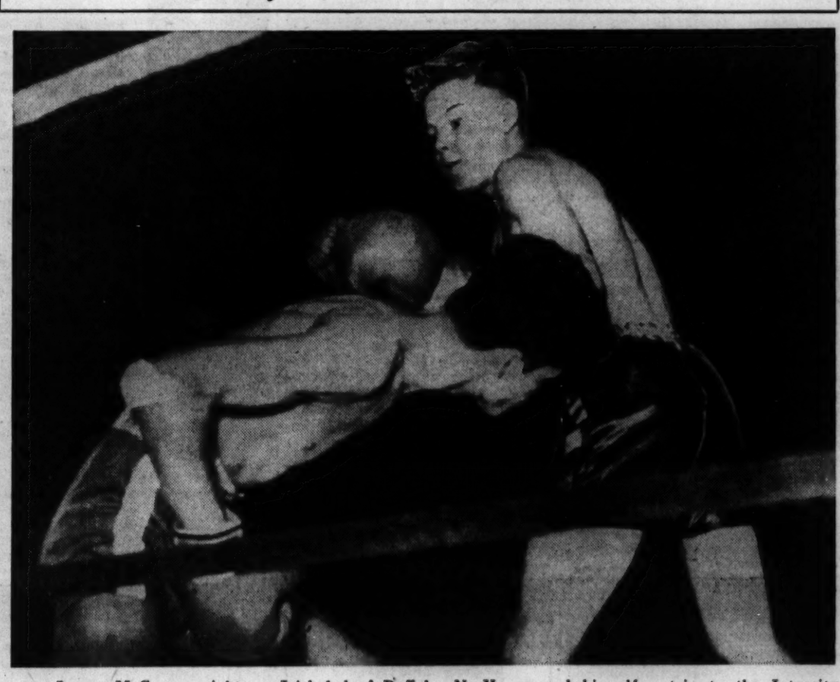

Dykes Seeks Fifth Outfielder.

If 10 pitchers are going to be retained Dykes will have to hurry along his promise to erase his name from the active list before May 15. He hopes to land a fifth outfielder. He also wants a complete second string infield, which he now has except for first base and three catchers. This, with 10 pitchers, excluding Dykes as an active player, adds up to 26, one more than allowed by the May 15 law. The solution for the 25 limit is a man who can play first base as well as the outfield, and this explains the rumors about the Sox intending to claim Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs on waivers.

Irish Boy Wins New York Title

Lester McGowan, right, an Irish lad of Buffalo, N. Y., assured himself a trip to the Intercity Golden Gloves matches in the Stadium March 26 when he pounded out a victory over Warren Dean of Richmond, Va., last night in the finals of the New York Daily News Golden Gloves finals in Madison Square Garden. SOMEWHERE OUT ON STADIUM ICE IS LI'L JOE COOK

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The loop moved west for nearly three hours last night, west to the Chicago Stadium for the local première of the musical skating production "It Happens on Ice," newly arrived from a successful five months' stand on Broadway. At least the theatrical corner of the loop was transferred to the Stadium. And there were those in the audience of 9,500 who enjoyed the evening's doings as they would have a typical musical comedy of 10 years ago.

Just to add to the nostalgia for these first nighters, one Joe Cook, long a favorite in vaudeville and musical comedy in these parts, lent his presence to the production, but the consensus was that his appearances were all too infrequent. The Cook constituents were regaled, however, by all of Joe's familiar props, including the red rocking chair and the oil burning stove and a typical Cook vehicle, combining the best features of a sea sled, a paddle wheel steamer, and a traffic island. This eccentricity is hauled by reindeer whose horns give out musical notes.

House Is Too Big.

"It Happens on Ice" was billed as a departure from the ice shows which have become so popular with Chicagoans. In the person of Cook and the variety of numbers, it does suit the musical comedy pattern, but there the comparison ceases, for it was evident last night that the cast was dwarfed by the size of the Stadium. Cook and the three vocalists—Richard Craig, Phyllis Colt, and Jack Kilty—found difficulty with the big building's acoustics.

Two newcomers who scored last night were Prof. A. Douglas Nelles, a Canadian with contortionist gifts, and Betty Atkinson, who was nationally famed as a baton twirler before adding blades to her répertoire.

Plenty of Comedy.

Comedy predominates the program, with the Four Bruises, a quartet of former English hockey players, setting the pace. Charley Slagle and Tommy Lee demonstrated again that they are the leading American rivals of the famed Frick and Frack.

On the artistic side, the show was balanced by the expert work of the Viennese Hedy Stenuf and Lloyd [Skippy] Baxter, two established favorites; the popular Caley sisters; Edwina Blades of South Africa; 16 year old Mary Jane Yeo; Cliff and Rona Thaell; Le Verne, who gave the best dancing performance of the evening in a Negro number called Jubilee, and Charles Hain.

Notre Dame Greets Leahy; Squad Opens Drill in Snow

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Notre Dame, Ind., March 12.—"He's a Notre Dame man!"

Three thousand enthusiastic Notre Dame students roared this greeting at noon today in the university gymnasium to Frank Leahy, class of 1931, who this afternoon took charge of Irish football in spring practice.

In response to this stirring reception, Leahy said, before introducing his assistant coaches:

"This is a trip back home. We hope with the guidance of the faculty, with good material, hard work, and with the support of the student body to produce a team comparable to those that have preceded. The student body is the 12th man on our team and it will be the best 12th man in the United States."

"We accept the challenge of this appointment. Perhaps we can make in a small way a return on the tremendous debt we owe our alma mater."

Rev. Cavanaugh Presents Leahy.

While floodlights of camera crews delineated the balcony at the west end of the old gymnasium, the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C. S. C., vice president of the university, and chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics, spoke introductory phrases that formally presented Leahy to the students. Father Cavanaugh said he would guarantee the support of the students and that he believed there would be a greater spirit than ever before.

Coach Leahy outlined briefly his plans for the football men who later in the afternoon went thru preliminary drills on snow covered Cartier field for newspaper photographers and newsreel men.

Leahy also paid tribute to Elmer Layden, who resigned as director and coach to become the commissioner of professional football, and to Layden's staff, Joe McArdle, Ed McKeever, and John Druze, Leahy's assistants at Boston College for the last two years, and whom he has brought to Notre Dame, then spoke to the students.

Retain Same System, Basically.

"Basically, we will teach the same system of football," Leahy told his audience.

Leahy does have at least two definite ideas which will distinguish the type of offense he teaches from that which Notre Dame men have learned for the last decade. In the days of Knute Rockne, and before the one second restriction on the shift from the T formation, the end was expected to handle one opponent, generally the tackle. The flexing end, shifting out or in tight [first demonstrated by Mal Elward, Purdue's coach, during his playing days here], obtained the proper angle for blocking and blocked without assistance from the guard or back.

"We expect to give the end, particularly on the strong side, help," Leahy said. "We have found that the strong side end [i. e., the end on the side to which backs shift] can not do the job alone. The weak side end has a better blocking angle and needs no help."

Leahy also will have his linemen stand up a half yard back of the line of scrimmage when they come out of the huddle. He will have all linemen shift in cadence with the backs and on certain plays you will see that the spacing between the linemen and particularly in the position of the tackles will be different than that taught by Rockne, Heartly Anderson, and Layden.

Has Psychological Value.

"When a lineman squats in position on the line of scrimmage he has time to inadverently tip off the direction of the play," Leahy explained. "There is less time to telegraph the play and, incidentally, it is less fatiguing to stand erect.

"Psychologically this shift is a tonic for the linemen, who, until the ball is passed are permitted to do the same things the back field men do. Fundamentally, all players would like to be ball carriers."

Leahy and his young men are prepared to work. Two hundred Notre Dame football players are awaiting orders. All will have their first test next October against the University of Arizona.

INTERCITY FOES MEET MARCH 26 IN STADIUM RING

Strongest in Years, Says Eastern Coach.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, March 12.—New York's eight Golden Gloves champions, who automatically qualified for the intercity bouts in Chicago Stadium on March 26 by their victories tonight, are:

112 pounds—Diogenes Leon, New York.
118 pounds—Lester McGowan, Buffalo.
126 pounds—Charles Davis, New York.
135 pounds—Johnny Green, Buffalo.
147 pounds—Charley Burley, Philadelphia.
160 pounds—Berlie Lanier, Philadelphia.
175 pounds—Louis Brooks, Philadelphia.
Heavyweight—Henry Allen, Philadelphia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—The strongest team of amateur boxers that has come out of New York in years was picked tonight to fight Chicago's Golden Gloves winners in Chicago Stadium, March 26. The coronation ceremonies, conducted by the New York Daily News, drew 14,144 spectators to Madison Square Garden.

Spike Webb, boxing coach at the United States Naval academy, who will have charge of the New Yorkers' preparations for the Chicago match, had this to say after the firing had subsided:

"We were strong enough last year to hold Chicago to an 8 to 8 score and I'm certain that we have a much better group of boys to work with this time. I think this is our year to break Chicago's monopoly on Intercity Golden Gloves success."

Last Victory in 1934.

The last time New York defeated Chicago was in Madison Square Garden in 1934. The score was 10 to 6.

Tonight's finalists, as well as 16 alternates, will go into training as a squad tomorrow afternoon. They will leave for Chicago a week later.

Heading the New York delegation will be an 18 year old Puerto Rican named Diogenes Leon, who can speak only a few words of English. Leon gave convincing evidence in knocking out Ralph McNeil of Newark tonight that he can talk adequately with his fists. The New York flyweight champion, a newcomer to Golden Gloves, has won all of his 37 bouts. When he squares off against Chicago's Harold Dade in the Stadium fans will see two of the greatest amateur flyweights in the world.

High School Boy Wins Title.

The New York team, made up of the best glove wielders along the Atlantic seaboard, hasn't a weak spot from the 112 pounders to the heavies. Coach Webb's problem will be to decide the personnel of the alternate division. According to the rules of Intercity Golden Gloves, New York champions are obliged to fight Chicago's champions. The alternates may come from any stage of the tournament.

Buffalo contributed a 135 pound champion to the New York squad. Johnny Green, a high school sophomore, knocked out Red Vernon of Washington in the second round after three minutes of the most furious punching the tournament developed. Green will encounter an opponent equally as aggressive and equally as schooled in ring fundamentals when he meets Chicago's representative, Tommy Campbell of Moline.

There's Work Ahead for Haley.

Jack Haley of Kansas City, whose thudding fists provided the highlight of the Chicago finals, will go up against a skillful boxer and a dangerous puncher in the Intercity featherweight match. Charles Davis of New York, who won an unpopular decision over Robert McQuillan of Buffalo, to earn his way to Chicago, gave an all around performance almost as impressive as the work of Ray Robinson in last year's New York finals. Robinson now is one of the leading professional lightweights.

New York will send two light

GOLDEN GLOVERS WON'T WASTE ANY TIME, SAYS BEHR

Coach Orders Boxing for Some Right Away.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago's Golden Gloves fighters were mustered into active service yesterday in preparation for the Intercity matches with New York on March 26 in the Stadium. From nearby and distant centers they checked in to the Illinois Athletic club, which will be the scene of their intensive workouts during the next two weeks.

Head Coach Johnny Behr was there to greet them, fortified with his assistants, Paddy Kane, Fred Caserio and Bob Howard. The boys got off easy yesterday, with only floor work, but beginning today there will be no letup until they're in perfect condition for this 14th annual clash between the two sections.

Only Three Veterans.

The squad is made up almost entirely of fresh material, only three members of last season's group being on the roster. These are Harold Dade and Ray Brown of Chicago and Ernie Nordmam of Omaha. It isn't taking the boys long to get acquainted, however.

The boys were eager last night for news of New York's squad, which emerged from the finals of the eastern tournament in Madison Square Garden. They had heard the New Yorkers were tougher than ever this year because a number of veteran fighters had been soundly beaten earlier in the eliminations.

Richard Menchaca and his Fort Worth teammate, Morris Corona, have been staying in Chicago since the Golden Gloves finals last week. Most of the other out of town boys had checked in by the middle of the evening, but a few more are coming this morning. The squad will be almost complete for this afternoon's drill.

Competition Will Be Keen.

Coach Behr plans to start the boys at sparring sessions unusually early this time. In fact quite a few of them will do a round or two this afternoon.

There will be stiff competition for places on the team of 16 which will do the fighting in the intercity matches. The struggle for positions in several of the weight divisions is wide open.

Welterweight Shows Punch.

The surprise of the evening was the defeat in the semifinals of Eddie Saunders, New York's brilliant welterweight, by Charley Burley of Philadelphia. Saunders, who has had only 14 amateur bouts, was puzzled by Burley's southpaw stance. The Philadelphian caught Eddie with a left to the body that put him down for the count in the second round. Burley carried on to the championship by whipping Nick Latsios of Washington in the final. A knockdown in the third round decided the outcome.

Philadelphia won the team trophy when Berlie Lanier outpointed Dudley Watson of New York for the middleweight title. New York placed second and Buffalo third among the 14 cities represented in the tournament. Results:

Obedience Test for Team Plan at Dog Show

BY BOB BECKER.

The annual dog show of the International Kennel club of Chicago, to be held March 29 and 30 in the International amphitheater, will feature several new and unusual events including an expanded program of obedience tests sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. Last year the obedience tests set a new national record with 70 entries.

THE TRIBUNE again will sponsor the regular obedience classes and award sterling silver trophies to the winners. But this year THE TRIBUNE has asked the officials of the kennel club to permit the introduction of a team event in obedience which will bring into action teams of four dogs and their handlers.

Work in Formation.

In this event, the first of its kind ever held anywhere in the middle west, the teams and their owners or handlers will work out certain exercises in formation. The routines of these formations have been perfected in the east and approved by the American Kennel club.

Miss Katherine F. Wellman of Topsfield, Mass., will judge this novel team event and also pick the winners in all the obedience tests. The trials sponsored by this newspaper last year were so large and attracted so many spectators that this year the show management has decided to install a special judging ring in one of the wings of the amphitheater where all obedience work will be done.

Dog show exhibitors who compete in the regular classes of this year's bench fixture will cut a melon of more than $11,400 in prize money, according to an announcement just made by the kennel club officials. This large offering is presented without any provisions or restrictions.

John S. Nash.

Winners will be awarded blue woolen sweaters, bordered in white, and trunks of a similar combination, each item bearing the initial "C." They also will be rewarded with an opportunity to represent the club in a series of intercity matches in the C. A. A. April 24.

Those accepting will have free use of the gymnasium and the services of Benny Yanger, the old Tipton Slasher, who is the club's boxing instructor.

Matches will be fought in the 15 year old C. A. A. ring, the ring in which such illustrious fighters as Barney Ross, Sammy Mandell, Bud Taylor, Earl Mastro, and Shuffle Callahan saw action when in their prime. All treated C. A. A. fans to many thrills by their display of skill and courage.

A special committee is behind tonight's show. Members include John S. Nash, C. A. A. president; Thomas Leeming, past president, and Dr. G. William Christoph.

Included in the list of officials are the finest in the land. The referee will be Phil Collins, third man in the ring at the first legalized encounter in Illinois in 1926 when he refereed the lightweight championship battle between Mandell and Rocky Kansas. Ed Hintz and Dr. Christoph will be judges, S. H. Darwent and Williams J. Dowling timers, and William [Pep] Kerwin announcer.

Hebron Bows to Waukegan in 20-18 Game

Hebron High school's 1941 quest for the state basketball championship came to an abrupt end last night. The defending sectional champions, who won their way to the finals in Champaign last year, were eliminated by Waukegan, 20 to 18, in the Waukegan sectional tournament. The victory qualified Waukegan to meet Sycamore in one of the two semi-final games tonight. Morton of Cicero will meet Dundee in the other contest.

Hebron appeared on the way to another victory against Waukegan, holding a 7 to 0 lead at the end of the first quarter. With only 30 seconds to play in the first half, Hebron enjoyed an 8 to 1 advantage.

However, Roger Tennyson and George Kerkorian each scored a basket, cutting Hebron's lead to 8 to 5 as the half ended. Waukegan was held scoreless until the 13th minute of the contest when Ed Pasiewitz sank a free throw.

Hebron still maintained its lead at the conclusion of the third period, 15 to 13. The teams battled almost evenly in the final quarter, then, with a minute and 15 seconds remaining, Jack Emmons, center, assured Waukegan of victory by sinking a field goal.

WILLIAMS AND PASKVAN ENTER TECH RELAY MEET

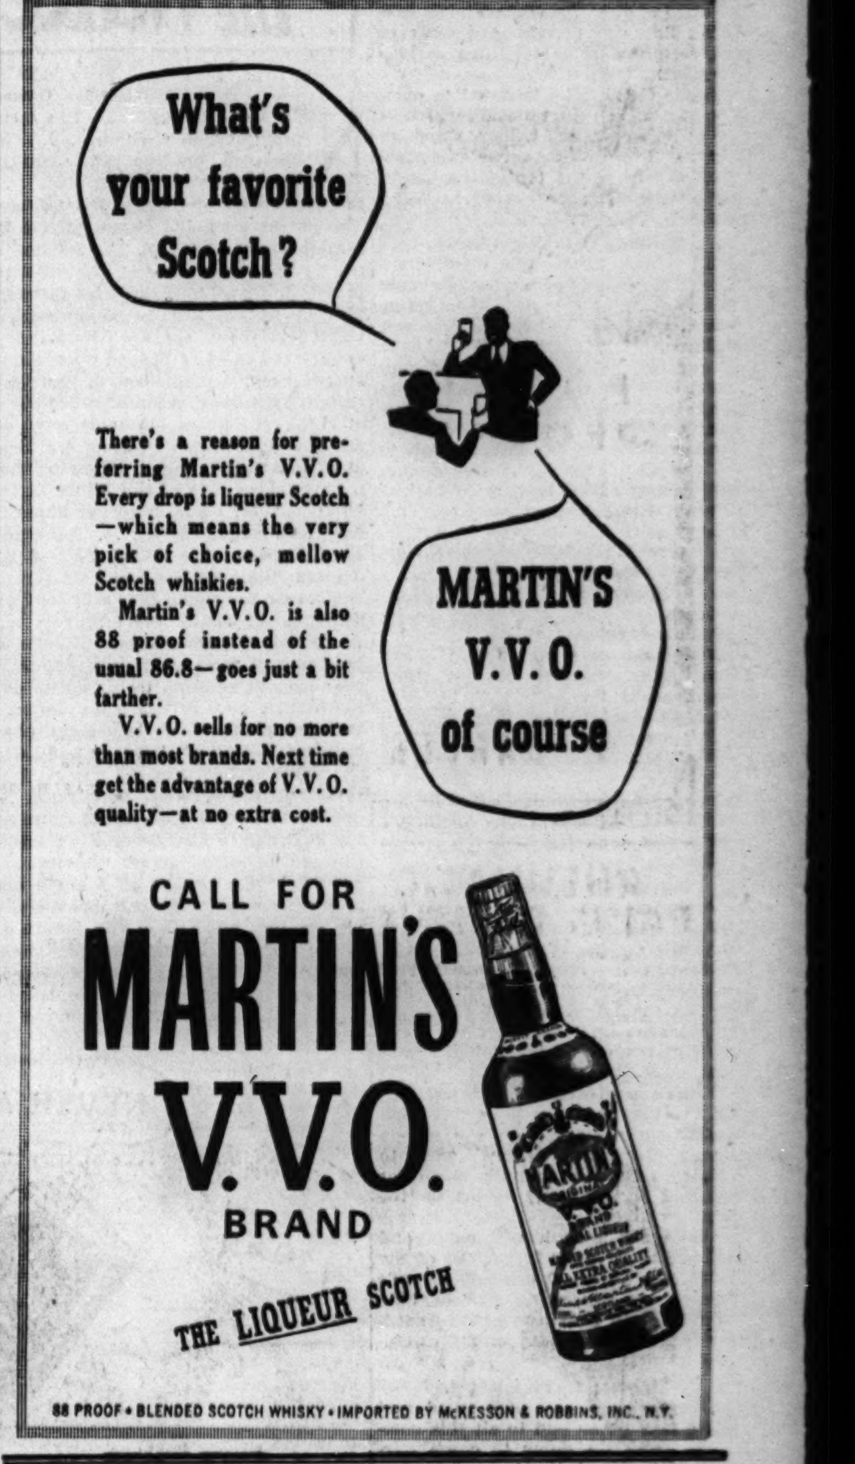

Bill Williams, University of Wisconsin pole vaulter, will return to Chicago Saturday afternoon, confident of gaining an undisputed championship which slipped from his grasp last year. Williams will be among the leading entrants in the pole vault competition of the 13th annual Illinois Tech Relays which will be held in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Williams, winner of the pole vault title in the Western conference meet last Saturday, shared the 1940 Illinois Tech championship with Harold Hunt of Nebraska, at 13 feet 9 inches. Williams' vault in the Big Ten meet was 13 feet 10¼ inches.

Another Badger star, husky George Paskvan, will be seeking the Illinois Tech shot put record. Paskvan was the winner in the Western conference shot put event last Saturday. He took second place in the event in the 1940 Illinois Tech games with 49 feet 8 inches.

Paskvan's rivals in the shot put will include Ed Rosensweig of Michigan Normal, winner of third place in the Central Collegiate meet at Notre Dame, and Hugh Rendleman of the University of Chicago.

James Smith and Don Smith, both dominate the high jumping event. James Smith is the defending champion. Another entrant in the event is Jim Ray of the University of Chicago.

They're Ready for the Big Test

Great Player, Tierney's Now a Great Coach

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

The mention of the name of Jack Tierney always recalls the amazing records of the National A. A. U. basketball championship team representing the Illinois Athletic club and the Barry council quintet of the old Knights of Columbus league. But these days you'll find Tierney, still possessing his winning habits, as head coach of the St. George High school basketball team and preparing to win the city and national titles.

Tierney, a member of the famous I. A. C. quintet which held the United States title from 1911 to 1915, losing only one game in the four year period, has directed the St. George seniors to the north section championship of the Catholic league. This accomplishment brought St. George an invitation to the national Catholic tournament which will be held in Loyola university gymnasium March 25 to March 30.

Must Hurdle Leo.

However, another task confronts the St. George quintet. Its immediate job is to attempt to win the Catholic league championship from Leo, south section winner and league defending title holder, in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th street and Michigan avenue, Saturday night. Leo, semi-finalist in the national meet last year, boasts a better record than St. George, but Tierney is not worried. There was a big smile on his face yesterday afternoon as his players sank basket after basket in a practice session on the De La Salle court.

The regular St. George lineup which Tierney believes is capable of capturing the city and national titles includes John Skene and Jack Dalton, forwards; Capt. Hank Hyde, center, and Danny Pecyna and John Nowicki, guards. Hyde led the St. George quintet in scoring this season, collecting 217 points. Skene finished second with 210.

He's a Busy Man.

Tierney is among the Chicago district's busiest coaches. He spends his mornings and afternoons in the municipal court as a deputy bailiff. Then follows his daily sessions with the St. George quintet and reading reports on the progress of his son, Mickey, now a student at Purdue university. Mickey formerly was a star member of the St. George team.

During Tierney's seven years at St. George the squad has won three north section titles and it will be making its fourth appearance in the Loyola tournament.

Beaten by Champions.

St. George and Leo are two of the six teams which already have accepted invitations to the tournament. The others include Trinity High of Bloomington, Illinois downstate champion, and Spalding of Peoria, runner-up; Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, and St. John's cathedral of Paterson, N. J., which has a record of 16 victories in 17 games this season.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Harry Craft's sixth inning home run with the bases filled was the most important of five hits made by the Cincinnati Reds in defeating the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 4, in an exhibition game today. With the Cardinals leading, 3 to 0, Southpaw Ernie White issued three walks. Then, with two out, Craft hit into the left field bleachers. Score:

St. Louis	000	210	001	4	7	2

FELLER HAS TROUBLE.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Bob Feller's wildness and Ray Mack's ninth inning error allowed the Yannigans to score five runs today and beat the Cleveland Indians' Regulars, 5 to 4. Feller's four base on balls forced in three runs in the first inning. Feller, Al Smith, and Ken Jungels limited the Yannigans to three hits. The Regulars touched Jim Bagby, Al Milnar, and Nate Andrews for seven.

BROWNS BEAT BEES.

San Antonio, Tex., March 12 (AP).—Eldon Auker, the St. Louis Browns' submarine hurler, pitched five scoreless innings, yielding only four scattered hits, today as the Browns beat the Boston Bees, 9 to 1. The Browns collected 13 hits off Wes Ferrell, Dick Errickson, and George Barnicle. Score:

Boston [N. L.]	000	000	100	1	11	1
St. Louis [A. L.]	032	301	00*	9	13	1

BIG HANK BUSTS ONE.

Lakeland, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Hank Greenberg hit the first pitch in his first time up in an intrasquad game today for a home run with two men on base, but it wasn't enough as the Detroit regulars dropped a 6 to 4 seven inning game to the recruits.

A Smiling Mungo Arrives at His Exile in Georgia

Macon, Ga., March 12 (AP).—Van Lingle Mungo, veteran Brooklyn pitcher, arrived here today from Havana, thereby crossing up those who have followed his temperamental displays since he came to the Dodgers 10 years ago.

Mungo, in coming to Macon, did just what Brooklyn club officials told him to do. He was fined $200 and banished from the Dodgers' training camp for drinking last Sunday.

"Every one expected me to go to my home in Pageland, S. C., and sulk," Mungo said. "Well, I'm doing just what they told me to do."

Mungo said he would train here with Montreal, a Brooklyn farm club, say nothing, and get in shape. He said he would pitch for Montreal this season, if necessary, adding he didn't think his pitching arm would be strong enough for regular service in the majors.

THIRD PIRATE PLAYBOY FINED $250 BY FRISCH

San Bernardino, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates disclosed today he fined a player $250 for failing to take training rules seriously. He declined to identify the offender.

"About 4 o'clock this morning he walked in," Frisch said. "It is the third time I have pinned a fine on a player at this year's camp. Discipline must be maintained. I have served notice the next offender will be fined $1,000 and be given a ticket home."

GIANTS WIN AGAIN.

Orlando, Fla., March 12 [Special].—The New York Giants concluded their series with Washington today by scoring the second consecutive victory. The score was 4 to 1. An excellent job of pitching by Hal Schumacher, Bob Carpenter, and Bill Lohrman was chiefly responsible for the triumph. Held runless in the first three innings by Sid Hudson, the Giants tore into Kendall Chase, the left hander, for two runs in the fourth and two more in the seventh.

New York [N. L.]	000	200	200	4	7	0

FIRST BOSTON HOMER.

Sarasota, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Stan Spence hit the first home run made by a Red Sox player at the Sarasota training camp this season while aiding Joe Cronin's Yannigans in defeating the Regulars, 3 to 0, today. Spence made it against Bill Butland in the first inning. The regulars made only four hits against Emerson Dickman and Herb Hash.

OKLAHOMA SETS EXAMPLE; PUTS BAN ON DEFICITS

People Approve Proposal 2 to 1 in Election.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 12 [Special].—Predictions were made today that many other states would follow Oklahoma's lead in adopting a constitutional amendment to outlaw state deficits. A congressman also proposed that the plan apply to the federal government.

At a special election yesterday, Oklahomans indorsed by a vote of two to one the program of Gov. Leon C. Phillips, debt hating conservative, who took office two years ago pledging economy for a state saddled with debt.

A Brake on Spending.

The product of some of the state's best legal minds, both lay and legislative, the amendment was referred to the people at a time when the state debt had mounted to about 32 million dollars in 10 years.

The amendment provides that the legislature cannot appropriate in excess of the average income for the three previous fiscal years without first levying new taxes to pay the bills.

An automatic brake is applied to spending. Revenues will be apportioned monthly to each division of government. Warrants cannot be issued for any department in excess of actual cash on hand.

Proposes Plan for Nation.

Representative Wesley Disney [D., Okla.] said he expected Oklahoma's action would touch off a corresponding movement that would be nationwide. He said he would introduce an amendment to the federal constitution, modeled after the Oklahoma plan.

"Unless we head off this orgy of spending," he asserted, "this country is headed for trouble that will adversely affect every citizen."

To prevent drastic reductions in operating costs and salaries in slack taxpaying periods, Phillips proposed to freeze current income taxes and make them available at the first of each new fiscal year.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—TORTURE BY TICKLING

LAUNCH NEW U. S. CHECKUP TO CURB AIR LINE CRASHES

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Robert H. Hinckley, assistant secretary of commerce in charge of aviation, said today a double check system of air line inspection has been introduced in an effort to prevent repetition of recent fatal accidents.

Hinckley said at a press conference that since the accident in which eight persons died recently at Atlanta, the 10 top ranking inspectors in the department had been assigned to conduct a 90 day checkup in addition to regular inspection services.

At the same time Chairman Jack Nichols [D., Okla.] said his house committee to investigate recent air crashes would inspect the scenes of six accidents, going to Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Centerville, Utah, and Lovettsville, Va. Fifty-four persons were killed in air accidents near those cities. Speaker Sam Rayburn appointed Representatives Herron Pearson [D., Tenn.], Richard M. Kleberg [D., Tex.], Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.], and Carl Hinshaw [R., Cal.] to work with Nichols.

BLAST INQUEST ASKS CHEMICAL PLANT SAFETY

A coroner's jury investigating the deaths of four men who were killed in an explosion Feb. 11 in the Edwal laboratories, 732 Federal street, recommended yesterday that the city appoint a commission of industrial chemists to survey chemical manufacturing plants and move those operating under hazardous conditions to less congested areas.

The jury also recommended the naming of a commission to determine types and quantities of mixtures permissible in pressure experiments, regular inspection of all pressure equipment, and installation of pressure tanks in reënforced concrete vaults or steel lined rooms. The Edwal explosion occurred in a pressure tank.

The jury, composed of six chemical experts, returned a verdict of death from undetermined causes after Dr. Edmund Lowe, president of the company, was unable to fix the cause of the explosion. Coroner A. L. Brodie, assisted by Deputy Louis Nadherny, presided.

A pair of black swans at the Brookfield zoo will be lonely for a few days. Karl Plath, curator of birds, yesterday took from them their five cygnets [baby swans] all less than a day old. The little swans, a dirty gray rather than black, have been placed in a brooder in the aquatic bird house and will be kept there until they are able to cope with the world and the weather is a bit warmer. The parent swans were given to the zoo a year ago by the Tribune farm.

Day by Day on the Farm by GAIL COMPTON

The Barnyard Theater

March 12, 1941.

A MELODRAMA that would have been hissed out of the 10-20-30 houses of the early part of this century was enacted at the farm the other day. The heroine strayed from the fold. She failed to be redeemed. The villain got everything he wanted and the white haired mother turned out to be a heel.

The scene of the play was the sheep barn. The characters were sheep—a mother, the little sister, the black sheep and brother of the little sister, and a second mother.

The Play Unfolds.

Little Sister had been happy and content with Mother and her little black brother until the mysteries of the outside world beckoned and she heeded their call.

Leaving her warm home in the corner of the barn, she staggered away to see what was behind the entrancing light that streamed thru the barn door. She teetered and wabbled thru the door and was awed with the sight of the world that opened before her. She stood and gaped for a long time and then turned to make her way home. But she lost her way.

In the meantime, at home, Black Sheep took advantage of Little Sister's departure and gorged himself with milk. He ate until he slumped down on the straw in a happy state of intoxication. Mother, in the meantime, had made up her mind that life with one baby was much easier and less complicated than with two.

Mother Scorns Her.

When the flockmaster found our heroine wandering about where she shouldn't have been he promptly picked her up and took her home. To say the least, her welcome was horrible. Her mother butted her around the pen and refused to let her eat. Time and again the flockmaster tried to effect a reconciliation, but the mother would have nothing to do with her erring child.

Finally the flockmaster, in despair, offered the little lamb to another mother who already had one of her own. After a careful sniffing over, the second mother bleated her approval and took Little Sister to her heart. Now our heroine nurses side by side with an adopted brother quite happily, while next door Black Sheep sleeps in full stomached comfort. He has ousted his competition and now reigns supreme.

The farm workers have resigned themselves to the fact that all's well that ends well.

SPOKANE GIVES ICKES A REBUFF IN POWER VOTE

Public Ownership Is Defeated, 3 to 2.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Word from Spokane, Wash., that a proposed 6½ million dollar municipal power venture had been overthrown by the electorate was considered in the capital tonight as further evidence of a growing insurrection against federal power dictation in the northwest.

Secretary Ickes.

The results of the Spokane referendum were interpreted as a particularly strong blow against Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and other burocrats within the administration who covet a dictatorship over electric power plants and power rates, which would enable them, in turn, to control industries and other power consumers.

Defeated by 3 to 2 Ratio.

Final returns on yesterday's elections showed that Spokane citizens by a 3 to 2 vote approved continued private power operation in that city rather than municipal operation. The vote was 26,609 against municipal ownership and 17,279 in favor.

The vote was on an ordinance which would authorize an expenditure of $4,200,000 to purchase the existing system of the Washington Water Power company, or $6,500,000 to build a new system. The voters not only rejected municipal operation but also elected a city council strongly in favor of renewing the franchise of the privately operated utility, according to reports from Spokane.

The Spokane decision is particularly significant because, according to reliable information, the Ickes forces had planted a staff of agitators there to help influence the election toward municipal ownership. The idea was that Spokane would take its power from Grand Coulee dam, only 90 miles away, if municipal ownership were voted. This dam and the Bonneville project, two of the largest dams in the world, are now under Ickes' control.

Recalls Eugene Vote.

Spokane's strike against Ickes also recalled the election at Eugene, Ore., last year when Eugene, which has a municipal plant, voted to build its own steam generating plant rather than take power from Bonneville, which wanted to dictate the city's electric rates.

Reliable information received here thru channels from the northwest reveals growing bitterness toward the attempts of the Roosevelt administration to dictate power rates 3,000 miles away. The grab for power by the interior department has become so flagrant that it has developed a split among even the most enthusiastic supporters of public ownership.

There are now two camps within administration ranks—those who favor local control of public power projects and those who favor federal burocratic domination. In the first camp are Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, an "independent" who has supported several radical New Deal policies; David E. Lilienthal, vice chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority; Harry Slattery, administrator of the Rural Electrification administration, and the federal power commission in general.

Ickes on Other Side of Fence.

On the other side of the fence, favoring burocratic control, are Ickes; the Corcoran-Cohen group, and Paul Appleby, undersecretary of agriculture, whose reported ambition is to have Ickes get him a post in the interior department in charge of power programs.

The chief bones of contention are the proposed Arkansas Valley authority and Columbia Valley authority, either of which would make the socialistic and expensive TVA look like a minor experiment.

Mr. Roosevelt has passed along his blessings on both projects. Bills are pending before congress to put them into effect. The bill for development of the Columbia river basin would make Ickes the czar of the Pacific northwest. A bill to set up a Columbia Power administration under Ickes' dictation has been introducted by Representative Knute Hill [D., Wash.].

Vast Authority Provided.

Ickes would have jurisdiction over a 200 million dollar revolving fund, and complete authority, with Grand Coulee and Bonneville as central units, to condemn and seize all private utilities, operate them, or turn them over to cities, counties, or states, and fix electric rates. It is one of the most drastic measures ever sent to congress. Private utilities are between two fires but they prefer the lesser, if they must be burned by public ownership, and this is local control.

Ickes has also tried to assume jurisdiction over the proposed Arkansas Valley authority in the southwest, but has only brought on the opposition of Norris, who prefers the independent agency setup of the TVA, and the organized force of 17 western states. Governors and other representatives of these states recently met at Denver, and castigated AVA as an invasion of states' rights and a threat to the security of thousands of farm homes.

British Sales to U. S. Reach Billion Yearly

[This is the last of a series of articles on the ability of the British empire to produce materials needed by the United States.]

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—International trade, in its essentials, is the shipping of surplus products from one country to some other country that lacks them, but is willing to accept and pay for them. Quite frequently the payment is in the form of products of the second country transported to the first.

Great Britain now is asking for war materials, made in America. She is eagerly seeking credits to buy them, and has presented a discouraging balance sheet. Yet trade experts have asserted the British empire could pay more than a billion dollars a year in needed products to be shipped to the United States from her possessions.

These products are now being imported at the rate of a billion a year, and more. They are not competitive with American products. The suggestion has been made that the British government, or British colonies, buy up these materials from their own nationals and send them here as a swap for armaments.

In this series it has already been shown that rubber, tin, nickel, diamonds and other important American imports come in quantity from the British possessions. Here is the story of manganese, jute, copper, platinum, and asbestos.

MANGANESE ORE.

Current imports of manganese ore are the largest on record, according to trade reports. Supplies on hand or available are estimated at only two years' requirements and the United States imports about 95 per cent of its needs. The mineral is used for making high grade steels. The government, thru the Reconstruction Finance corporation, has contracted for about 800,000 tons of foreign manganese dur ig the next three years. Our total imports of high grade ore [35 per cent or more manganese content] in 1940 amounted to $18,995,000, compared with $8,400,000 in 1939. Of the 1940 imports, the British Gold Coast furnished $4,468,000, compared with $3,019,000 in 1939; the Union of South Africa, $1,803,000, against $46,000; British India, $2,324,000 against $1,100,000, and Russia, $3,948,000, compared with $2,200,000 in 1939. Other 1940 imports included $3,060,000 in ore from Cuba, $1,678,000 from Brazil, and $4,328 from Canada.

JUTE PRODUCTS.

Unmanufactured jute and jute fabrics are obtained almost exclusively from British India, which controls 96 per cent of the world supply, and none are obtainable in the United States. Jute is important in electrical work, clothing manufacture, and production of bags. We imported $6,100,000 in unmanufactured jute in 1940, of which $5,907,000 was sent by British India. In 1939 we imported $3,600,000 of the product, of which $3,500,000 came from British India. Imports of burlap fabrics in 1940 amounted to $45,000,000, of which $41,950,000 came from British India and $3,322,000 from the United Kingdom. The 1939 imports were $27,900,000, of which $24,000,000 came from British India, and $2,300,000 from the United Kingdom.

COPPER.

Altho the domestic copper industry is capable of producing more than 1 million tons a year and can fill present needs, the United States still imports large quantities of unrefined copper. In 1939 such imports totaled $30,100,000, of which $3,100,000 came from Canada, $3,300,000 from the Union of South Africa, and $2,200,000 from other parts of British Africa. All classes of copper imported in 1940 totaled $67,700,000.

PLATINUM.

We import most of our platinum requirements of about 100,000 ounces a year. Our imports in 1940 in the form of ingots, bars, and sheets, totaled $1,176,000, of which the United Kingdom accounted for $1,167,000. The 1939 imports were $2,200,000, of which $1,600,000 came from the United Kingdom.

ASBESTOS.

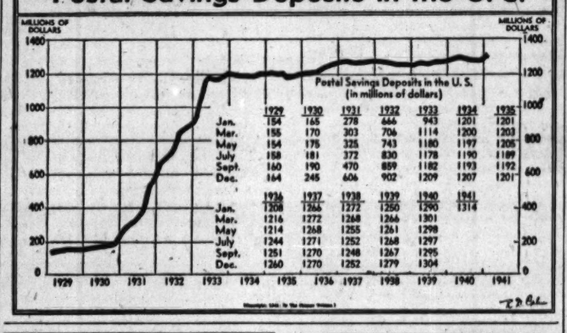

More than 90 per cent of the United States' supply of asbestos is imported, principally from Canada and British Africa. We use 200,000 to 300,000 tons annually for textiles, linings, pipe coverings, and other fire proofing products. Our imports in 1940 totaled $10,035,000, of which Canada contributed $8,083,000, the Union of South Africa $836,000, and other British Africa territories $1,006,000. In 1939 imports amounted to $9,100,000, including $7,600,000 from Canada, $700,000 from the Union of South Africa, and $600,000 from other British Africa territories.

Other British empire commodities upon which we are dependent, but to a lesser extent, include flax, creosote, and cod liver oil from the United Kingdom; spices from British East Africa; furs, fish, radium salts, cobalt, and calcium cyanamide from Canada; goat and kid skins, shellac, mica, and titanium ore from British India; wattle bark [used in tanning] from the Union of South Africa and British East Africa; gums from British Malaya and New Zealand, and sheep, lamb kid, and calf skins from New Zealand, Australia, United Kingdom, and the Union of South Africa.

Russia, British Empire Swell U. S. Gold Imports

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—British empire and Russian shipments swelled gold imports last week to $65,489,467, the highest weekly figure in recent months, the department of commerce said today. The Russian shipments totaled $5,600,910, and followed a total of similar size in the preceding week. British shipments included $50,571,907 from Canada and $6,704,911 from Australia. The only other large shipment was $1,185,484 from the Philippine Islands.

Bids on Arms Materials Held Wasted Effort

Cleveland, O., March 12 (AP).—Competitive bidding on armament materials was declared a "waste of energy" today as manufacturers studying ways of speeding production were told "we are at war, all except the shooting."

S.B.Terry, industrial engineer of Hartford, Conn., claimed competitive bidding delays production by usurping time and efforts of engineers in several plants while only one company receives the contract.

He participated in a discussion on ammunition manufacture at a conference sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Army Ordnance association.

Called Waste of Energy.

"It's a waste of energy in the armament program to tie up engineers in estimating costs and designing new machines to compete with other manufacturers," Terry asserted. He made it clear this opinion applied only to bidding for military contracts.

The statement that "we are at war, all except the shooting," came from R. T. Kent, advisory engineer in the ordnance department at Washington, as he supported an engineer's assertion that "now is no time to wait around for new equipment" for armament production.

"I know of cases in which one-half of a contract could have been completed on old machines while the company was sitting around waiting for the delivery of new machines," he declared.

Discuss Automatic Machines.

Opinion was divided on the advantages of new automatic machines for making ammunition over machines requiring more labor. The conference heard that American tank production was "going at a reasonable rate."

"American tanks are superior because they are the product of American brains and industry," said Lieut. Col. John K. Christmas of the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds. He said the cost of supplying tanks and armed scout cars to one of the new armored divisions was $15,000,000, or about the cost of a light cruiser.

"One tank with a four man crew will do as much damage as was done previously with eight to ten times as many men," Col. Christmas added.

ELECTRIC CRANE BUILDERS TO GET FASTER DELIVERY

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Office of Production Management today issued an order enabling nine builders of electric traveling cranes to obtain expedited delivery of certain essential parts and materials.

E. R. Stettinius Jr., director of priorities, said that such orders would be granted only in special cases when completion of contracts on delivery dates was not possible by other means.

Merger Joins New York's Largest Odd Lot Houses

New York, March 12 (AP).—A merger of the New York Stock exchange firms of Carlisle, Mellick & Co., and Jacquelin and De Coppet was announced today in one of the largest consolidations in recent months. The houses, rated the largest odd lot firms on the exchange, will be combined as Carlisle and Jacquelin. There will be 11 partners with stock exchange memberships, said to be the largest number of any commission house.

INSURANCE COMPANY OUTBIDS FIVE BANKER GROUPS; GETS BONDS

New York, March 12 [Special].—One of the rare instances of an insurance company bidding directly against investment bankers in an open, competitive sale of corporate securities occurred today when the Union Central Insurance company of Cincinnati won the award of $3,000,000 of Cincinnati Union Terminal company mortgage bonds.

Five investment banking groups entered the bidding, but the Union Central won the award by naming a premium of $149 and a coupon rate of 2.60 per cent. The yield on the 30 year bonds is about 2.59 per cent on the basis of that bid.

The proceeds of the $3,000,000 bond issue will be used by Cincinnati Union Terminal to redeem its 30,000 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock on July 1, at 105. The insurance company bought the bonds for its own investment portfolio.

EXCHANGE NAMES COMMITTEE TO PICK NEW CHIEF

New York, March 12 [Special].—The New York Stock exchange announced today it expects to take no action on the plan to reduce the membership of the board of governors and the standing committees, as proposed last week by William McChesney Martin Jr., president, until after the exchange election in May.

The board of governors authorized the appointment of a special committee by Martin and gave it two duties. The first was to find a successor to Martin, who is going into the army, and submit his name to the new board. The second was to draw up "amendments to the constitution for improving the government of the exchange." It will report them to the new board.

No specific mention was made of Martins' reorganization suggestions. The committee is authorized to deal with these or with any others which are placed before it.

OFFER MONSANTO CHEMICAL STOCK AT 103½ TODAY

An underwriting group, headed by Smith, Barney & Co., today will offer a new issue of 75,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock of the Monsanto Chemical company, St. Louis, at 103½ and accrued dividends.

The marketing of this series C issue, no par value but paying $4 dividend, will be new money financing for the company, the first for a major chemical company in several months. It is also the largest stock offering in recent weeks.

The company spent more than 21 million dollars in the last four years for capital additions and for replacements and improvements to plants and processes.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Export Control administration announced today that unlimited licenses have been issued permitting the exportation of aviation gasoline and aviation lubricating oil to Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland, Union of South Africa, the Bahamas, and Bermuda. The licenses were issued to the British Purchasing commission.

February Rubber Imports Dip Below January Total

Washington, D. C., March 12 [Special].—Imports of crude rubber during February amounted to 73,973 long tons, compared with 86,833 tons in January and 43,088 tons in February, 1940, the department of commerce reported today.

CITIES SERVICE TAKES BACK ITS UTILITY UNITS

Terminates Trusts with Loop Banks.

Cities service company has terminated trust agreements with two loop banks under which it transferred to them control of its vast public utility system almost two years ago, it was learned yesterday.

The banks are the Harris Trust and Savings bank and the City National Bank and Trust company of Chicago. The trusts were rendered ineffective when Cities Service was ordered by the Securities and Exchange commission to register as a public utility holding company.

Sought to Avoid SEC Rule.

By transferring control of its utility properties Cities Service sought to avoid classification as a holding company. The company had contended that it was primarily in the oil business and only incidentally interested in public utilities. The SEC ruled recently that it would not grant the company exemption under the act.

The trusts under which Cities Services placed its utility properties in the hands of the two Chicago banks were created July 11, 1939. The Harris bank was trustee for all the common and most of the preferred stocks of Cities Service Power and Light company. City National was entrusted with the common stocks of three natural gas distributing subsidiaries, the Gas Service company, Kansas City Gas company, and the Wyandotte County Gas company.

Comprises 90 Companies.

Under a new rule issued by the SEC on Jan. 25 subsidiaries of registered holding companies engaged in the petroleum, natural gas, and real estate fields would be exempt from certain major provisions of the act. The rule gives Cities Service almost free rein over its nonutility companies.

The Cities Service system comprises about 90 companies, with assets totaling more than one billion dollars, operating in 40 states and in Canada and South America. The utility division includes 54 gas and electric companies with 400 million dollars of assets and operations in more than 20 states and Canada.

Under the trust agreements with the banks, Cities Service had the right to cancel the arrangements if it registered as a holding company. The trusts were terminated Feb. 17.

May Split in Two Sections.

The SEC has indicated that the vast system eventually would have to be split into its utility and nonutility constituents. The "death sentence" section of the holding company act provides for integration of public utility systems and permits nonutility interests only when they are "reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate."

Arthur T. Leonard, vice president and trust officer of the City National bank, said that the two directors named by the bank to the boards of the three gas distributing subsidiaries have resigned. The four directors of Cities Service Power and Light named by the Harris bank have not resigned, and it was indicated their future status may be indicated at the company's annual meeting April 15.

Lindell Predicts Civic Gains Thru New Zoning Ordinance

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Chicago's new zoning ordinance, which he termed an instrument which should help start the city moving forward again, may be completed by June 1, Alderman Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the city council subcommittee on rezoning, yesterday told the Chicago Real Estate board. He spoke at a luncheon in the board's headquarters at 32 West Randolph street.

Ald. Lindell.

As soon as the ordinance is completed, public hearings will be started, he said, adding that it is hoped to have it in operation late this year.

"The new zoning ordinance when enacted is going to be one of the instruments for reversing the city's trend toward decay," Lindell said. "I believe that the movement toward the suburbs can and will be changed and that enforcement of an up to date zoning law will help accomplish this."

Home Areas Increased.

Among the high spots in the new measure, Lindell listed the following requirements:

1. Increase the area to be devoted to single family dwellings.
2. Limit the height of the "tall" apartment buildings to eight stories.
3. Limit the height of loop buildings to 16 stories, but make provision for tower structures when approved by the zoning board of appeals.
4. Provide parking facilities for apartment and hotel dwellers.
5. End the nuisance of "hot dog" and other stands about parking areas in residential sections.
6. Reduce the vast amount of property zoned for commercial purposes—an amount which is far out of proportion to the needs of the city.

"In our efforts to rezone the city, we have approached the problem from a practical basis," Lindell declared. "We are attempting to zone the city on a basis of the natural uses.

Use to Govern Zoning.

"The predominate use for which land in a given area is required should govern the zoning. Following such a course should enable the city to anticipate a future trend instead of making a guess as to what will happen."

Lindell said that a new classification, known as local business districts, is being established to provide for neighborhood needs. "Reasonable" commercial and manufacturing districts are being retained and nothing is being done to set up barriers to the expansion of industry, he said.

In line with the increased interest in row houses, provisions are being included which will facilitate the development of such enterprises when they occupy a whole block. Lindell said it had been considered improper to sandwich row houses in with single family dwellings and apartment buildings.

It is proposed to curtail building heights outside the downtown area to three limits, 25, 45 or 99 feet, according to the purpose and area.

CANADA REVEALS WHEAT ACREAGE REDUCTION PLAN

Ottawa, Ont., March 12 [Special].—A program designed to reduce wheat acreage and encourage mixed farming in western Canada on a scale never before attempted was announced to the house of commons today by the trade minister and the agricultural minister.

Highlights of the proposals are:

1. Limitation of wheat purchases next year to 230,000,000 bushels to be bought by the wheat board on a quota basis at 70 cents a bushel.
2. Bonuses for land taken out of wheat production at $4 an acre for summer fallow and $2 an acre for land sown to oats, barley, rye, grass or clover. The government hopes to reduce wheat acreage to 65 per cent of the total sown in 1940.

Regulations do not affect wheat grown in eastern Canada.

British-American Oil Co. Plans Canadian Refinery

Washington, D. C., March 12 [Special].—The British-American Oil company plans a $3,000,000 refinery near Toronto, Ont., with an annual production capacity of 10,000,000 gallons of lubricating oil, 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline, and other products, the department of commerce reported today. Crude oil for the plant will be shipped from the United States. Production is expected to begin before the end of this year.

Farm Credit Agency Has 3 Billion in Loans Dec. 31

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Farm Credit administration's annual report to congress today said that institutions under its supervision had loaned more than $6,870,000,000 since the administration was organized in May, 1933, and had $3,069,000,000 of loans outstanding Dec. 31.

20 MILLIONS IN CARS AND ENGINES BOUGHT BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Expenditures totaling $20,000,000 for new locomotives and freight cars were announced yesterday by A. D. McDonald, president of the Southern Pacific company. He said the purchases are in addition to 40 Diesel-electric switch engines ordered since the first of the year at a total cost of $2,900,000.

Included in the purchases were orders for 40 cab-ahead steam locomotives and for 10 steam streamlined locomotives of the type used on the Southern Pacific's streamliner, the Daylight. The total cost is about $11,000,000. The cab-ahead locomotives, used in both freight and passenger service, will be constructed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works and the streamlined engines by the Lima Locomotive Works, Inc.

About 2,500 freight cars of various types and sizes costing about $9,000,000 will be bought.

Hays Asks U.S. to Help Get Movie Funds from Britain

Washington, D. C., March 12 [Special].—Will Hays, czar of the motion picture industry, has discussed with the state department the question of freeing some $12,000,000 of impounded motion picture revenue, which it is claimed Great Britain is withholding altho she had previously promised to release it. No decision has yet been reached.

PRODUCE MARTS SWEPT BY VAST BUYING WAVES

New U. S. 'Surplus' Removal Planned.

Markets for cottonseed oil, lard, butter, eggs, and cheese were swept by a wave of buying yesterday by private and foreign interests accompanied by an announcement of a new government buying program of surplus commodities for this spring. Traders said a major part of the activity grew out of the passage of the war dictatorship bill.

Cottonseed oil markets were wiped clean of supplies as buyers bought in trainload lots. Traders estimated that over six and a half trainloads of cottonseed oil changed hands.

Chicago Board of Trade dealers in cottonseed oil estimated that Procter & Gamble company, soap manufacturer, alone purchased from 250 to 400 railroad tank cars of cottonseed oil. The price was $3,600 per car of 60,000 pounds at Mississippi valley points.

Japan Bids for Lard.

Packing house interests also were said to be active buyers of the oil. Traders speculated over the probable use of such a vast quantity of cottonseed oil—an oil that ranks next to butter and lard as an edible fat. Many believed that it would be used to make glycerine for the manufacture of munitions.

In the lard market, Japan was reported to have purchased fair sized quantities in New York at 7¼ cents a pound and to have bid 7⅝ cents a pound for another million pounds.

Meanwhile, the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, believed by traders to be out of the picture and supplanted by the Surplus Marketing association, resumed its market activities.

Federal Buying Announced.

FSCC officials announced they were in the market for substantial quantities of lard, butter, eggs, cheese, and dried and evaporated milk. Offers will be accepted up to 3 p. m. Friday, for first deliveries, and each Monday and Thursday thereafter.

Since the SMA has been active in pegging prices of butter and eggs on the Chicago market for quite a while, using its purchases for school lunches and relief distribution, traders expressed surprise that the FSCC should come into the markets. Many were of the opinion that the FSCC was buying supplies to ship to England.

As a result of the FSCC's reentering the market, egg and butter futures ascended to new highs for the year. The October egg contract sold at the highest March level since 1938 while the November butter contract reached the best March price since 1937.

Other Commodities Soar.

Other commodity futures surged forward on an outburst of buying that carried six major staples—wool tops, rubber, domestic sugar, Santos coffee, cocoa and cottonseed oil—to their highest 1941 levels. Fears of shipping shortages and increased freight rates were said to be contributing influences. Countering the trend were copper, sagging more than ¼ cent a pound, and hides and tin.

GENERAL MARKET ADVANCE FAILS; SHIP STOCKS UP

Profit Taking Late in Day Causes Downturn.

New York, March 12 (AP).—Shipbuilding shares advanced today under the impetus of the lease-lend law for aid to Great Britain, but a parallel upward movement thru the rest of the stock market collapsed under the pressure of late profit taking. When the day ended, many of such previous leaders as steels were major fractions or more below yesterday's close.

The Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks was unchanged at 41.7. Transactions totaled 461,000 shares, compared with 507,640 yesterday.

Rush to Cash Profits.

The sudden drop from the day's best prices, which had been recorded half an hour before the final bell rang, came in the last 10 minutes as many traders rushed to cash in fractional profits made during the day.

Brokers said there were no news developments causing the late selloff and described it merely as "simultaneous" profit taking. The swift fall in quotations, they said, was caused by the "thinness" of the market, and pointed to the small sales total as proof.

The liquidation of British owned American Corporation stocks continued today with the offering after the close of the market of 22,453 shares of Allegheny-Ludlum Steel corporation common, with a market value of about $250,000. White, Weld & Co. headed the offering group.

CHICAGO PRICES SLIP.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday hit a downward slant after a mild rally had recovered some of Tuesday's losses. Of the 85 active issues, 35 declined, 22 advanced, and 28 were unchanged. New highs for 1940-'41 were set by E. L. Bruce at 13⅝ and Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating at 2⅛, up ⅛. Bruce closed at 13½, up ⅛.

Only two issues traded from 2 to 3 o'clock recorded changes from the New York close. Borg-Warner was off ⅛ point at 18⅜, and Standard Oil of Indiana was up ⅛ at 26⅛.

WHEAT FUTURES DECLINE 1 CENT FROM NEW HIGH

Wheat prices fluctuated nervously yesterday, holding within a range of 1¼ to 1½ cents on the Chicago Board of Trade. Futures closed 1 cent a bushel lower. May sold at 87¼ cents early on buying attributed to mills, a new high on the current movement, but weakened later on profit taking.

Northwestern farmers were reported selling free cash wheat, and Ohio farmers were said to be redeeming some grain from the government loan and disposing of it in the open market. A profit of 2 to 2½ cents was said to have resulted.

Cash grain handlers were on both sides of the corn market, but prices held within narrow limits. Closing trades were ⅛ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher. Oats finished unchanged to ⅜ cent higher while losses on rye ranged from ⅛ to ⅞ cent. Soy beans closed ⅝ cent higher.

Wool tops closed unchanged to 0.6 cent a pound forward, with all active deliveries except March on new high ground. The May contract was $1.25 2/10, while the cash price slipped ½ cent to $1.28 bid. Rubber futures were unchanged to 0.12 cent higher. The May position reached 21.90 cents a pound and closed at 21.75 cents bid.

Cocoa at 4 Year High.

Advancing 0.10 to 0.15 cent a pound, cocoa hit a peak 7.10 cents in the May position and generally reached the highest levels since 1937. The active demand for this commodity during the last several days has been fostered by Great Britain's reluctance to divert shipping for transporting the beans from Africa, dealers said.

Copper futures were 0.18 to 0.32 cent lower at 11.65 cents a pound in the May delivery despite a report by the Copper institute that refined copper stocks in the hands of domestic producers declined to 97,689 tons during February, lowest since the institute began compiling figures in mid 1933. Traders said the weakness of the market was due in part to selling influenced by government warnings against speculative price boosts. Prices follow:

FIRMS DISCLOSE VAST EXPANSION FOR ARMS WORK

Annual Reports List Big Gains in Net Income.

Forecasts of the far reaching impact of the armament program as a stimulus for future industrial activity, together with a résumé of how this type of production already has stepped up the tempo of general business, were made yesterday in annual reports issued by a number of large companies.

Reporting a substantial gain in net income, Lester N. Selig, president of the General American Transporation corporation, Chicago, told stockholders of the company's activities in connection with the armament program.

The annual statement of the Reynolds Metals company, which had its largest net income since 1929, outlined the company's plans for stepping up production especially of aluminum alloys.

Arms Backlogs Increase.

Increased operations of the American Locomotive company were evident in the listing of a large backlog of orders, much of which were for direct armament production. Unfilled orders were 10 times the 1939 level.

General American Transportation's 1940 net income rose to $4,242,405, from $3,214,043 in 1939 and was the largest since 1937.

"The company is producing freight cars for our national transportation system, and tank cars for the chemical warfare service, powder plants and other defense industries," Selig said. "All of our facilities are at the disposal of the government."

With a prediction that its fabrication of aluminum will increase to more than 10 million pounds a month, Reynolds Metals, with main offices in Richmond, Va., reported 1940 net income of $2,428,277, equivalent to $2.10 a share, its largest since 1929. The 1939 net income amounted to $1,526,891, or $1.22 a share.

Sales Break Records.

Net sales, which totaled $29,157,971, were the largest in the company's history. The sales volume in 1939 was $20,495,787. R. S. Reynolds, president, said that special equipment will be installed in the Richmond plant to convert part of the output of pure aluminum, used for domestic articles, to the production of strong alloy sheets for aircraft and other armament uses.

One of the company's new sources of supply, Reynolds said, would be a new plant at Lister, Ala., for the production of ingot aluminum from bauxite. This plant and another aluminum reduction plant planned for construction in the Bonneville area of the Pacific Northwest will produce about 100,00,0000 pounds of virgin aluminum a year, he estimated.

Locomotive Income Gains.

The American Locomotive company, with main offices in New York City, realized net income of $2,850,813, equal to 50 cents a share, in 1940, compared with a net loss of $950,376 in 1939.

Unfilled orders at the end of the year totaled $138,300,000, of which $113,900,000 represented orders for war materials. In addition to orders from the United States government, the company has orders totaling $71,000,000 on its books from the British and Canadian governments.

The Eastman Kodak company reported 1940 net income of $20,076,739, equal to $7.96 a share, for only the parent company and wholly owned subsidiaries in the western hemisphere. Net income in 1939, covering all subsidiaries except those in Germany, totaled $21,537,577, or $8.55 a share.

G. M. MILITARY CONTRACTS PUT AT 683 MILLIONS

Stockholders Are Given Details by Sloan.

The General Motors corporation, exclusive of affiliated organizations, now has $683,400,000 in arms orders on hand, Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board, disclosed yesterday in a message to stockholders. Sloan reviewed what the corporation has been doing in the nation's armament program.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr.

"The progress achieved in the last four months has been in three important directions," he said. "Quantity delivery has been accelerated where facilities for production already existed or could be readily adapted. Construction of new plants and of plant extensions is going forward rapidly preparatory to the production of items requiring such new facilities.

"And finally the corporation has assumed important additional tasks in the aviation phase of the armament program, thus extending the effective scope of its technical skill and management experience."

Deliveries Total 60 Millions.

Sloan said that in 1940, largely in the last few months, delivery of special armament materials from American and Canadian plants of the corporation totaled approximately 60 million dollars. This amounted to 3½ per cent of the total sales volume of General Motors in 1940. The net income realized on this business, before federal taxes, was 1.5 per cent of the corporation's total net income for the year, before deducting federal taxes.

Sloan listed items which could be turned out with production capacity that either existed previously or which could be adapted, including the following:

1. Special army trucks for the United States and Britain from Chevrolet plants.

2. Diesel engines from the Cleveland Diesel plant.

Make 350 Engines a Month.

4. Airplane motors from the Allison plant which now has a monthly capacity of about 350 engines with a 1,000 monthly capacity expected late this year.

The most important items in the unfolding aviation program of the corporation include:

1. Pratt and Whitney air cooled engines to be built by the Buick division at a plant to be built in Melrose Park, near Chicago. Production is planned at a rate of 500 a month with full operation under way in approximately a year.

2. Manufacture of parts and subassemblies for approximately 100 twin-engine bombers monthly. Fisher Body will do most of this work. The bombers will be assembled by North American Aviation, Inc.

Volume Breakdown Given.

Machine guns, $61,400,000, work to be carried on by Frigidaire, AC Spark Plug, Saginaw Steering Gear, and Guide Lamp divisions with deliveries expected in the latter half of the year.

Shells, cartridge cases and fuses, $16,600,000, with production at the forge plant of Oldsmobile at Lansing expected in May on forging and machining of 75 and 105 millimeter shells. Preparation is well along toward volume production at the Guide Lamp and Delco Products divisions plants.

Miscellaneous, $37,300,000, including many technical items.

Canadian plants, $65,200,000. Volume production of military trucks and transport equipment as well as shells is continuing.

8 OF 13 STEEL AREAS BOOST RATES TO 100 PER CENT OR HIGHER

Steel production is being pushed upward close to its practical limit, Iron Age said yesterday. Eight of the 13 steel producing districts have attained 100 per cent of rated capacity or higher, according to the trade publication. With one exception, it said, other districts are operating at 95 to 99 per cent of capacity.

Iron Age predicted a new upsurge in armament industries and a consequent boost in demands for steel as a result of passage of the lease-lend bill.

The American Iron and Steel institute estimated that production of steel ingots in February amounted to 6,250,413 net tons, compared with 6,943,084 tons in January and 4,527,141 tons in February, 1940. The institute said the decline from January reflected the shorter number of working days last month.

Television Broadcasting from La Salle St. Planned

Plans for the establishment of frequency modulation and television broadcasting facilities by the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., atop the 50 story One La Salle Street building, 1 North La Salle street, were disclosed yesterday. The broadcasting company has entered into an option agreement with the One La Salle Street company, owner of the building, giving it the right to negotiate a 10 year lease of the roof of the structure. It is planned to build a 100 foot tower on the top of the building which now rises 529 feet above the sidewalk.

Harris Trust Declares Usual Quarterly Dividend

The Harris Trust and Savings bank yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2.50 on the common stock. It will be paid April 1 to stockholders of record March 18.

BRITISH EMPIRE TAKES 69 PCT. OF U. S. EXPORTS

January Share Is Largest Since War Began.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The British empire bought $224,000,000, or 69 per cent, of all United States merchandise exports in January, the department of commerce reported today.

The empire percentage of American trade has been rising steadily since the war began, but the January figure was the highest so far.

The empire total included $116,631,000 to the United Kingdom, $61,886,000 to Canada, $4,142,000 to Australia, $11,836,000 to South Africa, $4,826,000 to Malaya, $8,780,000 to India, and $2,374,000 to Hong Kong.

Latin America Buys Less.

Exports to Latin America, which have been gaining under war influence, dropped back $6,000,000 to $59,210,000 in January. Mexico accounted for the largest single drop.

Partly due to United States restrictions on exports of war materials, shipments to Japan fell 40 per cent to $11,600,000—the smallest total for any month in 4½ years.

Comparison by Nations.

UTILITY BONDS RISE; OTHERS CHANGE LITTLE

New York, March 12 (AP).—Utility issues rallied smartly in today's bond market but other groups ended in a mixture of small gains and losses.

United States government obligations were dull. Small buying by out of town banks lifted prices ⅛ to ¼ point in over the counter dealings. On the stock exchange only three issues traded.

This is under no circumstances to be construed as an offering of this Preferred Stock for sale, or as an offer to buy, or as a solicitation of an offer to buy, any of such Stock. The offer is made only by means of the Prospectus.

ELECTRICITY PUT TO MANY MORE USES LAST YEAR

Westinghouse Tells How It Aids Arms Making.

Nearly 100 developments which extended the use of electric power during 1940 were reported yesterday by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in its annual Engineering Progress publication.

New aids for armament production included Endogas, a protective atmosphere for hardening steel parts. It is a gas mixture which envelops high grade steel parts during heat treatment to prevent scaling and softening of the steel surfaces.

Builds Bullet Locaters.

Electricity was enlisted also as a protective weapon for wartime use. Westinghouse built a number of new portable X-ray units to United States army specifications. They can be set up in the field and used to locate bullets and shell fragments immediately in wounded soldiers.

Electric welding helped speed up shipbuilding during the year. "Riveters with the deafening clatter of their air hammers played a heroic rôle in our shipyards during the war of two decades ago," the report stated. "Today many of their places are being taken by equally picturesque figures—the men with metal hoods and their almost noiseless electric arcs. In modern shipbuilding as many as a hundred welders may be working at once on a fairly small area."

Making Huge Turbines.

The rôle of the electrical manufacturers is to turn out new and improved electric generators to supply the necessary electric current for this big welding job, the publication said.

The company completed or was at work on more than a million kilowatts of turbine generators, all larger than 20,000 kilowatts, during 1940. This production included the largest turbine generator ever built to operate at the high sped of 3,600 revolutions a minute. This machine, made for the Waterside station of the Consolidated Edison company, New York, will produce 65,000 kilowatts of power.

FARMER'S INCOME.

I operate a small farm. I sell vegetables, chickens, eggs, and milk. I have never had to file an income tax return before, but I do this year. I have kept no record of my income and outgo. Can you give me some suggestions in filing the return?—M. J.

Answer: Farmers who have kept no records or have records only of their cash receipts and expenditures must use a special return [form 1040-F]. Others may use the regular return for persons in business.

From your gross receipts you are permitted to deduct all necessary and ordinary expenses involved in producing, harvesting, and marketing your crops. These expenses include the cost of small tools such as shovels and rakes, feeding and raising live stock, labor, seed, fertilizer, minor repairs to farm buildings, taxes, interest, and upkeep of farm machinery.

If the income from a crop is realized more than a year after it was planted, expenses incurred in producing the crop must be deducted in the year when the crop is marketed.

Farm machinery, equipment, buildings, animals, and development costs are considered capital investments and cannot be deducted as expenses. However, depreciation on these capital items is deductible. Expenses connected with your farm home and your automobile, to the extent it is not used for business, are not deductible.

If the farm is operated not on a commercial basis but as a hobby, a show place, or for diversion, any net profit from the operation is taxable, and the entire receipts and expenditures must be reported.

Any loss from a hobby farm, however, is treated as a personal expense, which is not deductible, and the farm's income and expenses do not have to be reported. Any taxes or interest paid in connection with the farm can be deducted, whether or not it was operated for profit.

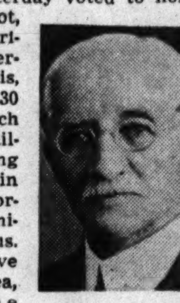

TAXABLE GOVERNMENTS.

Has the United States treasury ever issued a taxable bond?—R. W.

Answer: The treasury has issued its first fully taxable bond as part of its March 15 refunding program. The removal of the tax exemption feature on government bonds and other obligations was made possible by a law enacted several weeks ago. The first fully taxable treasury obligation was the national defense series notes sold last December. The treasury was authorized to issue taxable notes under earlier legislation.

People and Events

The American Railway Engineering association yesterday voted to honor Dr. A. N. Talbot, professor emeritus of the University of Illinois, for his nearly 30 years of research work for the railroads by placing a bronze tablet in the Talbot laboratory on the university campus. Representative Clarence F. Lea, chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce, spoke at the association's annual convention in the Palmer house.

John P. Dunphy has been named general manager of the Sager Lock works and Barrows Lock works, both at North Chicago and divisions of the Yale & Towne Manufacturing company.

George E. Price Jr., purchasing agent for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, will discuss the problems of industrial buying under the rearmament program this evening at the meeting of the Purchasing Agents Association of Chicago in the Hotel Sherman.

PACKERS BUILD UP SUPPLIES OF STORAGE MEATS

March 1 Holdings 2d Highest Since 1931.

Cold storage stocks of meats on March 1 were second largest for that date since 1931, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. Lard supplies were the largest on record. Meat holdings were about equivalent to what the entire United States consumes every four weeks.

Supply Greatly Increased.

Since the army and navy first began asking for bids on meat contracts several months ago, packers of the United States have built their pork stocks up from slightly over 300 million pounds to 790,385,000 pounds on March 1, an increase of more than 160 per cent in four months. Beef stocks were increased from slightly over 35 million pounds early last fall to 99,097,000 pounds.

Packers on March 1 had 317,451,000 pounds of lard in store. The total included 6,691,000 pounds of lard owned by the Surplus Marketing administration, but did not include 8,391,000 pounds of rendered pork fat that is kept separate from the lard stock.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The first $8 hogs in eight days were sold at the stock yards yesterday when receipts at all packing centers in the country fell sharply. Packers reported some improvement in the demand for pork, and price increases in some cuts.

Most classes of hogs advanced 10 to 15 cents at the start of trading, but lost a small part of the upturn, finishing about 10 cents higher for the day.

PACKERS RECEIVE MOST LIVE STOCK IN LAST 6 YEARS

1940 Valuation Increases to Peak Since 1936.

Packers in the Chicago stock yards received 9,692,908 head of livestock last year valued at $269,999,564, the 75th annual report of the Union Stock Yard and Transit company disclosed yesterday. Receipts were the largest since 1934 and valuation the highest since 1936.

The report records the movement of livestock by rail and truck for each year since 1865.

Railroads Hold Margin.

The railroads brought 5,561,501 head of the livestock into Chicago last year and trucks hauled in 4,131,407 head. The 1939 figures were 5,592,827 and 3,308,436, respectively. The railroads brought in 80,766 cars, against 81,193 in 1939, while 170,073 truckloads arrived on the market, compared with 147,816 a year earlier.

More hogs come to Chicago than any other meat animal. Last year 3,385,492 head arrived having a total value of $75,278,700. The record year for hog receipts in Chicago was in 1923 when 10,460,134 were shipped.

The report showed that 1,925,792 head of cattle valued at $171,241,885 and 271,117 calves valued at $4,744,430 were received at the yards in 1940. Receipts fell far short of the record year 1918.

Sheep receipts totoaled 2,102,521, valued at $17,848,214. The record sheep year was 1912 when 6,055,546 head arrived.

BANK STOCKS

Harris Trust shares advanced 6 points and La Salle National 2 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. First National was a point higher and Continental Illinois eased a half point.

6. East backs up so West can pass the switch entirely with the first half of West's train, which is then backed upon the siding. East then steams forward, pushing the rear half of West's train ahead of the engine. Then West's engine and first half of train pulls back onto the main line, leaving siding open. Both trains then move east, with the East engine towing the rear half of West's train till it passes the switch. Then East pushes this rear half of West's train upon the siding. East then steams onward along the main track. West now backs up to the rear half of his train on the siding, couples it on, and heads westward.
